COMMISSION BEGINS WORK IMMEDIATELY

President Roosevelt Calls Strike Arbitration Board to Meet Friday.

MINERS WILL BE THE PLAINTIFFS

First Sessions Likely to Be Held in Wilkesbarre to Hear Their Grievances.

WRIGHT AT WHITE HOUSE

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 21.—Shortly before 3 o'clock this afternoon President Roosevelt received a telegram from Wilkesbarre informing him that the convention of miners had declared off the anthracite coal strike. Immediately upon receipt of the information the following telegram was sent to Mr. Mitchell:

White House,
Washington, D. C.,
October 21, 1902.

Mr. John Mitchell, Chairman of Convention, Wilkesbarre, Pa.:

Upon receipt of your telegram of this date, the president summoned the commission to meet here on Friday next, the 24th inst., at 10 a. m.

GEO. B. CORTELYOU,
Secretary.

News of the termination of the strike was received by the president with great satisfaction. Before the formal telegram from Mitchell had reached him he had been informed of the convention's favorable action.

Soon afterward Carroll D. Wright, commissioner of labor, recorder of the arbitration commission, gave to the president the information contained in telegrams he received from Wilkesbarre.

Already telegrams have been sent to the members of the commission, notifying them of the first meeting to be held in this city on Friday morning, and summoning them to be present. The meeting probably will be held in the office of Commissioner Wright, in the department of labor. After the commission has effected its organization the members will call in a body on the president to pay their respects. At that time it is expected he will embrace the opportunity to give the commission such verbal instructions as he may care to present. Besides, he may prepare a formal letter of instructions. That is the method pursued at the time of the appointment of the Pullman strike commission, of which Col. Wright was the president.

It is understood that few meetings of the commission will be held in Washington. After the work of the commission has been mapped out the first step will be to take the testimony of the miners who may be regarded as plaintiffs in the case.

It is probable that the first sessions of the commission at which testimony will be taken will be held in Wilkesbarre, as that city will be most convenient for the miners' representatives. Other meetings will be held in Philadelphia or New York, or in both cities. It is regarded as likely that at all sessions when testimony is taken representatives of the press will be admitted.

OPERATORS RECEIVE NEWS WITH PLEASURE

They Say They Will Have Coal in New York in a Jump by the End of the Week.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square.
NEW YORK, Oct. 21.

The news that the miners' union had decided to return to work Thursday was received with delight by everybody here. President Baer said: "I am very glad to hear that. I had heard of the resolution, but had not heard that it had been adopted."

President Truesdale said: "I am delighted to hear the news. We will get coal here in a jump, probably by the end of the week."

"There is no reason," said President Olyphant of the Delaware & Hudson, "why we should not be pleased. We shall have coal here by the end of the week.

Asked whether the operators would discriminate between the men who had remained loyal to the operators and those who went on strike, President Baer answered:

"We expressed our attitude very clearly in the proposition submitted to President Roosevelt. I would refer you to that in order to learn just what our attitude will be."

Mr. Thomas, chairman of the Erie railroad board of directors, here interrupted with the remark:

"Yes, that is just what we will stand by."

PARK AVENUE TUNNEL LIFE VALUED AT $38,500

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Oct. 21.—(Special.)—The third largest verdict ever given in Westchester county for the loss of a life, was awarded by a jury in the supreme court today against the New York Central Railroad Company, when it gave Mrs. Minerva Stutz of New Rochelle a judgment for $38,500 for the death of her husband, William Stutz, who died from injuries received in the Park avenue tunnel crash in January last.

BIG FACTORY FIRE COSTS MORE THAN SCORE OF LIVES

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—By a fire which broke out shortly before midnight in the plant of the Chicago sugar refinery, situated at Taylor street and the Chicago river, that factory was almost entirely destroyed, and it is said that 29 men lost their lives.

The number of dead has not been established, but it is known that they were in the building, and all were working on the seventh floor. The police believe that not more than 10 or 12 are dead. The flames spread so rapidly that a man who was working on the third floor had barely time to escape with his life, and it is not thought by the employes of the concern or by the firemen that the men in the upper story could have avoided death.

At midnight two bodies had been taken from the ruins, but the fire was burning so fiercely that it was impossible to make further search.

The plant of the refining company consists of three buildings, the drying house, seven stories; main refinery, fourteen stories, and another structure of four stories.

Caused by Explosion.

The fire started in the drying house, being caused by an explosion. The flames spread with almost incredible rapidity, and by the time the first of the fire department had arrived the building was ablaze from foundation to roof.

It was impossible for the firemen to make and effective fight against the flames, and in a short time all the walls were down, and the building, within one-half hour from the time of the explosion, was a mass of debris.

The fire was so hot that at one time it was feared that the Taylor street viaduct, across which access is had to the south side of the city, would be destroyed, but the firemen managed to save this after a hard struggle. They kept every effort toward saving the four-story building of the refinery, but so intense was the fire in the drying house that this caught fire in several places and at 12:10 a. m. it was evident that if it could be saved at all, it would be badly damaged.

No Chance to Escape.

The men employed in the three lower floors of the drying house all succeeded in reaching the open air. On the third floor there was one man at work. He was cut off from the fire escape by the dense clouds of smoke that poured through the building, and was compelled to make a run for his life down the stairs. He burst through a mass of flame when he reached the lower doorway, and was badly scorched. Two minutes later would have made it utterly impossible for him to make his escape.

The men on the seventh floor had no chance whatever for their lives. Several of them left the windows and crawled along the sills in an effort to reach a place of safety, but with the exception of two men all those who attempted to reach safety in this way made up their minds that it was certain death and went back into the burning building.

Two men, however, determined to take the chances of a leap, and climbing up on the window ledge they sprang out into the air.

Both Crushed to Death.

One of them came straight down for the greater part of the way, but just as he was within a short distance of the pavement his body swung around and he struck the stone walk at full length. The other man turned over and over as he came whirling down.

Their bodies were horribly crushed and mangled, and it was impossible for any of the men who saw them directly after their jump to identify them in any way.

Four other men jumped from the windows of the fourth floor. These men were terribly injured and were taken in police ambulances to the county hospital.

One of the survivors, who reached the ground in safety after a perilous journey down the fire escape from the fourth story, said:

"I do not believe any of the men on the top story could have escaped. The flames drove me from my post and but for the fact that I was near the fire escape I would never have reached the ground."

Frank Rothenberg, a foreman working on the fifth floor, met his death in making a jump for a net held by the firemen. He missed the net by a yard. His skull was crushed and he died instantly.

An officer of the company said: "The loss may be anywhere between $500,000 and $1,000,000, and that is all we can say at this time." The fire department places the loss at the lower figure.

ATTEMPTED TO KILL FRANCE'S PRESIDENT

Anarchist Is Arrested on Grounds of Loubet's Palace.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

Paris, Oct. 22.—The Figaro this morning says a man was detected early Tuesday morning attempting to climb a wall of the Elysee palace. It is believed that he intended to hide in the palace garden in the hope of obtaining an opportunity to assassinate President Loubet.

The man was arrested and was found to be armed with a loaded revolver. He has been recognized as a dangerous anarchist who has already been convicted three times and upon two of these occasions for manufacturing explosive machines.

The police are trying to keep the matter quiet and refuse to divulge the man's name.

BEECHER'S WITNESS VICTIM OF PARALYSIS

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—(Special.)—A special from Asbury Park to the Sun says: Bessie Turner, the girl witness in the Beecher-Tilton trial, whose married name is Mrs. E. M. Schoonmaker, was found unconscious on the boardwalk this morning by a beach guard. She was carried to her home. Her physician found that she had suffered from a stroke of paralysis. In Asbury Park Mrs. Schoonmaker's identity as Bessie Turner was known to only a few friends.

Pittsburgh Company Robbed.

JOHNSTOWN, PA., Oct. 21.—Burglars this morning blew open the safe of the Babcock Lumber Company of Pittsburgh, at Ashtola, Somerset county, wrecking it. They secured several hundred dollars.

FRICK HOTEL ON THE SITE OF CATHEDRAL

Plans Are Now Being Drawn for an 18-Story Structure.

THE COST WILL BE ABOUT $3,000,000

It Is to Be of White Marble and a Companion for the Frick Office Building.

TO RANK AMONG THE BEST

Plans far greater than heretofore supposed are in preparation for the magnificent hotel which Henry Clay Frick is to build on the square bounded by Fifth avenue, Grant street and Cherry and Virgin alleys.

The whole block is to be taken up by the hotel and its surrounding grounds. The building is to be 18 stories high and will cost about $3,000,000. In its center will be a great court, as in the Palace hotel in San Francisco, into which carriages drive beneath high broad arches. The building will be a fit mate for the 20-story Frick office building.

According to the plans now being made by the Chicago architectural firm, D. H. Burnham & Co., who have prepared the plans of many of the recent large buildings in Pittsburgh, the ground space occupied by the hotel will be 200 feet in Fifth avenue and 220 in Grant street. The block measures 240x240 feet. Of this space 240 feet in Fifth avenue and 199 feet in Grant street is occupied by the cathedral, and 240 feet in Virgin alley and 80 feet in Grant street is occupied by the episcopal residence.

This Fifth avenue frontage will be as long as the combined frontage of the Frick and Carnegie buildings, with that of the alley that runs between the two. Around the building there will be room to make the sidewalks broad, in keeping with the massive structure itself. There will be 40 feet allowed for this in Fifth avenue and Virgin alley, while 20 feet will be devoted to the same purpose in Grant street.

The entrances to the hotel will be from both the Fifth avenue and the Grant street sides and perhaps from the Virgin alley side, for the plans have already been started to widen Virgin alley in part and make it a 60-foot thoroughfare as far east as Smithfield street, and that the future will see the street broadened through to Grant street there is little doubt.

With this plan also comes the old scheme of cutting down the hump. The Frick, Carnegie, Kaufmann, court house and Hotel Henry buildings have all been constructed with this possibility in mind and so will be the new hotel building.

In outside appearance the new hotel will be a mate to the Frick building if present plans are carried out. Both will be of white granite. In interior finish, walls, ceilings, decorative work and furniture, the new building is to rank second to none in the country and perhaps none in the world.

STRANGE SHOOTING.

Man Who Says He Is a Louisville Hospital Superintendent Gives Himself Up to Police.

A man carrying a whip and who gave his name as S. S. Duncan, superintendent of the City hospital of Louisville, Ky., gave himself up to the police at 11 o'clock last night, saying that he had, early in the evening, shot Bruce Hede, a laborer, near Crafton.

He was taken to Central station, where a revolver, with one empty chamber, was found. Duncan would not tell why he shot the man; he merely said that Hede once lived in Louisville.

The police telephoned to Crafton for particulars and learned that Hede had been shot at the Wabash tunnel, three miles from Crafton, and was dangerously wounded.

ODDS ON ODELL STILL GO BEGGING

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—(Special.)—The Sun this morning says: No part of the $10,000 which Lieut. Gov. Woodruff deposited on Saturday for investment at odds of 2 to 1 on Odell has yet been covered. The Democratic managers were scurrying around yesterday for some Color money, but none was forthcoming.

Mrs. Ada Dennis Dying.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 21.—Mrs. Ada Gilbert Dennis, the fashionable dressmaker who was so mysteriously attacked during the night of December 9, is reported to be dying tonight. She has never been able to give the police any information which would lead to the identity and capture of her assailant.

BAER HAS APPROPRIATED KING GEORGE'S LANGUAGE

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 21.—Is President Baer of the Reading railroad a plagiarist? John W. Slayton, candidate for governor on the Socialist ticket, calls attention to the deadly parallel.

King George III. of England was a German. Mr. Baer is of German descent. Here are the passages upon which Mr. Slayton bases the remarkable similarity:

King George III.—The rights and interests of American colonists will be looked after and cared for, not by the agitators and rebels, but by the kind Christian gentlemen whom I, as the direct representative of God, have appointed to look after my lands in the western world.

President Baer—The rights and interests of the laboring men will be looked after and cared for, not by the agitators, but by Christian men to whom God, in His infinite wisdom, has given the control of the property interests of the country.

QUAY STICKS TO FORECAST OF OVER 200,000 MAJORITY

End of the Strike Which He Did So Much to Achieve Confirms His Estimate. Secretary Andrews Collapses.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Ledger Building.
PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 21.

Chairman Quay is fully confident that when the votes are counted two weeks from tonight, Judge Pennypacker will have a majority materially above 200,000. Since his original prediction of a quarter of a million margin, made at the Republican state convention, the senator has stuck to these figures. Unlooked for complications have intervened, but he never wavered in his confidence—a confidence based upon the belief that Pennsylvania would not turn its back to prosperity.

The settlement today of the anthracite coal strike disposes of all menacing factors, and the Republican leaders are jubilant. Chairman Quay and Senator Penrose exerted every influence to bring about arbitration, and that their efforts are appreciated is shown by the following letter from the Lithuanian Polish society, which represents 25,000 men:

Wilkesbarre, Pa., October 21.
Hon. M. S. Quay, Chairman Republican State Committee.

I take the liberty of thanking you and Senator Boies Penrose, in the name of the Lithuanian and Polish society of Luzerne county, for your noble work in our great contest. I assure you senators that the people I represent will never forget to pledge themselves to help and support your noble party, which you so faithfully served and brought this great strike to an end. We hope it will be appreciated what you senators did by every workingman and the general public throughout our great strike.

I would request you senators to publish a copy of this telegram in the daily press, as it would please every person I represent.

(Signed) W. S. KAHVA, President.

For the first time since the state headquarters opened, August 4, Secretary Andrews was today absent from his desk. He was taken suddenly ill last night, and for a time his condition excited much concern. Secretary Andrews is always on duty at 9 a. m., and, without exception, he has remained until long after midnight, seldom going to his hotel until 2 a. m. The strain was too much and collapse followed. This evening he was reported better.

Chairman Quay will attend the meeting in Pittsburgh Friday night if Secretary Andrews is able to resume his duties.

EIGHTEENTH'S BAND HELPS CELEBRATION

Heads Procession of Cheering Miners at Shenandoah, Glad Long Strike Is Ended.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

SHENANDOAH, PA., Oct. 21.—Col. Rutledge of the Eighteenth ordered the regimental band into town this afternoon when the news from the miners' convention reached him, and they led a large and cheering procession of mine workers and other people up and down the main streets. One of the soldiers made an address and captured the crowd. The out-of-town newspaper representatives headed an immense parade later in the afternoon, blowing horns and setting off firecrackers. They marched their cheering followers to the Reading Railway station, where company D, Captain Wilson, was on provost guard. The captain brought his command to an attention and had them give three cheers for Johnny Mitchell and the press.

A thousand breaker boys paraded tonight, headed by the First Lithuanian band. Many of the boys carried their mine lamps on their caps. Wild enthusiasm prevails. A big parade will be held tomorrow morning.

The regiment gave a dress parade and review in town at 5 o'clock, with the twelve companies in line.

Company E, Captain Reifsnyder, elected Second Lieut. France first lieutenant this evening, and made First Sergeant Dougherty second lieutenant.

John Morley Presents Lord Acton's Library to Cambridge.

LONDON, Oct. 21.—John Morley has presented the library of the late Lord Acton, which was given to him by Andrew Carnegie, to Cambridge university, in a letter to the duke of Devonshire, chancellor of the university, Mr. Morley says:

"For some time I played with the fancy of retaining this library for my own use, but I am not covetous of splendid possessions. Such a collection is more fit for a public and undying institution."

PITTSBURGH COAL TO RELIEVE BOSTON

PHILADELPHIA, PA., Oct. 21.—(Special.)—The biggest cargo of coal ever carried in any sailing vessel in this or any other country was shipped from this port today in the seven-masted schooner Thomas W. Lawson, which left for Boston with 5,300 tons of bituminous coal from Pittsburgh. This is more coal than has been seen in any eastern port in any one time during the past six months.

Boston has been experiencing an acute coal famine.

SAFEGUARD FROM COMBINE POLICY

DEALS OF A FORTNIGHT

Pittsburgh interests have just closed purchases of property in the ore fields of the northwest. These purchases by two leading iron and steel interests of Pittsburgh will entrench them for decades with an ore supply of their own and with ore that may be sold in the market. The purchases indicate continuance of the supremacy of the Pittsburgh district as the greatest factor in the iron and steel trade. This supremacy is certain to be held against any aggressive policy of the United States Steel Corporation.

The purchases are made by the Clairton Steel Company, owned by the Crucible Steel Company of America, and operated to furnish the Crucible company with its necessary supply of raw steel, and the Shenango Furnace Company of Pittsburgh, one of the leading merchant furnace interests of the Shenango valley. Combined purchases of the two companies are about 68,000,000 tons of ore, worth, as it is in the ground, as many dollars.

Practicaly all of this ore has been purchased within a fortnight and adds to large ownership which these interests already held in rich fields of the northwest. The purchases of the Clairton Steel Company include the Little and Prindle mines in the Mesabi range, which hold nearly 16,000,000 tons of ore; another mine in the Mesabi range which will be known as the Clairton and holding 5,000,000 tons, and scattered purchases in the Marquette and Mesabi ranges which aggregate about 10,000,000 tons of ore.

Purchases of Shenango Company.

The purchases of the Shenango Furnace Company, which is owned by William P. Snyder, president of the Clairton Steel Company, and Henry W. Oliver, include the following: The Howe-Kinney property in the Mesabi range, which holds 15,000,000 tons; the Webb mining property near Hibbing in the Mesabi range, holding 14,000,000 tons, and the big property of the Antoine Ore Company in the Marquette range of Michigan, which holds about 14,000,000 tons.

The Shenango company has purchased outright the Antoine Company property on which the Clifford, Vulcan, Cornell and Traders mines are now opened and being developed. Most of the other properties are taken under long-term leases, giving sufficient time to exhaust the stores of rich ore they hold. The purchases by the Shenango company will give that interest more than the supply of ore needed for its furnace operation and the mining property will probably be developed to market a large portion of the product.

The Shenango company has three modern furnaces in operation at Sharpsville. In January the Clairton company will blow in the first of its three big modern furnaces at Clairton. These furnaces will be worked up to an ultimate output of 1,800 tons a day and in the first months of their operation their combined output will be about 1,500 tons each 24 hours.

Are Strongly Intrenched.

The Jones & Laughlin Steel Company and the Union Steel Company have likewise purchased more than their requirements of ore in the northwest fields. The Union Steel Company recently added to its ownership there by the purchase of a large mining property and to handle the output to the lower lake ports has bought two of the best modern freight steamers plying on the great lakes and which have been in use only two seasons.

All these interests are pursuing a policy which contemplates absolute independence via raw materials. In so doing they are ready to meet the market conditions fixed by the United States Steel Corporation.

The steel corporation today is holding the high prices on raw material, especially steel, and recently two of the constituent concerns opened the market to two important finished lines by sharp reductions. These were on sheets and wire and nails. Only such concerns as the Union Steel Company and the Sharon Steel Company are so entrenched in raw material supply as to be able successfully to meet these reductions. Others cannot meet them and many of the independent sheet mills and wire and nail mills have been closed as a result. One instance is in the United States Wire and Nail Company, which has closed its extensive modern mills at Shousetown by reason of the price slash on wire and nails.

New York State Earthquake Entirely Strips One Side of a Farmer's Body.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Oct. 21.—Shortly after 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon Baptist Hill, a small Ontario county settlement, was visited by either an earthquake or some unknown force which frightened farmers so thoroughly that they have ceased harvesting and spent most of the time since in prayer.

While the sky was perfectly clear a tremendous report was heard; the earth rocked and houses came tumbling down in all parts of the village. Everyone was dazed by the confusion and a cloud of dust obscured the sky for several minutes. The store of William H. Doyle, the principal business place in the village, was torn off its foundation and wrecked. William Harrison, clerk, was thrown headlong into a barrel of lard, and a customer walking out the door had a jug of molasses, which he carried in his hand, shattered. John Keeley, a well-known farmer, had his coat, vest, trousers and underwear severed and completely stripped off one side of his body.

Inhabitants fear that there is another Mont Pelee directly underneath their settlement, and that it is preparing for an open eruption. A number of farmers have hastily moved out of the hamlet and others are prepared to do so at the first sign of danger.

HAVE BIG DEFICIT.

Protestant Episcopal Church Missionary Council at Philadelphia Hears Annual Report.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 21.—In the presence of two score of bishops and hundreds of clerical and lay delegates, the missionary council of the Protestant Episcopal church in America began its sessions today.

Bishop Doane of Albany presented his report as chairman of the board of managers of the domestic and foreign missionary society, showing the receipts for the year ended August 31 to be $1,000,618.

In meeting appropriations, there was a deficit of $139,143. Appropriations for the first quarter of the new fiscal year, beginning over $150,000, must be met with only $2,000 in hand.

Got Away With $100.

MARS, PA., Oct. 21.—Four masked men entered J. S. Jordan & Co.'s general store in this place this morning and blew open the safe. The explosions roused many citizens, but the men gathered up over $100 and notes and checks amounting to several hundred more, and fled.

SHAVE UNNECESSARY FOR CHURCH GOING

LA CROSSE, WIS., Oct. 21.—A Sunday shave is not a necessary preliminary to attending church, according to a decision announced by Judge Fruit in the circuit court today. The defendant, a barber, has shaved a man on Sunday, although there is a state law which declares that none but necessary work shall be done on the Sabbath. Counsel for the defense argued that it was necessary for a man to be shaved in order to be presentable at church.

BIG STRIKE ENDS IN GREAT SHOUT

Miners Unanimously Decide to Abide by Decision of Roosevelt's Tribunal.

SOME AT WORK TODAY

Helping Prepare Mines for Reception of Mass of Workers on Thursday—President Mitchell Fully Controls Convention.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Oct. 21.—With a shout that fairly shook the convention building the representatives of the 147,000 mine workers, who have been on strike since last May, officially declared off at noon today the greatest contest ever waged between capital and labor, and placed all the questions involved in the struggle into the hands of the arbitration commission appointed by the president of the United States.

Just after the motion to close debate was adopted, and before calling for a vote on the adoption of the report which would end the strike, President Mitchell, amid deep silence, spoke as follows:

The chair is going to ask to be permitted to speak without being in order. It is quite apparent to everyone here what the action of the convention is going to be. I do not think anyone here has any doubt now as to the way this convention will vote. If it were otherwise possible it might not be quite in place for me to speak to you just before you vote. But I want to remind you of this: That when the arbitration proposition was accepted labor all over the land breathed a sigh of relief.

Labor Given New Dignity.

That this strike has given labor new dignity no one can deny. Labor occupies a position now that it never occupied before. The fruits of your victory may not be apparent to you as they are to those who have studied the labor question more thoroughly than you; and I don't want to have our achievement, your achievement, dampened by even one dissenting vote. I trust this convention will vote as our people struck. I hope you will all vote one way as you all struck one way.

The all-important question was then put, and there was one loud roar of approval, and not a voice was raised in the negative.

The resolution to return to work was in the nature of a telegram to President Roosevelt, as follows:

Dear Sir.—We, the representatives of the employes of the various coal companies engaged in operating mines in the anthracite coal fields of Pennsylvania, in convention assembled, have had under consideration your telegram of October 15, 1902, addressed to John Mitchell, president of the United Mine Workers of America.

Accept the Proposition.

We have decided to accept the proposition therein embodied and submit all questions at issue between the operators and mine workers of the anthracite coal region for adjustment to the commission which you have named.

In pursuance of that decision we shall report for work on Thursday morning, October 23, in the positions and working places occupied by us prior to the inauguration of the strike.

We have authorized John Mitchell, president of the United Mine Workers of America, with such assistants as he may select, to represent us in all bearings before the committee.

(Signed.) JOHN MITCHELL,
Chairman of Convention.
W. B. WILSON,
Secretary of the Convention.

Hundreds of men, needed to repair the mines and otherwise place them in condition for operation, will be at work tomorrow morning, the convention having decided that this was imperative in order to get the men to work quickly and satisfy the demand for coal.

Mitchell Receives Congratulations.

President Mitchell received many congratulatory telegrams from all over the country after the news spread that the strike was ended. On his return to headquarters he was asked for an expression of his views upon the action of the convention, and in reply he said:

"The strike has demonstrated the power and dignity of labor. Conservative, intelligent trade unionism has received an impetus the effect of which cannot be measured. I earnestly hope and firmly believe that both labor and capital will profit by the lessons from the miners' strike which will enable them to adopt peaceful, humane and business methods of adjusting wage differences in the future."

After Mr. Mitchell had notified President Roosevelt of the action of the convention and had received a reply to the effect that the commission would meet in Washington on Friday, he sent out the official announcement to strikers that the strike was off.

When the news was flashed to the towns and villages down in the valleys and on the mountains of the coal region, the strike affected inhabitants heaved a sigh of relief. Many days have gone by since as welcome news was received. Everywhere there was rejoicing, and in many places the end of the strike was the signal for impromptu celebrations.

NEW LEGISLATION IN AID OF COAL MINERS

Convention at Wilkesbarre Wants Old Law Enforced and Some Changes Made in Statutes.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WILKESBARRE, PA., Oct. 21.—Among the resolutions and recommendations presented by the committee on resolutions to the miners' convention and unanimously adopted today were the following:

Whereas, At the request of the anthracite mine workers the last session of the legislature enacted a law providing for the election of mine inspectors by direct vote of the people, the purpose of which is to render more perfect the care, limb and health of persons employed in anthracite mines.

Resolved, That we instruct our district officers to take such action as they may deem necessary to defend the constitutionality of the law.

We recommend that legislation be enacted prohibiting miners under the age of 21 years from working more than eight hours daily.

We earnestly recommend that the act under which the coal and iron police are appointed. If the legislature should deem such officers necessary then we suggest that the appointment should be made by the local courts, and that the applicants be men of good moral character and further, that they be citizens and residents of the county where in the application shall be made for a period of at least five years, and that the said court the appointment may at any time be revoked by the court for cause.

Whereas, The act providing for the examination of persons seeking employment as miners provides that the examining board could in certain contingencies the district attorney shall investigate complaints for violation of the provisions of the act, but does not point out how the investigation shall be made, we recommend that it be so amended as to empower the boards and district attorney to send for persons, books and papers for examination, in order that the act may be made effective; and that they have full authority to hold an examination in or at the mines, and that the board shall upon the request of the board, produce their certificates and give such testimony as the board may require.

We further urge that an employer's liability bill be passed by the next legislature. The passage of such a bill is of the most vital importance to all who are engaged in and about dangerous employments.

Resolutions were also passed thanking all those who aided the miners in their strike, by giving them either financial or moral support.

SIX STITCHES MADE IN A WOMAN'S HEART

That Organ Stabbed by Her Husband, but She Lives and Likely to Recover.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, Oct. 21.

Dr. George D. Stewart, attending surgeon to Bellevue hospital, last night stitched up a stab wound in the heart of Mrs. Annie Kingsley, and now, it is said, she will recover. Mrs. Kingsley's husband, it was said today, plunged a knife into her heart.

Mrs. Kingsley was placed under the influence of ether. The first step in the operation was to cut the fourth and fifth ribs so as to give the surgeon field enough to work in. The ribs were laid back and the heart disclosed. For the first time the surgeons saw the vital organ in action.

By means of clamps applied to the ruptured pericardium, the heart was lifted so that the cavity of the thorax could be cleansed of the serous fluid that had escaped into it. Then Dr. Stewart, with a curved needle and an absorbent suture, took a stitch in the wound. The heart was beating at the rate of 76 pulsations a minute, and the stitches had to be made in the intervals between heart beats. Six stitches were found to be necessary in closing the wound. The hemorrhage stopped immediately.

Fifteen minutes from the time Mrs. Kingsley was placed on the operating table, she was reclining on a cot.

Mrs. Kingsley surprised the surgeons at the hospital today by the remarkable vitality which she displayed. Her husband was taken to her bedside in the afternoon, handcuffed to a policeman. Addressing him she said:

"I forgive you, John. You know you didn't treat me right. You threatened to kill me before."

Kingsley was held to await the outcome of the operation on his wife.

ALLEGED BUTLER BOYS SELF-CONFESSED LIARS

They Are Proud of Their Jobs, and Aspire to Win Great Fame as Criminals.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, Oct. 21.

Two boys, the Dautery boys, little more than 16 years old, are still at police headquarters, charged with burglary and obtaining goods under false pretenses. They are clever and quick witted, but Capt. Titus says they are unconscionable liars.

Admitting their offenses, they seem to think it a joke. They are ambitious to make progress as criminals. They say their homes are a few miles from where the Biddle brothers were shot. Although known by various aliases, they said today their true names are James J. and Andrew J. Dautery. They say they are cousins.

For country boys, they have displayed a knowledge of the world that is remarkable. They lived here in the best hotels, victimizing the department stores, until they were captured by accident, they believe, as they were about to leave the city.

GUARDSMEN MAY VOTE WHILE AT THE MINES

Recall of Troops from Anthracite Region Not Expected Before Election Day.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

HARRISBURG, Oct. 21.—Gov. Stone has begun making preparations for the taking of the vote of the troops in the mining regions at the November election, should the soldiers be kept on duty that long. The blanks were prepared by the state department today, and will immediately be printed so that everything will be in readiness when the commissioners are appointed to superintend the voting.

The governor said tonight that the troops would be kept in the coal region as long as there was any necessity for it, and that they would be recalled gradually. He could not fix any arbitrary date for the recall and the generals on the ground will be the best judges when it may be safe to begin the movement homeward.

Stone thinks conditions might warrant the recall of some of the organizations the latter part of the week. It is very likely that at least some of the commands will be on duty on election day, and that the appointment of election commissioners will be necessary. Each regiment is entitled to one commissioner to receive the vote.

Gov. Stone said: "I am very glad to hear that the strike has ended. The action of the miners is commendable."

AUTO BLOWN TO ATOMS.

Explodes With a Terrific Report While Standing in a Busy New York Street.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—(Special.)—A gasoline automobile owned by Dr. Hollister exploded this afternoon while standing in East Forty-fifth street and was totally destroyed.

Probably no chauffeur ever escaped with his life more narrowly than did the chauffeur of Dr. Hollister. Several citizens who were standing around listening to the rumblings of the machine had close calls. After several minutes of loud and angry grumbling the machine with a terrible report blew itself into atoms.

CAMPBELL'S CROWD.

Big Advertising Linked With Big Bargains Draw Like a Double Team.

Had there been turnstiles in the doorways of "The People's Store" yesterday the record for certain hours of trade would have come close to the figures of a good day at the Exposition.

"Campbell's Crusade," as the week's event has been most aptly termed, has as its basis a most interesting motive, and when a sagacious merchant has the "nerve" to back up his ambition with bargains as captivating as the ten solid columns of "specials" spread before the purchasing public in the columns of The Gazette on Monday and Tuesday, no wonder the multitude came to see, to criticise, to confirm, and to buy. The announcement this morning is headed, "NO SLOWING DOWN," and tells in terse and trenchant terms how resolutely this trade event is being made a continuous performance, whose interest will not flag until the week's record is complete.

BEST ROUGH ST. BERNARD IS A PITTSBURGH DOG

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
NEW YORK, Oct. 21.

Pittsburgh scored a victory today when the first judging of dogs was made at the second annual show of the Ladies' Kennel association. Louis Walther of that city carried off the first prize in the rough St. Bernard class, while arrayed against him were the $30,000 dogs of Howard and Frank Gould, considered the best in the country.

The judges at this show are the most particular that ever appeared at a show in this country. They are the most expert judges of dogs in the world.

Early this year Mr. Walther gained fame by winning the first prize at the show of the Duquesne Kennel club in Pittsburgh which is his Mountaineer Hill. It was expected that he would take this dog over the circuit this season, looking for first prizes; but instead, at the show in New York, he introduced a newcomer, Columbia's Hope. It was this dog which swept everything before it and sent to Pittsburgh the honor of having what is probably the best dog in the country in his class.

The show promises to be one of the best ever held in the United States. Over 1,600 dogs are entered, which is a larger number than was ever placed on exhibition at one time before. St. Bernards, collies and fox terriers are there in the greatest number, and the finest dogs in the country have been benched. There is also a goodly showing of great Danes and spaniels, and a few of such oddities as the English sheep dog.

SOMALILAND A MENACE TO BRITISH FORCES

Troops Are Sent from India to Protect Englishmen Against Natives.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

SIMLA, INDIA, Oct. 21.—The Second Bombay grenadiers have been ordered to Somaliland. Twelve officers and 400 men of the Twenty-third Bombay infantry will accompany the Second grenadiers. The troops will sail Thursday.

LONDON, Oct. 21.—A letter from an officer belonging to the Somaliland expedition, received here, shows that the British force is even in a more precarious position than has been indicated in the official dispatches. The writer says:

"No one will appreciate this business until it is too late. We are in a regular trap and how we are going to get out we do not know. We have had skirmishes and have lost many men. Our camels have nearly all been killed or captured. We have next to no water and we are miles from any wells. We have no supplies and nearly no ammunition. They have captured two of our Maxims. I do not suppose they care at home what happens to us. It is a brutal shame to send us blind into an ambush like this."

An official connected with the Red Sea ports in an interview today said:

"The Mullah and other turbulent chiefs have been liberally supplied with rifles by Americans and Germans, in spite of the British gunboats. The rifles supplied by the Americans were done up as cotton goods. This explains the frequent reference in consular reports to the fondness of the Somalis for American calicoes and shirtings. It is not calico the Somali wants, but the rifles inside the calico."

MYSTERY OF SMALLPOX.

Dr. Howard of Cleveland, Backed by His City, Will Try to Unravel Secrets of the Disease.

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 21.—(Special.)—The secrets of smallpox will be probed by Dr. W. T. Howard, Jr., professor of pathology at Western Reserve medical college. Howard is employed as expert bacteriologist for the city. On Monday night council authorized him to spend $4,000 in an effort to discover the nature, progress and spread of smallpox bacteria.

He will build a small laboratory near Valentine Street hospital in an isolated part of the city, where, with two trained experts in bacteriology, the work will be pursued under his supervision.

Secretary Moody Finds that Section Enthusiastic for Him.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 21.—(Special.)—"Even if President Roosevelt's efforts had not put an end to the coal strike the people of the west would retain their admiration for him for his attempt," said W. H. Moody, secretary of the navy, soon after his return tonight from a speaking tour in Illinois, Wisconsin, South Dakota, Iowa, Kansas and Missouri.

"The people are loyal to Roosevelt. There is no question of it. In all the states I visited I could see no signs that the Republicans will meet with reverses."

STRIKERS WILL HELP GET MINES IN SHAPE

Not All Satisfied at Shamokin, But Will Resume Work on Thursday.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

SHAMOKIN, Oct. 21.—Some of the strikers were greatly dissatisfied on learning the Wilkesbarre convention had voted to return to work, but they will report for duty Thursday, and a number will go to work tomorrow to assist in repairing the mines. The engineers and firemen do not know whether they will be re-engaged or not. It is thought at least 95 per cent of them will be. The militia will be ordered near all the mines on Thursday to prevent outbreaks between non-unionists and unionists.

Col. Barnett, of the Tenth regiment, was seized with a serious cold last night and was placed in bed in a private house. He is somewhat better tonight.

Quartermaster Sergeant Edward Cook and Cameron Leclaire, private in company C, almost smothered to death this morning, owing to an oil stove smoking as they slept. When their tent reeked with smoke Leclaire awoke. For a while he could not stir. Finally he rolled out of the tent and gave the alarm. Cook was carried out and the surgeon restored him to consciousness. Both are out of danger.

ABOLISHING ORE DUST.

Engineer Says Its Escape from Furnaces Can Be Prevented by Briquetting.

The ore dust nuisance in Oakland can be abolished, it was declared last night at a meeting of the Engineers' Society of Western Pennsylvania. The subject was treated in a paper by Henry S. Mould, who has been experimenting with briquetting machinery to compress ore dust into bricks.

Mr. Mould asserts that the great loss sustained by reason of the waste of ore through the tops of the blast furnaces can be avoided. He estimates that 70 tons are blown away every 24 hours, at a cost of $245 a day.

A briquetting plant has been installed at the ore mines of the company which causes the nuisance there. Mr. Mould said that the ore smelters having used briquetting machinery but the iron manufacturers were skeptical and did not care to allow any demonstration of the certainty of abolishing the ore dust nuisance.

ANOTHER BABY FOUND.

Third Case of Child Abandonment in a Week Discovered in East End Last Night.

The third baby abandoned in Pittsburgh within a week was found shortly after midnight on the doorstep of a house in North Linden avenue. The attention of Officers Joseph Quigley and George Merling was attracted by the screams of the child. They found a female child about 4 weeks old in the best of health and nicely dressed. She had been rolled up in an old black fascinator and tucked into a basket chip basket, with a bottle of malted milk. Attached to the basket was a sheet of paper on which were roughly printed these words:

"Take her in and treat her well,
For in this house her father dwells."

The babe was sent to No. 4 station, to be taken care of by the matron, Mrs. McLaughlin, until this morning.

FORGED BY COLUMBUS.

Americanist Delegate Makes a Serious Charge Against Discoverer.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—(Special.)—Delegates to the international congress of Americanists spent the greater part of the second day of their session in arguing whether or no the word Amerin should be substituted for American Indian.

Senor Gonzales de la Rosa announced his discovery that the famous Toscanelli correspondence was a forgery, forged by no less a person than Christopher Columbus himself.

Owing to the confusion of tongues prevailing at the meeting, one half of the delegates failing to understand what the other half were discussion, Dr. David Boyle of Canada made a heated protest. He said he wanted an interpreter, as he could not understand what was going on. When his request was ignored he indignantly left the hall.

OFFICERS RE-ELECTED.

W. C. T. U. Satisfied With Work of Its Present Leaders.

PORTLAND, ME., Oct. 21.—President Mrs. Lillian M. N. Stevens of Portland and the other officers of the National Woman's Christian Temperance union were re-elected at today's session of the national convention.

Among the reports was that of Mrs. Mary H. Hunt of Massachusetts, superintendent of the department of scientific temperance instruction. Mrs. Hunt said the dream of Frances Willard 20 years ago, in creating a department looking to scientific temperance instruction in our schools, has become an imposing reality.

A Distinguisheed Orientalist Complains of an Outrage.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—(Special.)—Dr. Paul Bronnle, one of the most distinguished of living orientialists, who is living in New York temporarily, wrote to the German ambassador in Washington today complaining of what he regards as a brutal outrage of which he was the victim at the hands of the New York police.

Dr. Bronnle declares he was falsely arrested, beaten and robbed. His counsel, Moses Strasman, said he intends to carry the matter before Commissioner Partridge at police headquarters.

Plan Reception for Mitchell.

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., Oct. 21.—A movement is under way to give President Mitchell of the United Mine Workers a public reception when he returns here a few days from now. The labor unions of the city will take the initiative.

NEWLY PROPOSED ELEVATED ROADS

M. K. McMullin Makes Application at Harrisburg for Two Charters.

FIGUREHEAD DIRECTORS

Incorporators Are Boys in Office of Civil Engineer Gilfillan, Stephen Stone, the Governor's Son, an Interested Party.

M. K. McMullin, the wealthy banker and broker, went to Harrisburg the other day and filed applications for charters for the Bloomfield and the Second avenue elevated railroads. Mr. McMullin gave the following as the names of the directors of the companies: A. P. Weltzel, W. O. Anderson, T. K. Bishop, T. B. Booth and W. Douglas. A. P. Weltzel is the president of the company.

Stephen Stone, the son of Gov. W. A. Stone, is one of the big stockholders in the new companies. He is also the son-in-law of Dr. J. Guy McCandless, the director of the department of public works, a department which will have to be consulted before the railroads can be built.

Mr. McMullin could not be found last night. J. D. Callery, president of the Pittsburgh Railways Company, said his companies had nothing to do with the scheme. A. W. Mellon said he knew nothing about it and had nothing to do with it.

"I really cannot say anything about it," said the president of the new companies, A. P. Weltzel.

"My lips are sealed," said T. B. Booth, one of the directors.

President Weltzel is 19 years old; Director Booth is 16. Both are office boys in the employ of George A. Gilfillan, the civil engineer, who has offices in the Fidelity Title and Trust Company. Mr. Gilfillan said last night:

"Yes, Stephen Stone is one of the stockholders; M. K. McMullin filed the application for charters; President Weltzel and Director Booth are office boys in my office. They are mere figureheads. What is the capital stock? I really ought not to tell. What is the route of the proposed roads? I can't tell you that, either. Whom does Mr. McMullin represent? Really, I regret not to be able to tell you. Am I interested in the roads? Oh, yes. Is the governor interested? Tut, tut!"

Some time ago Mr. Gilfillan's office boys were summoned into his private office. There a share of stock in each of the proposed elevated railways was given to them, and they were immediately sworn in as directors of the roads. They were warned to keep their mouths closed. After they were sworn in, the certificates of stock were taken away from them—that is, they transferred no shares to somebody. Who the somebody was they do not know, for they signed the transfer blindly.

It is understood that the elevated railroads for which charters are asked are to come into the business district down Liberty street and Second avenue. One will begin at about Thirty-third and Liberty streets. The terminal and loop will probably be at the Point. The other road is to come into the city down Second avenue and will probably use the same terminus. The lines are chiefly for suburban traffic, it being expected that the "short haul" patrons will use the surface roads.

FOURTEENTH'S BOYS QUICKLY ROUNDED UP

Mahanoy City Goes Wild With Joy at Ending of Strike.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

MAHANOY CITY, PA., Oct. 21.—This city went wildly hilarious over the settlement of the strike. When the news was placarded every face bore the impress of the calm that precedes a storm. Fifteen minutes later the factory and colliery whistles shrieked. In a moment resounding shouts of joy filled the air and impromptu parades and marches broke the tiresome monotony of months. The citizens band paraded the streets, adding to the outbreak of joyous feeling. Arrangements are under way for an immense jubilee demonstration tomorrow morning.

At camp Col. James Glenn the boys of the Fourteenth regiment dallied with delight, but were not permitted beyond the guard lines. A provost guard was immediately detailed to the city to round up the soldiers, regardless of passes, and marched them back to camp. There is not a soldier in the city tonight.

The dress parade scheduled to be held on Main street this afternoon was cancelled by Col. Thompson, who left for Pittsburgh at 2:45.

CHICAGO WOMAN SLAIN.

One Admirer Under Arrest and Police Looking for Another.

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—(Special.)—With several gashes in the forehead and the fingers lacerated as if in a fierce death struggle, the body of Miss Celia Conrad was found in her rooms in West Randolph street tonight.

The woman is supposed to have been murdered by a jealous admirer. William Reckman, a friend of the woman, is under arrest. The police are looking also for Thomas Barry.

DEATH OF DR. WHITE.

Ohio Educator and Father of Governor of West Virginia.

Dr. Emerson E. White, father of Gov. Albert E. White of West Virginia and one of the country's most prominent educators, died last evening at Columbus, O., after a long illness. He was born in Manton, Portage county, O., January 20, 1820, and completed his education at the old Cleveland university. He was for some time principal of the Central high school in Cleveland and in 1856 took charge of the schools of Portsmouth, O. In 1863 he was elected state school commissioner and in 1870 was made president of Perdue university in Lafayette, Ind. He was made superintendent of instruction in that city and held this position until he came to Columbus in 1880. He was married in 1853 to Miss Mary Ann Saxon of Hudson, O. He was the author of a large number of text books, the best known of which are his works on mathematics. He was the author of the bill establishing the national bureau of education. He was for a number of years president of the board of trustees of Lane seminary, Cincinnati. His degree of master of arts was given him by Western Reserve university and Marietta college.

BIG ODD FELLOW HERE FROM ENGLAND

Colored Men Honor His Presence With a Street Demonstration and Gatherings.

George Wilde, grand past master and grand secretary of the Grand United Order of Odd Fellows of England, who is making a tour of the United States, inspecting the colored Odd Fellows' lodges, is being entertained by the colored Odd Fellows of Pittsburgh and vicinity.

The colored Odd Fellows had a street parade yesterday afternoon. About 500 participated. The Patriarchic lodges of Pittsburgh and Allegheny acted as escort to carriages containing Grand Secretary Wilde and other visiting officials, members of the committee of arrangements and high officers of the local lodges, their wives and daughters. Then followed on foot members of Industry, Eureka, Liberty, Union, Western Star and Band of Love lodges from Carnegie, Homestead, Braddock, McKeesport, and other points in the county. The line of march extended to Allegheny and back to Central Turner hall in Forbes street.

At Turner hall a public meeting was held, presided over by J. Welfred Holmes. The Rev. E. D. W. Jones, pastor of the Avery African Methodist Episcopal church of Allegheny, welcomed Grand Secretary Wilde.

Secretary Wilde said he came across the ocean to convey a message of peace and good will. He said the members of the order in England have ever felt proud of the day when Peter Ogden, the colored man of America, was made a member of Victoria lodge, G. U. O. O. F., in Manchester, England, in 1842. Ogden was the founder of the order in this country, which now has a membership of over 300,000.

Last evening a social reception was given to Secretary Wilde in Turner hall. Today he will be escorted to the Homestead steel works and other points of interest, and tonight will be banqueted at Odd Fellows' hall in Arthur street. He will leave after the banquet for Chicago.

John M. Anderson is chairman of the committee of arrangements having these events in charge. J. A. Wilson was chief marshal of yesterday's parade. Elijah Wiggins was assistant chief marshal and W. E. Kearns, adjutant. Among the distinguished members of the order who are here are Grand Treasurer J. E. Reed of Cleveland and Grand Master E. H. Morris of Chicago.

CHILD KIDNAPED BY HUSBAND AND WIFE

Victim the Woman's Daughter by Divorced Husband. Couple Are Jailed.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

MARION, IND., Oct. 21.—H. A. Heath and wife of Chicago are held in jail on the charge of abducting Heath's 8-year-old daughter.

About two years ago Mrs. Heath, then Mrs. Harry F. Leopold of Bowling Green, O., secured a divorce from her husband and was given the custody of their two children, a boy and a girl. Mrs. Leopold then married Henry A. Heath of Toledo and gave the boy to his father. Later she also gave her first husband her daughter, signing an agreement with him that he was to keep the children.

Heath and wife went to Chicago, and Leopold, with the two children, went to Matthews, near this city. Heath and wife went to Matthews yesterday and Mrs. Heath went to the school building where her daughter attends and secured permission from the teacher to see her. She took her little daughter to the street, where Heath awaited in a buggy, and although the child screamed and protested she was driven away in the vehicle at a rapid gait.

Leopold soon learned of the kidnaping and officers were sent in pursuit. The alleged abductors were overtaken several miles in the country and brought to this city.

They were found guilty in a justice's court and bound over to the circuit court for trial. Both being unable to furnish $1,000 bond, they were placed in jail.

IRISH LEAGUE ELECTION.

John F. Finerty Is Elected President and Patrick Egan Vice President.

BOSTON, Oct. 21.—The committee on permanent organization of the United Irish league today reported the following officers, who were unanimously elected: President, John F. Finerty, Chicago; vice president, Patrick Egan, New York; M. J. Michael J. Redding, Baltimore; secretary, John O'Callaghan, Boston; treasurer, T. B. Fitzpatrick, Boston. On the national committee are Gen. James R. O'Beirne, New York; Patrick Ford, New York; M. J. O'Connor, New York; Edward F. Duffy, Pittsburgh, and James A. Daily, Toledo, Ohio.

J. G. O'Connor of Philadelphia, acting chairman of the committee on resolutions, submitted a resolution that $100,000 be raised within the next six months for the cause of Ireland, and that this convention pledge itself for said amount and that after the sum named has been raised the league guarantees to give dollar for dollar to the landlords fund while the struggle continues. The report was adopted.

WHOLE FAMILY ARRESTED.

Clearys Quarreled About Money and Land in Station House.

A quarrel over the division of two weeks' earnings resulted in the entire Cleary family of Iron street, Allegheny, being placed in the Allegheny Central police station last night.

Patrick Cleary, Jr., worked as a puddler. The son was arrested and his parent was given the position. After the son's release he went to help his father. Last night they fought over their joint earnings and were arrested on charges of disorderly conduct. Mrs. Cleary took a hand and was also arrested. The son secured bail and later tried to induce his father to put up a forfeit for his mother's release. The angry parent refused to do this.

PIONEERS' BONES GO TO NEW GRAVES

Gen. Neville, Maj. Craig and Ancestor of A. J. Cassat Among Them.

LIVED A CENTURY AGO

Remains of Five Taken from Old First Presbyterian Churchyard, Depopulating This Little City of the Dead.

From the First Presbyterian churchyard in Sixth avenue there were exhumed yesterday the remains of five of the pioneers of Pittsburgh and Pennsylvania, some of them holding illustrious places in the pages of American history. Among them were Gen. John Neville, who attained his military rank in the revolution and who was the original owner of Neville island under a Penn grant; Alexander Johnston, Jr., great grandfather of President Alexander Johnston Cassatt, of the Pennsylvania railroad system, and Maj. Isaac Craig, one of the pioneers of Pittsburgh, after whom Craig street is named.

Some of the bodies had lain for a century and more in caskets, the silk lining of which was almost pure white when brought to the light yesterday. Probably tomorrow, in connection with the memorial services of the Sons and Daughters of the American Revolution, at the First Presbyterian church, the disposition of these remains will be determined on. The remains of other illustrious ones who rested in this little city of the dead have before this been removed to a plot in the Allegheny cemetery, Hudson Samson, the funeral director, took charge of the remains exhumed yesterday.

Gen. Neville died July 20, 1803, aged 76 years. The remains of his wife, Winnifred Neville, resting by his side, were also exhumed. She died at the age of 61 on April 3, 1797. Maj. Isaac Craig died May 14, 1826, aged 85 years. Alexander Johnston, Jr., great-grandfather of the Pennsylvania railroad president, and after whom this great railroad executive was named, was born in Chester county, Pa., and died at "Alleghenytown" on May 9, 1822, aged 48 years. The remains of his father and the great-great-grandfather of Mr. Cassatt rested by the side of Alexander, Jr. He was James Johnston and he died September 10, 1842. He was a soldier of the American revolution and fought at Monmouth, Trenton, Princeton and Brandywine.

The remains of Mary Johnston, wife of Alexander Johnston, Jr., rested with this group. Hers were among those exhumed some time ago. She was 29 years old when she died, in 1820.

Cured of Asthma

After Years of Terrible Suffering.

Mary Josephine Bezy, Floyd Knob, Ind., writes: "After suffering untold agonies for 32 years from Asthma, I was cured by Schiffmann's Asthma Cure. I used to be so bad that I could not move without help, but I can now do all my own work." Another writes: "My little boy 7 years old has been a sufferer for several years, sometimes so bad off that we could not hold him in bed, expecting any moment for him to breathe his last. Doctors did him no good and we had almost given up in despair, when through accident we heard of Schiffmann's Asthma Cure, tried it and it almost instantly relieved him." Mrs. D. C. Harris, Elbow P. Rheumatism Cured.

FLEMING'S

is a famous prescription which we have dispensed for over twenty-five years. We do not know of a Rheumatic remedy that meets the requirements of this section as this one does.

In cases of Muscular, Inflammatory or Sciatic Rheumatism it invariably relieves in a few days, and one or two bottles generally effects a cure. We have the record of several cases that were entirely relieved by this remedy after trying almost everything else and suffering for years. It certainly is worthy of a trial. Price, $1.00 per bottle. Sent by express, carefully packed, on receipt of price.

PROMISE A NEW ROAD TO LAKES

Jones & Laughlin Plan to Link Ore Fields and the Mills.

TWO SURVEYS FOR LINE

One Fixes Terminals at Cowles, O.—Pennsylvania Reported to Be Co-operating to Eliminate All but Jones & Laughlin.

Official announcement was made yesterday by the Jones & Laughlin Steel Company that a new railroad line to Lake Erie from Pittsburgh is planned. As told in yesterday's Gazette, the ground necessary to a new Lake Erie harbor has been bought by A. W. Mellon and R. B. Mellon. The two announcements coming so close together originated the conclusion that the harbor land bought by the Mellons is to be used by the Jones & Laughlin Steel Company. It is thought more likely, however, that a second harbor is the one to be used.

None of the officials of the Jones & Laughlin Company will speak farther than to make the bare statement that a line is planned. They will not say whether or not the Mellon harbor at Elk creek is part of the plan.

A. W. Mellon refused to be quoted on the subject and R. B. Mellon was not at his office, but it was authoritatively stated for them that the harbor land on Elk creek was bought as an investment and not for any particular interest; that no sale has yet been made and that no option has been given; also that the Jones & Laughlin interest might have it if they wanted to buy it.

Harbor at Cowles Creek.

It is understood that the Jones & Laughlin harbor will be at Cowles creek, three miles north of Geneva, O., and 10 miles west of Ashtabula. While a line was run to Elk creek by the party of surveyors working under E. K. Morse, the Jones & Laughlin engineer in charge of the survey, there was also a line run to Cowles creek, and Frank E. Hood, of Youngstown, O., who is believed to be acting for the Jones & Laughlin company, has obtained at Cowles creek that part of the land necessary to any harbor which may be desired there. Not all the other land has been bought, but some is now under option. The Hood property, however, is the key to the situation.

There was a report yesterday that the Pennsylvania railroad interests, with their Erie & Pittsburgh division terminating at Girard, and a traffic arrangement with the Lake Shore to get to the lake terminals at Erie, may be planning, in conjunction with Jones & Laughlin to create a new branch line and terminals over the Elk creek property.

Terminals an All-Important Factor.

The terminals are the all-important factor and such a line with the short haul of the Erie & Pittsburgh to Girard and the lake would enable the Pennsylvania interests to work with the Jones & Laughlin people for exceptional cheap transportation to and from the lakes. The double-tracking of the Ohio River connecting bridge of the Pennsylvania interests would, by the transfer between the Ft. Wayne to the Panhandle, give the Jones & Laughlin Steel Company about all that is required in transportation facilities. The end of the Erie & Pittsburgh at Girard is only about three miles from Elk creek.

The Pennsylvania, as is well known, is fighting in the courts the purpose of the Wabash to connect its terminals with those of the Jones & Laughlin Steel Company, understanding that the steel company will deliver to the Wabash a great amount of its tonnage. So long as the Wabash is blocked in this project it will be of no advantage to the Jones & Laughlin interest and the Pennsylvania people are reported to be considering the opportunity to co-operate with the Jones & Laughlin people for much cheaper freight to and from a lake port.

James McCrea, first vice president of the Pennsylvania lines west, who alone could speak with authority on this matter was not accessible yesterday, being out of the city.

Neew Road Not Yet a Certainty.

While surveys have been made for an independent line from the terminals of Jones & Laughlin to the lake, the road is a long way from a certainty. It may develop into a repetition of Andrew Carnegie's planned bee-line to the seaboard. There always remains a chance of the railroad people capitulating till the line is built.

The plan of Jones & Laughlin is to organize its railroad enterprise independently of its steel company. The steel company recently authorized its directors to issue $10,000,000 in bonds when deemed necessary for extraordinary improvement, but Vice President Willis L. King said yesterday that the proceeds of these bonds, whenever issued, are not to figure in the railroad enterprise.

After a meeting of the board of directors of the steel company yesterday morning the following statement was issued:

"The report that Jones & Laughlin Steel Company is interested in a new line to Lake Erie is mainly correct, although the information did not come from this office. The company, however, does not contemplate building furnaces or mills outside of Pittsburgh."

Would Not Add to Statement.

Mr. King was asked to state if it is the purpose to establish lake terminals on the Elk Creek property. He declined to say yes or no to this, and requested that the statement issued by the company be allowed to stand as all that would be announced at this time. This unwillingness to announce or disavow that the terminals are to be at Elk Creek along with the assertion for the Mellons that the property has neither been bought nor optioned by or for the Jones & Laughlin people, nor by anyone else, strengthens the reports, from sources that are quite well grounded in their information, that the Cowles tract is to be the point of the lake terminals.

It was also reported yesterday that the Union Steel Company is either interested with the Jones & Laughlin Steel Company or had plans for lake railroad terminals of its own in connection with the Mellon purchase. President W. H. Donner of the Union company, declined to discuss this, but it was authoritatively stated for the Mellons, who are largely interested in this steel company, that there was no thought of the Union Steel Company in making the purchases, and that the property would not be used by this interest nor improved by the present owners, the Mellons.

Proposed Course of New Road.

In a general way the proposed Jones & Laughlin line is surveyed to run from the Monongahela Connecting railroad, the Jones & Laughlin terminal road, either by tunnel or up one of the South Side runs, beyond the hills, and then passing near Carnegie follow the direction of the Ohio river by going along Raccoon creek. The river will be bridged near Smiths Ferry and thence the line will run via Poland, O., west of Youngstown and Girard, and cross the Mahoning river at Niles. The well-known courses of the Lake Erie & Ohio river ship canal project will then be followed through Northeastern Ohio to the harbor at Cowles creek. This line will be about 150 miles long and will have very favorable grades.

Some months ago when the Jones & Laughlin interests first began active work on this plan, it was proposed to use the Wabash railroad for the inlet into Pittsburgh. This plan is still a possibility, although independent surveys for the inlet have been made by the steel company.

On the North Bank of the Monongahela.

One line surveyed with this purpose follows up the north bank of the Monongahela river to a point opposite Birds run, where a bridge was to be built. Then the line continues up the south side for half a mile above the Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston, or Streets run. From Streets run the line continues westward along Gass run. Elevated tracks built over the Glenwood cutoff of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad were found practicable.

The scheme to connect the Wabash, which seems to have been abandoned temporarily at least, involved using that road from a connection with the Monongahela Connecting railroad to Carnegie, where Jones & Laughlin tracks would again be resumed. The Wabash is now attempting to build an extension into the Jones & Laughlin plant.

In this connection there have been rumors also that the Erie railroad was to enter Pittsburgh by means of this Jones & Laughlin line, and that in return the Erie would allow the use of part of its tracks where available for the new Jones & Laughlin line.

Erie Lines Have Trouble.

The Erie, which now reaches only as far as Youngstown on its own tracks, sends and receives Pittsburgh traffic over the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad. There has been much dissatisfaction between the three parties to this contract, the Erie, the Lake Erie and the Lake Shore, and it is likely to be abrogated as soon as practicable to all concerned. The Lawe Erie has just completed, at Youngstown, yard and freight terminal facilities which make it independent of the Erie in that regard. In order to reach this district with its own equipment and engines a very liberal contract would be made by the Erie road.

LYNCHED AFTER LEGALLY TRIED

Two Texas Negroes Hanged by Mob While Officers Wait for Troops.

EACH PLEADED GUILTY

Admitted Crime of Assault and Murder of Aged Woman—One Taken from Court Room, Other from Prison Cell.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Hempstead, Tex., Oct. 21.—After being tried in legal form and procedure for assault and murder and given the death penalty in each case, Jim Wesley and Reddick Barton, negroes were taken from the authorities of this city late this afternoon and lynched in the public square by a mob.

The district judge yesterday asked the governor for military to accompany the negroes here from the jail at Houston. At the request of a large number of citizens of Hempstead, who, it is said, signed a written promise to aid the authorities in preventing any mob law, Judge Thompson this morning countermanded his request and the troops did not accompany the negroes.

Barton was tried first. He pleaded guilty to the assault and murder of Mrs. Susan Lewis, aged 65, Sunday, October 12. The juries in each case, on which were several negroes, promptly returned verdicts, fixing the death penalty.

During the afternoon Wesley was put on trial. He pleaded guilty to assault and murder. While his trial was proceeding a mob broke into the court room and attempted to take him, it having been ascertained that the sheriff had asked for troops. The mob was dispersed, however, and the trial proceeded, the state putting through its testimony hurriedly in corroboration of the plea of guilty. Both juries assessed the death penalty.

The officers of the court sat about the room at the conclusion of the trial awaiting the coming of the militia, when there was a sudden movement on the part of several men in the room; the sheriff was overpowered and Wesley was taken in possession by the mob and hurried away. Another portion of the mob attacked the jail where Barton had been taken when his trial was over, and the prisoner was surrendered to them without a struggle.

The two prisoners were hurried to the public square and there executed by hanging. Neither had been sentenced, although Judge Thompson had positively refused to permit them to waive the 30 days of grace allowed them by law.

The bodies were hanging tonight to the arm of a telephone pole, where last month another negro murderer had been strung up by a mob.

Sheriff Lipscomb was badly injured in the back by the rough treatment of the mob. During the first rush a shot was accidentally fired and Sheriff Sparks of Lee county was wounded in the stomach, though not seriously.

NEW MISSION TO CUBA.

Its Object Is to Gather Data of Trade and Industries With Particular Reference to Reciprocity.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 21.—(Special.)—H. D. Dumont and S. Christy Mead, members of the Merchants' association of New York, called on President Roosevelt today and informed him that the association intends to investigate the resources and needs of Cuba and to have a report ready before the assembling of congress. A Lady's Opinion of Queen Quality Shoes May Win Her a Prize of $1,000.00.

We daresay you fully understand by this time the conditions upon which the contest—that is the literary contest—is being conducted for prizes to be given to one hundred women who write in their own way why Queen Quality Shoes are so popular. To equalize the contest the manufacturers have submitted three headings from which women are to take their cue, and write accordingly. It is not necessary to have a Vassar education to enter this contest. Any woman who has a knack of putting her thoughts on paper can very easily tell what she thinks about Queen Quality and in that way she may possibly win the first prize of $1,000 or some one of the various other prizes.

1st.—"That Comfortable Feeling" of a "Queen Quality" Shoe.
(Showing where and how they fit better than any other shoe, which is the cause of "that comfortable feeling.")

2nd.—"The Satisfying Qualities" of a "Queen Quality" Shoe.
(Showing why women who have once tried "Queen Quality" always wear them afterwards.)

3d.—The Exclusive "Styles and Individuality" of a "Queen Quality" Shoe.
(Showing why "Queen Quality" is the recognized leader of Shoe Fashions.)

You can come to our 2nd floor Shoe Department, purchase a pair of Queen Quality Shoes, and get a blank on which to record your opinions. Briefly here are the list of prizes and the important details:

First Prize,
One Thousand Dollars.

2d Prize	$500
3d Prize	400
4th Prize	300
5th Prize	200
6th to 10th (5 Prizes) each	100
11th to 20th (10 Prizes) each	75
21st to 30th (10 Prizes) each	50
31st to 40th (10 Prizes) each	25
41st to 50th (10 Prizes) each	20
51st to 60th (10 Prizes) each	15
71st to 100th (30 Prizes) each	5

Your article must not contain over 200 words. You may write on one or more of the points of superiority. Simply state your own ideas of what are the best reasons. Your experience may induce others to buy. Contest open from October 1 to December 25, 1902. All articles must be received by January 1, 1903. The articles will be judged and prizes awarded by a committee of prominent publishers about January 1, 1903, and the names of the winners published in the March Magazines. Address all competitive articles to Queen Quality Prize Competition, care of Thomas G. Plant & Co., Boston.

An Explanation.

"Queen Quality" is not a $3 shoe. It should not be classed with $3 shoes. It has nothing in common with $3 shoes.

It is sold for $3, yet it is the worth-equal, the style-equal, the fit-equal, of a custom shoe.

Now how is it possible to sell "Queen Quality" shoes for $3?

Simply and only because of the money saved by wholesale handling. The quantity of these shoes made and sold is enormous—very much the largest in the world.

Note that there is only one price on "Queen Quality" everywhere. Many a dealer could ask and obtain more for them, but the price is fixed by the factory and must not be varied.

The woman who once tries "Queen Quality" shoes will rarely ever accept any other shoe afterwards. They spell every letter in the word satisfaction.

$2.50 for low cuts. $3.00 for boots.

A few special styles 50c extra.

Our Inimitable Showing of Furs and Wraps and Costumes

has set the feminine clientele of the store a-gossiping in the most pleasant fashion imaginable, for there never was such another exhibit of apparel for women seen in this city. That is acknowledged by those who have retentive memories.

You owe it to yourself to see the variety. It is a study of high art in the dress of women. And it is so diversified that women are fain to acknowledge the proverbial distraction in knowing what to choose first.

The superb display is daily receiving superb reinforcements.

New Silk Waists.

They are what we would call, if we desired to be complimentary, real stunning. And we express the matter in the best way. There are two numbers and each sells for $12.50.

One is of Moire Velour in the most gorgeous of Persian colors. A perfect Shirtwaist with strapped shoulders and small tucks to form yoke; the back is a French effect. Stock, ties and buttons match body of waist.

The Second number is a Taffeta Silk Waist in immense large plaid effects. This Waist has French back and box pleated front, the front being embellished with gigantic pearl buttons. A handsome stock finished with neat turn-over collar and French knots and tabs completes this pretty silk Waist. As we have said at the outset, either sells for $12.50.

Just got in a beautiful black peau de soie to sell for $10.

Capes for Women.

In the mad rush for the loose fitting Coats of all lengths it must not be forgotten that we have an ample line of the serviceable and sensible Capes, beginning with the neat Cape for all run-about occasions and ending with the dainty affair for the opera and all society functions.

Plain black Capes of Kersey and Broadcloth mostly admired by elderly women, $12.50, $13.50 and $15.

Handsomely trimmed black Capes of the same materials, beginning at $18 and running along in an easy way to $40.

Mention of Capes—(not at all expensive for the service required of them)—for the opera or any society function, tan and red cloth, the tan lined with a pretty shade of blue and the red with pure white, both trimmed with white angora, $45. This will serve to introduce you to other and finer Capes.

Cold Weather Stockings for Women and Children.

Heavy weights both in wool and cotton, the sensible kind to wear more especially in the cold time of the morning and at nights. Every good kind, the majority of the stockings imported by us, now ready. Two examples of how we sell under price:

Children's Wool Stockings—different weights of ribs—a pure black—double splicings—a special value for 25c a pair.

Women's and Children's Cotton Hose—all fast black—all improved splicings—18c a pair—3 pairs for 50c. They are well worth 25c a pair.

Short Pieces of Ribbon.

Today and tomorrow we will have on sale thousands of short pieces—3-4 of a yard up to 3 yards—of beautiful all pure silk Ribbon. These will be sold for Half Usual Prices.

All are desirable styles and effects, such as Plaids, Stripes, Dots, Checks, Brocades, Fancies, and any amount of the plain styles.

There being such a diversified range of prices the matter of quoting them would be unsatisfactory. So we simply ask you to come and make your selections for one-half what these Ribbons regularly sold for.

Initialed Handerchiefs, 12½c Each.

Don't know that the initial on the Handkerchief would bring it back to you if you happened to lose it, but all the same women prefer to have the prettily embroidered letter of their name on their Handkerchief.

We have just received six thousand pure linen Handkerchiefs on which is a neat hand-embroidered initial. Any letter desired and plenty of them. We say for them 12 1-2c.

The Handkerchief without the initial is worth half the quarter.

Handiness

as exemplified by thousands of little things in our China Department of the big basement. Little things that cost but a trifle of money—little things that are just as handy as can be and that no family should be without. Some of them—

Japanese China Salts and Peppers—perforated tops—no metallic tops to tarnish or corrode. Usually 25c, here for half, 12½c each.

Better Salts and Peppers, made of French China, 50c each.

Japanese Custard and Baking Cups, to serve hot from the oven, 10c each. Nicer than the stone vessels at same price.

Hundreds of daintily decorated Bowls—such as Soup Bowls, Oatmeal Bowls, Custard Bowls, etc., 10c, 12½c, 15c each.

Hundreds of quaint little stone individual Cream Pitchers made in Dresden. 5c each! How do you presume we bring them over and sell them for a nickel?

One thousand Steins, for practical use for decorating dens. 25c each and along by easy stages to $5. All personally selected in Germany and brought over by us.

A 25c table on which are any number of practical trifles, such as China Ash Trays, Toothpick Holders, Ink Wells, Match Holders, etc., and all imported.

A lot of $1 and $1.25 Cracker Jars and Tea Pots of that popular Japanese China, and we are going to sell them for 75c each.

Two hundred Hair Receivers of Japanese China with Dresden decorations—50c goods for 35c each.

Little table of Japanese Curios, Bunnies, Dogs, etc., 12½c each, instead of 25c.

Very odd and very quaint stone ware made in Dresden, and also a lot of Japanese ware—Dishes, Jugs, Pitchers, Tobacco Jars and other things, most of them very appropriate for dens, 15c to $1.25 each—about half price.

WOMEN RAISE A NOTE OF PROTEST

Elevated Plans of Pennsylvania Rouse Twentieth Century Club Members.

MANY OBJECTIONS MADE

Large Meeting Held Yesterday Marked the Beginning of Vigorous Opposition to Changes in Point District.

A large gathering of animated women filled the Twentieth Century club house in Duquesne way yesterday morning and they made a most vigorous protest against the renewal of the project to use several blocks in the Point district for railway freight purposes, as embodied in the elevated track ordinances recently introduced in councils for the Pennsylvania railroad. Two sets of resolutions were adopted by the women. They embody objections raised by public-spirited club and society women against ordinances granting favors to great corporations, thereby closing the lower part of the city to retail business and club life, as the women view the situation.

The erection of elevated tracks menaces the prosperity of the Twentieth Century club itself, and for this somewhat personal reason the special meeting of the club was called yesterday by the president, Mrs. George A. Germley. The club's lease upon its present home, the old Laughlin mansion in Duquesne way, expires next April. A building committee was appointed a few months ago by the recent president, Miss Harding, and yesterday plans were to have been suggested by this committee, but the personal interest of the club member was lost in the public interest.

Women Interested Financially.

A large number of the members of the club are women holding large properties in Pittsburgh, paying heavy annual taxes, and they spoke most emphatically in opposition to the abandonment of the Point to the railroads. The meeting was large and representative, the assembly room being filled with women, while in the halls groups gathered to discuss the state of affairs. Upon the walls of the assembly room hung copies of the ordinances giving away the disputed district and also a large blue print copy of the plans for intersecting the Point with elevated and ground tracks. The women spoke forcefully and with animation, and the voices and words were keyed to an unusual pitch of excitement.

The resolutions passed embodied the following objections, in addition to the probable loss of Pittsburgh's most historic site, the old block house, which the Daughters of the American Revolution are fighting to hold: The wider separation which the women maintain will be almost necessarily made between Pittsburgh and Allegheny because of the added congestion which the women see in the lower part of Pittsburgh. The Twentieth Century club has for several years advocated the consolidation of the two cities, a hope which it believes will be killed by the carrying out of the present plans.

Other Objectionable Features.

Secondly, the women see the loss of the Allegheny and Monongahela wharves, the importance of which will be greatly enhanced by the completion of the contemplated improvements of the Ohio and Allegheny rivers tending to increase Pittsburgh's commercial prosperity by the water route to the south.

Third, the loss of a portion of Highland park by the proposed building of a station there on what is now city property, bought by the people's money.

Fourth, the city must pay the damages for the destruction of property in the Point district, the railroad declaring it will pay no damage claims.

Fifth, the railroad for its privileges offers no compensation to the city, and instead of relieving the congestion of the freight service it will be greatly increased.

Sixth, there will be less hope for the consolidation of Pittsburgh and Allegheny and the outlying district, such as the West End and other places down the Ohio, when those districts are cut off from close communication with the city itself.

Seventh, the retail shopping district will be entirely changed. With the great office buildings going up between Liberty avenue and the court house the retail dealers will be compelled to seek locations beyond Grant street. The Point is the center of the city, but the store keepers will be forced out if the railroad plans materialize.

Other strong points of objection were raised. Among the speakers were Mrs. Samuel A. Ammon, Miss Kate C. McKnight, Miss Beulah Kennard and others whose interests are those of the property holder and taxpayer.

MET IN THE DARKNESS.

Muddy Water Outfit Had a Rough Experience in the Fourteenth Ward Last Night.

Bad luck attended the machine and its attachment, the Ballot Reform, or "Muddy Water" party, at meetings held last night. The Ballot Reform meeting was held in the Soho school house. The promoters had neglected to provide for light and the meeting was held in darkness, the voters, who gave a big majority for the Citizens ticket at the February election, greatly enjoying the discomfiture of the Muddy Waterites.

The machine held a meeting in the Eleventh ward and Heber McDowell presided. It was to boom the process of organizing the Jews of the Hill district for the machine. Only a corporal's guard was present and the promoters were greatly chagrined at the little interest the meeting provoked.

An enthusiastic meeting of the Citizens party was held last night in the public school house of Patton township, near Turtle Creek.

MARRIED FIFTY YEARS.

Lafayette Massey, a Former Slave, and His Wife Are Remarried.

Lafayette Massey and his wife of Anna street, Allegheny, yesterday celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding. The festivities were held in the Sandusky Street Reformed Presbyterian church. Massey is an ex-slave and came to Allegheny in 1849, having escaped from his master at New Orleans.

On October 21, 1850, he and Mary Elizabeth Johnston of Blairsville were married. The Rev. J. W. Sproul, pastor of the Central Reformed Presbyterian church of Allegheny, a son of the Rev. Dr. Thomas Sproul, who married the couple, performed the ceremony of remarriage.

THE DAY'S HAPPENINGS.

—Moses Felt is in a critical condition from shock, caused by a fire at his home, No. 2530 Fifth avenue, yesterday morning.

—Sarah Dietrich, 2 years old, had her feet crushed by falling in front of a Southern traction car near her home in South Eighteenth street yesterday.

—At 8:30 o'clock last night a small blaze occurred in a house at No. 127 West Robinson street, Allegheny, caused by clothing catching fire in a clothes press.

—John Palmer of No. 4 Western row, Allegheny, was fined $10 yesterday by Magistrate Hannesbagen for striking Dr. M. J. Geig of No. 680 Preble avenue, with an alarm clock.

—Mrs. Ruth Ann Woodruff and three visitors at her house, No. 655 Second avenue, were locked in Central police station yesterday afternoon. It is charged that the house was disorderly.

—David Phillips, living in Liberty avenue and Pearl street, was badly bruised about the head yesterday by falling from a Bloomfield car at Thirty-fourth street and Penn avenue. He was taken to his home.

—A holiday booth constructed by Hebrews in the rear of No. 1206 Clark street, caught fire yesterday afternoon. No damage from the fire resulted, but one of the horses of No. 5 engine company hose cart fell on Vine street while going to the fire, and was badly cut about the legs.

PORTER'S WORKMEN SPEAK UP FOR HIM

Shop Committee of H. K. Porter Company Tells Why Mr. Porter Is Popular.

The shop committee of the H. K. Porter Company has issued a statement in reply to the persons who have attempted to injure H. K. Porter politically, Mr. Porter being the Citizens candidate for congress in the Thirty-first district. The statement is in the form of a resolution recently adopted at a meeting of the company's employes. The resolution says:

We, the employes of the H. K. Porter Company, in meeting assembled, do hereby freely and voluntarily denounce the authors of the malicious falsehoods and for the purpose of setting ourselves and Mr. Porter right before the voters of the Thirty-first congressional district, do set forth in detail the following truthful statement of Mr. Porter's attitude toward labor:

H. Kirke Porter has always been the friend of the workingman. For 35 years he has been a large employer of labor, and never in all those years has he had a dispute of any consequence with his men. In 1887 he introduced in his works a system of voluntary distribution, commonly known as "profit-sharing." This system remained in force for seven years or until the hard times of 1894 wiped out the profits for both manufacturer and workingman. In this time he distributed nearly $100,000 in cash among his men.

At the second distribution of profits, on February 17, 1888, the statement continues, the employes adopted a resolution thanking the firm. Of the signers of these resolutions, whose names are appended in the document, seven are still with the firm. On October 25, 1890, resolutions were adopted thanking the firm for the unsolicited installation of the nine-hour day, without any decrease in wages, and for having, with "characteristic generosity," paid the men for one hour's extra work each day for six weeks prior to the change.

The statement says that the employes of the H. K. Porter Company are receiving better wages than ever before and that no workmen in the city receive better treatment from their employers. The statement is signed by the shop committee, consisting of the following: William Benner, machinist, department No. 1; Jacob Bongartz, machinist, department No. 2; Charles H. Taylor, erecting machinist; Patrick J. Delehanty, machinist helper; Charles H. Schano, boilermaker; James A. Waugh, sheet metal worker; John A. Irwin, grinder and polisher; Thomas Stack, molder; W. J. Davis, coremaker; William H. Deer, patternmaker; Jacob Miller, carpenter; S. W. Harbison, coppersmith; James A. Skiles, blacksmith; Jacob Rhule, laborer.

POLICE OFFICIALS ARE NOW AROUSED

A Determined Effort Will Be Made to Stop Activity of the Thieves.

Police Superintendent McAleese has determined to put a stop to the regularity with which thieves have been breaking into East End residences. Instructions were given to the police yesterday to arrest every suspicious person loafing about the streets in the East End. As a result, five persons were lodged in No. 6 police station last night. The men gave as their names John Jones, Charles M. Allen, John Smith, Tona Fernando and C. E. Trysinger. None could give a satisfactory account of his business.

Pickpockets and thieves have been making it uncomfortable for residents of Pittsburgh during the last few weeks. Some 20 persons reported yesterday at the bureau of detectives that they had pocketbooks, watches and jewelry taken from them in the downtown streets.

Supt. McAleese also issued orders to arrest all suspicious persons found in downtown thoroughfares. While the robberies are committed the front office operatives are working in the downtown streets. No arrests have been made.

Most of the valuables were taken from women when leaving department stores. Other losses occurred while persons were getting on street cars. Last week a number of house robberies occurred. The police say that the house robberies are being carried on by sailors who have just left the lake trade and are passing through on their way east.

Alleged Fake Collector Arrested.

H. K. Holmes of No. 505 Union avenue, Allegheny, was arrested by Detectives William Elmore and Edward Kennelly last night on a charge of false pretense in soliciting advertisements for a local publication, on complaint of A. G. Burgoyne, P. E. Johnston and Elmer Rigdon, before Magistrate McGarey. It is alleged Holmes represented himself as a solicitor for the Scribbler and collected almost $75 for advertisements. He is 25 years old and married. He says that he came from New York.

Trying to Beat the World's Record.

With a view of breaking the world's record for a month's output of steel plate, the 128-inch mill of the Homestead steel works is running at its fullest capacity and was kept at work all last Saturday night and Sunday, something that has never occurred before. The 128-inch mill now holds the world's best record for the output of steel plate in 12 and 24 hours.

The case of Fireman Haldine Plant, who is suing the city for his salary, was heard before Alderman Groetzinger yesterday. The alderman reserved his decision until Thursday.

General Harriman Strike Threatened

OMAHA, Oct. 21.—(Special.)—Unless some definite settlement is made between the Union Pacific railroad Company and its striking workmen, the International Order of Machinists will inaugurate a general Harriman strike on November 1.

NEWS FROM THE SUBURBS.

—William Byers, a 7-year-old son of James Byers, of Turtle Creek, was run over by a beer wagon in front of his home yesterday. Both his legs were broken.

—William Beatty, a farmer of Patton township, was seriously bitten by a bulldog while at work in a field near his home yesterday. He was brought to a Pittsburgh hospital to have the wounds cauterized.

—Milton Wedrop of McDonald reported to the Carnegie police yesterday that he had been held up and robbed of his watch, a diamond stick pin and $38, Monday night, by two negroes, near the Walsall tunnel in Greenlee.

—Philip Snyder, a well known young woman of Turtle Creek, was perhaps fatally hurt by being thrown from a buggy when a horse she was driving ran away on the Greensburg pike. She rolled over a steep embankment and sustained many cuts and bruises.

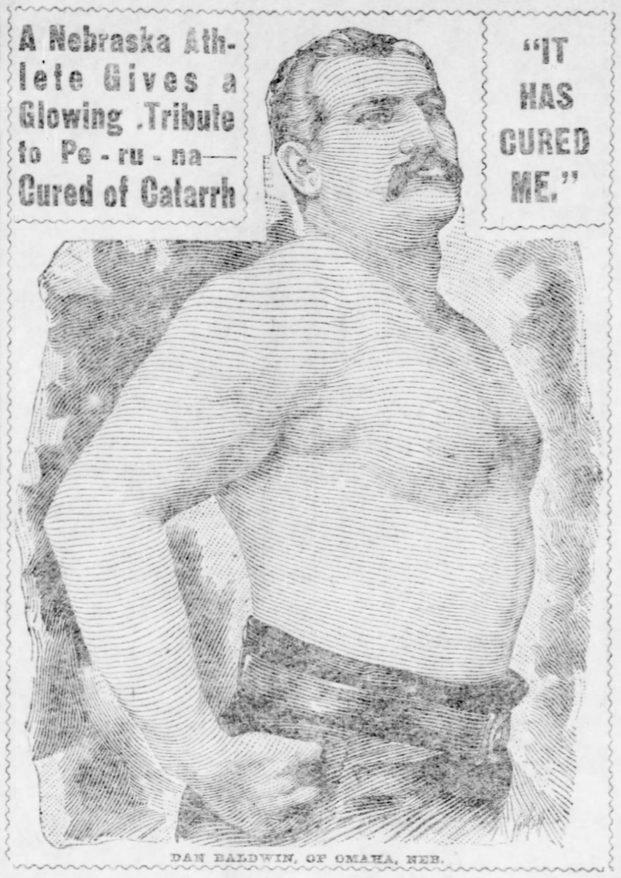
"A LASTING INVIGORATOR

Is Peruna"—So Say the Athletes.

A Nebraska Athlete Gives a Glowing Tribute to Pe-ru-na—Cured of Catarrh

"IT HAS CURED ME."



DAN BALDWIN, OF OMAHA, NEB.

A Letter From the Physical Director of the Omaha, Neb., Metropolitan Police Force.

DAN BALDWIN, of Omaha, Neb., is a wrestler of national as well as local reputation. He is Physical Director of the Omaha Metropolitan Police Force, and is considered the strongest man in the state of Nebraska. But even the finest physique and best trained muscles cannot protect a man from disease. Mr. Baldwin suffered with catarrh. Instead of waiting for the ravages of catarrh to extend through his system, destroying that magnificent strength, at its first approach he took Peruna. He did not first try snuffs, inhalers, and other kinds of local treatment, but used Peruna, the only internal systemic catarrh remedy. In a short time he was able to write the following letter to the Peruna Medicine Co., of Columbus, Ohio:

Omaha, Neb., Oct. 25, 1900.

"I take great pleasure in recommending Peruna, your valuable remedy for catarrh. It has cured me with the use of three bottles, and I can cheerfully recommend it to anyone suffering with the same disease."—Officer Dan Baldwin, Central Police Station.

The muscles depend upon the nerve centers for their strength. The nerve centers become exhausted and weak. With weak nerve centers, the muscles become flabby and no amount of training can develop them. Thus it is that strong muscles depend upon healthy nerve centers. Healthy nerve centers depend upon good digestion. Good digestion depends upon clean mucous membranes, free from catarrh.

No man troubled with internal catarrh can ever become an athlete.

Peruna is not a flashy, quick-acting stimulus. It is a slow, sure, natural invigorator. A course of Peruna is as sure to bring a renewal of vital powers as the springtime is to bring buds and blossoms.

Catarrh destroys the appetite, weakens the digestive powers, depletes the nerve centers and the whole human system sympathizes. Complete physical demoralization follows. Life becomes a burden and a bore.

Mr. Geo. Winzenreid, 1204 Bailey avenue, Buffalo, N. Y., is a well-known athlete and heavy lifter. In a recent letter to The Peruna Medicine Co., he says:

"Peruna is all right. I know it, for I have tried it now for three years and as long as I can get Peruna I shall need no doctors or medicine. Three winters ago after a severe contest, I became overheated and somehow caught cold, which developed into a catarrhal condition of the head. Fortunately for me, my attention was called to Peruna, and I took it at once, with the result that within a week I was all right once more. Since then if I ever feel at all dull or worn out, a few doses will set me up and make me feel all right, and I feel that it is a fine strengthening tonic."—Geo. Winzenreid.

Athletes use Peruna, not as a temporary stimulus to tide them over some ordeal or sudden emergency, but as a lasting invigoration. It is a tonic that reaches the cause of all weakness, the organs of nutrition.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

SUFFERED TWENTY YEARS WITH ECZEMA—

Then Zema-Cura Completely Cured G. F. Brown of "This Miserable, Harrowing, Racking Plague."

G. F. Brown is a well-known employe of the Navy Yard, at Washington, D. C. Mr. Brown suffered horribly with Eczema for twenty years and was cured by Dr. Harris' Zema-Cura. Every Eczema sufferer in the world should read this letter from Mr. Brown—it tells the whole story in his own language:

"Dear Dr. Harris: Inasmuch as I have found relief through the use of Zema-Cura, I deem it not only a duty, but a great pleasure to say to all who may be sufferers from the "eczema" plague that I can and do, with all honesty and candor, recommend it as a most wonderfully soothing and peace-giving remedy for eczema. I speak from experience, having been a sufferer for twenty years with this miserable, harrowing, racking plague, eczema. Physicians and physicians' remedies have not only failed to give me relief and comfort, but did not check in any degree the progress of the disease.

I have been going from bad to worse for twenty years, until, through an acquaintance, I was persuaded to use Zema-Cura, after using one bottle the result was marvelous in reducing swelling, and checking the weeping, besides giving me immediate relief. At this time, being confined to my bed, I sent for Dr. Harris, my condition being horrible and pitiful. Dr. Harris pronounced my case the worst that she had ever seen, but assured me that Zema-Cura would cure me. Upon further assurance that there was nothing contained in Zema-Cura that could possibly result in any injury, no matter how much I might use it, I commenced bathing my legs in Zema-Cura and kept them saturated day and night. In less than two weeks I was out of bed, and able to wear my clothes and resume my work. I am now entirely well and have no racking nor unpleasant sensations which accompany eczema. The skin on my legs has assumed its normal condition and natural color. Can anything be more conclusive than the? Sufferers from eczema should use Zema-Cura and use plenty of it. Don't be afraid. It won't hurt you. The more you use, the better the results you get and the sooner you get them. This is my experience. I am very glad to say that in less than four months I have been cured of eczema which I have had for twenty years."—G. F. BROWN, 606 North Carolina Avenue, Washington, D. C.

ZEMA-CURA is a liquid, applied externally. It has none of the disagreeable features of a salve or ointment. It is the only CURE of skin diseases yet discovered. Zema-Cura will positively cure Eczema, Acne, Heat, Herpes, Lupus, Erysipelas, Urticaria (Nettle Rash), Barber's Itch, Mosquito Bites, Blackheads, Hives, Burns, Cuts, or any itching condition of the skin or scalp. All good druggists sell it. 50 cents and $1.00.

If you will write to-day Dr. Harris will advise you fully and carefully regarding your case, and charge you absolutely nothing.

OHIO CODE BILL BECOMES A LAW

Dramatic Scenes Attended Its Passage in Both Branches.

CHIEF POINTS IN ACT

Boards Will Control Public Works, Fire, Police, Health and Libraries—Mayor's Power Is Generally Supervisory.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Columbus, O., Oct. 21.—After a session of nine weeks, the general assembly late this afternoon passed the municipal code bill by an almost strict party vote. The scenes attending its passage in both house and senate were dramatic.

In the upper body it came very near failing. Four Republican senators voted against it and caused it to fall short of the number of votes to insure its enactment. Before the vote was announced, however, two of them changed and saved the bill.

In the house, the Republicans decided that they would not speak on the measure or reply to Democratic speeches. Time was given to three of the Democrats to speak. They put in their time denouncing the leaders of the dominant party and flinging taunts at the three Democrats who had left their party on this issue. They became so personal and violent that the presiding officer was compelled to call them to order. The measure passed by 63 to 25. Three Democrats voted for it and all the Republicans.

This completes the work for which the general assembly was called together on August 25. The other purpose was for the repeal of a measure which took almost all jurisdiction away from the supreme court and caused almost a complete stoppage of the legal machinery. This mistake was rectified today and the legislature will adjourn sine die tomorrow morning.

Government of Cities.

In the new code for the government of cities and villages of Ohio, the line of demarkation between the two classes of municipalities is placed at 5,000. This will make 72 cities and a few over 1,500 villages in the state. The largest city is Cleveland, with a population of 381,768, and the smallest Nelsonville, Athens county, with 5,442 people.

The elective offices of each city are mayor, president of council, members of the board of public service, auditor, treasurer, solicitor and councilmen. The mayor is to be elected for two years, has general supervision over the affairs of the city, is the titular head of the departments of fire and police, makes all appointments except those under the board of public service, has the veto power, may require reports from subordinates, may call the heads of the departments to meet with him at any time, make up the annual budget for council and may remove any officer or employe from his position for bribery, misconduct, malfeasance, or nonfeasance. The trial of charges is to be by council. The mayor, for misconduct in office, gross neglect of duty, bribery, gross immorality or habitual drunkenness, may be removed by the governor after a hearing on charges presented in writing.

The president of council is elected for two years. He presides over council, but has no vote except in case of a tie. When the mayor is absent or unable to perform his duties the president of the council becomes mayor and in case of the death, resignation or removal of the mayor the president of council succeeds for the unexpired term.

The auditor is the only official elected for three years. The treasurer is elected for two years, as is the solicitor. The solicitor is to be prosecutor of the police court.

The board of public service is the principal administrative body of the city. It is to be composed of three or five members, as the council may determine, who are to be elected for two years. It has charge of all public works, public utilities, public improvements and power to make contracts. It fixes the number and compensation of all its employes and council has no check upon it except that of the appropriations. It has the sole power of removal of men under it subject only to the general supervision of the mayor.

Police and Fire Departments.

The board of public safety is to be composed of either two or four members, as council may determine. It is bi-partisan, its members appointed for four years by the mayor subject to confirmation by a two-thirds vote of council. If the mayor and council cannot agree on the appointments within 30 days the governor is to appoint. It is the contracting board for the departments of fire and police, and makes the rules and regulations which govern these departments. It has not the power of appointment or removal of any man under it, as this power is given to the mayor, subject to the restrictions placed upon him by the board acting as a merit system commission.

The chiefs of police and fire, to be appointed by the mayor from the classified list in the civil service, are the executive heads of their departments, have the sole power of stationing and transfering men, but are subject to general supervision by the mayor.

The board of public safety is the board of merit commissioners in each city. All present appointees in fire and police departments hold over and can only be removed for cause. These merit commissioners hold examinations for positions in these departments and the names for appointments are certified by them to the mayor, who has a list of three to choose from for each position. The regulations regarding political assessments and contributions are very stringent and the giving or soliciting money for political purposes is cause for removal. For violation of any of the provisions of the merit system, fines of from $50 to $1,000, or imprisonment not exceeding six months are provided.

Health, Taxation and Libaries.

Each city will have a board of health of five members, appointed by the mayor and confirmed by council. The provisions governing these new boards of health are identical with those now in force except that far more authority is given to the state board to supervise the acts of local boards.

Each municipality will have a tax commission, which will also be the board of sinking fund trustees. The commission is to be bi-partisan, of four members appointed by the mayor. Council, by a two-thirds vote, can override the action of the tax commission in the levies for the city.

The boards in charge of public libraries will be bi-partisan, of six members, appointed by the mayor. These boards have full control and management of libraries subject to no other body or board.

The city councils will be cut down in membership. The minimum number in any city is seven, four of whom are elected by wards and three at large. For the first 25,000 above the original 5,000, two additional councilmen shall be elected by wards, and for each 15,000 above the 25,000, one additional councilman shall be elected. Wherever the number of councilmen is 15 or more, one-fifth of them shall be elected at large. The council is to be a continuous body, one-half its membership going out each year. The salaries of the councilmen are the only ones upon which the code places a limit. Members of council shall be paid not to exceed $150 per annum in cities of 25,000 and under, and for each additional 30,000 population shall be paid an additional $50 per year, but in no case shall the salary exceed $1,200 per year.

Powers of City Councils.

The general powers of council are almost as provided in the old statutes. Some new powers, such as regulation of brokers and scalpers in theatrical and other tickets to places of amusement, to regulate speed of automobiles, to regulate the erection of bill boards, make sanitary inspections of tenements, provide for free public bath houses, free public band concerts and others, have been added.

Council fixes the number and compensation of all city employes except those under the board of public service. It makes all tax levies and appropriations. Its acts are subject to the approval of the mayor, but his veto can be overridden by a vote of two-thirds of all members elected.

Councils now in office have important duties to perform. On or before January 1, 1903, they must redistrict their cities in conformity with the new code. If for any reason councils fail to do so, the common pleas judges of the subdivision in which such city is situate, shall apportion the wards.

The present councils fix the number and compensation of the members of the boards of public service, the number and compensation of the members of the boards of public safety and the compensation of the councilmen to be elected.

Democrats Acted Ugly.

Owing to the refusal of the Democratic senators and representatives to vote for the judicial sections of the code, the general assembly has been unable to revise the police laws. Under the Ohio constitution it requires two-thirds of all members elected to the legislature to pass a bill affecting the judiciary.

Three methods of tax assessment are provided. By tax valuation, by front footage and by benefits. In no case shall any assessment be in excess of benefits conferred or more than 33 per cent of the valuation of the property. The aggregate of taxes levied by any municipality, exclusive of those for state, county, school, school house, free public library, library building, university and observatory, sinking fund and interest, shall not exceed 10 mills in each dollar of taxable property unless approved by a three-fourths vote of council and three-fourths of all the electors of the municipality.

All elective officers under the new code are to be elected on the first Monday in April, 1903, and take their seats on the first Monday in May. All officers to be appointed must be appointed not earlier than the second Monday in May, or later than the first Monday in June.

The village code is simple and almost identical with that in force hitherto. Council is the supreme governing body and a board of three trustees is provided for villages which have public utilities. The new code is a board plan, pure and simple, and the advocates of the federal and single heads of departments system are prophesying its failure.

EMSWORTH BOY AND GIRL ARE MARRIED.

The parents of Florence Ellis, a 14-year-old girl of Emsworth, were surprised yesterday when their daughter returned home and presented Nelson O'Neil, 16 years old, as her husband. Although the girl's marriage was unlocked for, she and her husband got a warm welcome. The girl left home two weeks ago to visit an aunt in Steubenville, and while there married O'Neil, whom she had previously met.

NATIONAL MOVEMENT AGAINST THE MILITIA

Socialists and Labor-Unionists Everywhere Ordered to Leave the National Guard.

BOSTON, Oct. 21.—Socialist and labor unionists have ordered all members of those organizations who are connected with the state militia to withdraw or be expelled. In nearly every case the men are leaving the militia bodily. In the manufacturing towns especially has the militia been depleted.

The national organizations are heading the movement, and the matter will be followed closely in every state in the union.

The leaders declare that the chief function of the American state volunteer militia is to defend employers' property in time of strikes, with guns trained upon the laborers. In this city the resignations have been so frequent that two companies will disband, and in Brockton, Fall River and other cities there is barely a corporal guard left. The Taunton company is disbanding. There are expensive armories in nearly every city.

Last Week's Death Record.

There were 130 deaths in Pittsburgh last week, the principal causes being: smallpox 3, diphtheria 4, typhoid fever 8, pneumonia 20, consumption 7, violence 21. During the week there were reported 19 cases of smallpox, 31 of typhoid fever, 10 of scarlet fever and 22 of diphtheria.

Attorney John P. Hunter, who filed exceptions against the entire Citizens party ticket yesterday, asked in court that the exceptions be dismissed. The court made an order to that effect.

NEW CEMENT COMPANY.

Pittsburgh Men Form a Corporation to Build a Large Plant Near Apollo.

The Apollo Cement Manufacturing company has been formed by Pittsburgh capitalists. Armin Schotte, a civil engineer, with offices in the Hermann building, Fourth avenue, is the founder of the concern and president pro tem. The secretary and treasurer is K. J. Hendricks, a manufacturer. Back of these men are capitalists and business men whose names Mr. Schotte is not ready at present to divulge.

The company was granted a charter in New Jersey about two months ago, but the details are only now made public. The company's capital stock is $500,000 par value $50. All have been subscribed. About one mile above Apollo the company has purchased 200 acres, with excellent clay and limestone quarries. The citizens of Apollo raised a bonus of $15,000. Work on the foundations will hardly be started before next spring. The plant will cost about $250,000, and will require nine months for its completion. It will have a daily output of 1,000 barrels of the finest Portland cement.

Mr. Schotte has had long experience in the cement business. The nearest cement plant to Pittsburgh is the small one at Wampum. The demand for cement is now fully 50 per cent per day greater than the supply. This is the second cement concern recently organized in Pittsburgh, the International Cement company, with a capital of $1,000,000, having been perfected during this month. The latter proposes to manufacture its cement from the slag of the Clairton furnaces.

CORPORATION TURNED DOWN.

McKees Rocks Council Refuses to Allow Street Torn Up.

McKees Rocks council last night refused the request of the Philadelphia Company for a permit to open Chartiers avenue. The Philadelphia Company claims that the gas line under the thoroughfare is unsafe, and may blow up.

Council objected to having the main street torn up during the winter, but consented to give the permit if the Philadelphia Company would repave the street from the car track to the curb. This the Philadelphia Company refused to do, in the event of their continued refusal the borough solicitor was instructed to have an injunction issued on November 1 compelling the company to abandon the dangerous line.

Fired on the Chauffeur.

Constable Andrew Johnston of Avalon resorted to rather dangerous tactics yesterday morning in trying to stop the driver of an automobile who was speeding through the town at a rate that was in violation of a borough ordinance. Burgess Longmore and Constable Johnston saw the machine coming, and, going into the street, endeavored to have the driver stop. But the latter only sped past them smiling. After he had passed Constable Johnston fired two shots, neither of which took effect.

Contract for the Ballots.

The county commissioners have awarded the contract for printing 422,643 ballots to the Pittsburgh Printing Company for $2,775.56. There was only one other bid, that of Pierpont, Siviter & Co. for $6,600. The printing consists of 307,377 official ballots, 76,844 specimen ballots, 30,738 official reserve ballots and 7,684 specimen reserve ballots.

NO DRUGS.

Just Proper Food and Rest.

The regular user of drugs to relieve pain is on the wrong track. Find the cause and remedy it by proper food and quit drugs for temporary relief or you will never get well.

A minister's wife writes: "Three years ago, while living at Rochester, N. Y., where my husband was pastor of one of the city churches, I was greatly reduced from nervous prostration and anaemia and was compelled to go to a well-known eastern santarium for my health. My stomach was in bad shape from badly selected food; I was an habitual user of carbonate of magnesia and my physicians made every endeavor to break up this most damaging habit, but all to no purpose.

"At the santarium I was given Grape-Nuts and learned the value of the food. I used it continuously, eating it at nearly every meal and my recovery was rapid. Its use enabled me to eat and digest food and to give up the drug habit and I am now completely restored to good health.

"At the present time I am able to attend to my household and family duties, pursue music which was formerly my profession, besides reading and studying, all of which I was totally unable to do at the time referred to." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Fakes in Advertising Medicines.

Nowhere is the public more at sea than where advertised medicines which promise to do wonders are brought to notice in bold type, and this in every newspaper of our land. These advertisements read so plausible and have such convincing arguments that not until after the fake is purchased and given trial does the patient realize that he has been duped. This is the experience of almost everyone, although, like honest people, there are some legitimate and worthy remedies offered in good faith and which rely upon their merits to prove their worth, and when given fair trial are not found wanting. To this latter and small class belongs Pretzinger's Catarrh Balm, which patients will find a welcome exception to everything they have used or tried for Catarrh, and so certain are manufacturers of the efficacy of this remedy that they not only invite the most severe tests as to efficiency and curative properties, but will send a free sample of the Balm, which will prove its worth, upon receipt of a 2c stamp to pay postage. Address Pretzinger Bros., Chemists, Dayton, Ohio.

FOURTEEN PAGES.

The reports of dissatisfaction and opposition among the mine workers were shown by the action of the miners' convention to have been absurdly magnified. The settlement negotiated by President Roosevelt was accepted without a dissenting vote, and the miners return to work in a body Thursday morning. It is now up to the railroads to show what they can do to bring to market sufficient supplies of coal for winter consumption. There is no doubt that the production will be as fast and as large as cars can be run into the mines to take out the coal. The mine operators have been saying that they could get to market all the coal needed if they could get it out of the mines. Now let them make good their words.

Harper's Weekly, which raised the siege of Roosevelt it had laid out on the lines of his trust-control policy, thought it saw a favorable opening in his strike intervention to make an effective crack at him. In an elaborate article it took the position that the president had no right to intermeddle and that his action would have mischievous consequences. But it so happened that just as its issue appeared in which it deplored "the mistaken impression that he is clothed with any responsibility or power in the premises," the news came that the president's assumpton of responsibility and exercise of power in the premises had brought about terms of settlement. Thus editorial logic was squashed by the impact of solid fact. But the logic was not sound, even if it had escaped practical confutation. The president, as the chief magistrate of the nation, is subject to a general responsibility for the public welfare. When the area of disturbance became so extensive as that produced by the coal strike his intervention had abundant constitutional warrant, and such is the weight and influence of his office that its considerate action is always clothed with power, as the coal operators soon found out.

When the Hon. John Dalzell makes a speech he says something worth remembering and gives advice that is good to follow. When he spoke on Monday night at Meadville his speech was no exception to the rule. "When you have an honest platform, such as the Republican platform is," said he, "and an honest man like Judge Pennypacker, there is an appeal to the loyalty of every honest and patriotic Republican in Pennsylvania." And so there is. The platform is a strong one and the candidate does not belie it. He fulfills in his own person all its promises for good government. A strong man, of unimpeachable character, he will make an ideal governor. In his speech of the same day the candidate on the Democratic ticket for lieutenant governor arraigned the legislature and the Democratic candidate for governor spoke on the rights of the citizen. With Pennypacker as governor the rights of the citizen will be fully protected and legislation that is not for the public good will have small chance of escaping his condemnation. To high character he adds the judicial mind, trained to analyze the laws and carefully weigh the evidence. Bills that pass the legislature will be tested on the judicial crucible and the arguments pro and con weighed in the judicial balance. Those that are approved will be approved because they are found good. The honest platform that Mr. Dalzell speaks of was framed for an honest man, and both meet all the requirements of the people.

Congressman Dalzell is always in demand as a campaign speaker. He has helped to turn the tide for Republican victory in doubtful campaigns in many states, and has been devoting himself for several weeks of the present campaign to spreading the Republican gospel in regions beyond the borders of Pennsylvania. He now comes into his own state with inspiration and cheer. Republican prospects he finds to be good elsewhere, but nowhere better than in Pennsylvania. "While I bring to you good tidings from all of them," he says, speaking of conditions in the other states where he has spoken and observed, "I can say that I have nowhere found the same enthusiasm and loyalty to the Republican party that I find in my own good state." This is as it should be. Pennsylvania is famous for pointing the way to national victory. A Republican victory in Pennsylvania in a gubernatorial year is taken by the nation as the first note in the hymn of Republican triumph for the presidential year that comes later. With candidate and platform what they are there is abundant reason for enthusiasm and loyalty to the Republican party, whose best impulses are given direction by them.

The Republican nominee for governor typifies the best sentiment of the state and can be depended on to maintain undimmed the luster of a commonwealth whose history and achievements he is proud of. As a historian he delighted to portray and dwell on all that is noblest in the record of its people. As the administrator of their affairs he will delight to add to the record. His thoughts and sentiments are elevated; his aspirations are toward greater heights of public and private excellence. As a judge in commission his judgments were impartial. Nothing weighed heavier than the evidence submitted to him. Justice was administered in his court and he was honored for his strict and unswerving integrity. He was such a judge as bench and bar are proud of and the people had confidence in his decrees. Because of all these things he was chosen by the Republican state convention for the high office of governor. "Pennsylvania is a Republican state," as Mr. Dalzell said, "and, therefore, must have a Republican governor." And with "an honest platform, such as the Republican platform is, and an honest man like Judge Pennypacker," it will have a Republican governor whose candidacy is not founded on a desire for personal advancement, but on a determination to serve the people who have drafted him into service.

The chronic state of revolution in Venezuela and Colombia is hard for us to understand. One gathers the impression that the people must be in love with fighting and disorder, and yet those countries have a varnish of civilization and the educated classes show as keen an appreciation of culture and refinement as like classes in the United States or in Europe. The explanation of the case is that commercial influences are not strong enough to hold political rivalry in check. The government in office always controls the machinery of election and returns its own candidates, so the way for political ambition to rise is to start a revolution. A political leader having money enough to get arms can also get a following by threats and promises. The people may not know what they are fighting about, but it promises adventure that is a diversion in the lazy life of the tropics, and they are not in the habit of questioning authority which has actual force to show as its credentials. In this country a politician cheated out of an election would not dare to resort to arms, for he knows the whole community would rise against him, including even those who might sympathize with his grievance. Commercial interests are above political interests, and hence set bounds to the range of political strife. As commercial influences penetrate a country and condition the activities of the mass of the people, the revolutionary habit declines. It is now pretty nearly extinct in Mexico, where once it was the rage. The reason is that so much capital has gone into Mexico and people of influence are so generally interested in business enterprises that they will not tolerate disorder. There isn't much of a republic in Mexico, except the name, but there is orderly government, and the Caesarism which secures it indicates the type of government which will eventually terminate the revolutionary period in all Spanish-American countries.

THE COUNTY CAMPAIGN.

The campaign literature which is being poured out in aid of the ring ticket contains a lot of figures about tax levies and expenditures, with the purpose of showing that exactions have been moderate and the money has not been stolen. All this is quite beside the mark. It has not been charged that there has been dishonesty where it will show or that the principal of sums collected from the taxpayers has not been fairly accounted for. Even moderation in the taxes might be conceded for the sake of the argument, although the claim would not stand close analysis. Even if taxes had been abolished complaint would still hold good. There are men who could take over county resources and without making any direct charge for their services make big money out of the job. In fact for years past the real administration of affairs in Pittsburgh and Allegheny county has been in the hands of men who were not on the payroll themselves, but used that for their henchmen, while they derived their compensation from the control of legislation and the usufruct of public resources.

It is against this system that there is an uprising of the people, and it is a sorry argument to put forth in its defense that those carrying on the routine of administration are not tapping the till. If put forth in defense of any business administration it would be hooted at. Ordinary probity is assumed as the attribute of any administration; the main test is the business results, and these in county affairs bear everywhere the mark of the sloven inefficiency which accumulates in any administration when its duties become merely nominal and perfunctory.

The reason of this is well known. The public offices for many years have been the barracks of a ring which has made a business of handling public trusts for private profit. The management of public interests has been subordinated to private interests, and all public undertakings have been officered and managed with ring control as the main consideration. Even under such depressing conditions individual energy and probity asserts itself and it would be unfair to lay a ban of promiscuous condemnation upon the entire body of office holders, but the general tone of the service is slack and inert if not positively corrupt. The Flinn road law has been carried out in a way that makes it more serviceable to the contractors than to the public, and it is not unfair to conclude that Highland park reservoir methods extend also to county contracts, and that inspection must be of a mild and complaisant type in order to avoid trouble with the powers that be. Throughout the public service is this taint of ring control, subordinating all transactions to the influences which farm the public resources for all that can be made out of them without collision with the statute law.

There was a time when the organization control was inspired by broad policy and progressive ideas, so that while fortunes were accumulated in the business of political management, public interests were incidentally promoted. Pittsburgh certainly owes much to political activities of this sort, but they have departed, and have been succeeded by a regime of petty chicanery, incapable either of good party management or tolerable administration of public affairs. Unable to win and hold power by evidence of capacity, the ring now seeks to gain it by deals and bargains based upon compositions of personal interest. Candidates are not really nominated, but are ring appointees, and the party machinery derives its force from a motor at Harrisburg instead of the forces of party opinion in Allegheny county. An organization so discredited and abject is naturally disposed to confederate itself with every source of influence however vile which may keep it against the storm of public indignation. The thieves' harbor in Allegheny city, which Josiah Flynt exposed in The Gazette, the operations of graft syndicates, the stuffing of the jury wheel are all symptoms of the same general corruption pervading ring control of Allegheny county politics. It is against this condition of things that the Citizens' movement is aimed, and while we do not commit ourselves to approval of all its acts and methods, we do recognize the fact that the complete overthrow of the ring is a necessary preliminary to any improvement in the management of public affairs or any betterment in political conditions.

GROWTH OF PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

In conjunction with the recent utterances of President Eliot of Harvard declaring that public education in the United States has failed to accomplish the ends sought for in its establishment, the annual report of the commissioner of education is interesting. The grand total of pupils in schools, elementary, secondary and higher, both public and private in the United States for the year ended June 30, 1901, was 17,399,230. These figures represent an increase of 273,520 pupils over the preceding year, showing that whether or not public education is accomplishing its purpose in all directions it is widening its influence. The report further shows that the value of property used for school purposes has risen from $130,380,008 20 years ago to $376,963,089 in the year 1901. This does not include buildings erected for higher education, but covers only common and elementary school property. In 1870 the expenditure for school per capita of the population was $1 64; the last year it was $2 93 per capita, the highest it has ever been in the United States, and shows an increase of 10 cents to each man, woman and child over the previous year.

Attendance also shares in the general increase of betterments in the progress and growth of public education as shown by this report. The average attendance of each pupil for the entire number enrolled was 99 days for the year, an increase of 24 days over the previous year.

It will thus be seen that what is popularly called "free education" in the United States is in a remarkable healthy and prosperous condition. It is widening the circle of its influence, increasing the scope of its operations and holding more steadily and continuously in line the people who depend upon it for all the education that in a majority of instances they will ever obtain. In view of this showing it would seem idle to put forward the claim of failure for public education, and we do not suppose President Eliot had this phase of the subject in mind. His knowledge of the practical value of public education, and with the constantly increasing evidence before his eyes of its growing popular favor, as witnessed in the report from which we have just quoted and seen in the disposition of the states to enact compulsory education laws, would convince him of the folly of opposing free education as a national safeguard and an institution of great general usefulness. It is rather the lack of thoroughness against which the president of Harvard directs his criticism, and it must be confessed that in this particular the position of President Eliot has justification. The trouble with our public system of education is that in attempting to do too many things it does not do any one thing thoroughly. The evil is a growing one and must be checked if the public schools are to continue to accomplish the purposes for which they were established.

By reducing the ordinary public school curriculum to include only the elementary branches of education and having these thoroughly grounded the schools will treble their power for good.

AN ERA OF EXPANSION.

In the acquisition of a large area of ore lands in the Mesabi region by the Shenango Furnace Company there is an indication of the greater future of Pittsburgh and the trend of industrial operations. Not long ago the Union Steel Company made a large purchase of ore and a line of carrying steamers on the lakes. The Jones & Laughlin company has followed heavy purchases of ore lands with plans for a railroad to Lake Erie. These various operations involve the largest concerns in the iron and steel business outside the United States Steel Corporation. Taken together they demonstrate that the independent producers are taking advantage of every factor that contributes to the economy in production of the big combination and that they are preparing themselves for wholly independent existence.

If final proof had been wanting that Pittsburgh is to remain the center of iron and steel production these enterprises would afford it. They are projected by men who are thoroughly informed upon the advantages of various localities for manufacturing purposes and their choice, as well as that of the United States Steel Corporation, is Pittsburgh. There is no longer any question about it being cheaper to bring the ore to the fuel than to take the fuel to the ore, and Pittsburgh is the natural point of assemblage for the richest fuel deposit in the whole world.

Two new railroad connections with Lake Erie—the Wabash and Jones & Laughlin—will add enormously to the facilities for handling Pittsburgh tonnage, but almost before they are completed that tonnage will have grown to tax them in addition to the lines already in the field. So much for the inshipment of ore and the outgoing product for the west and northwest. But the present point of most serious congestion is in the coke fields. The Wabash is aiming at that and together with the improvements on the Pennsylvania, Baltimore & Ohio and Pittsburgh & Lake Erie should afford the needed relief. When all these transportation facilities are provided, then indeed Pittsburgh may come into its own. Its millions of tons of freight and its three-quarters of a million of population will be speedily doubled. It is high time that street accommodations and transit facilities were being expanded to meet the necessities of the case, and it is time practical steps were being taken to consolidate this great community into one municipality. Pittsburgh business men are wide awake to their opportunities. Pittsburgh publicists and citizens must rise to an appreciation of their part in the expansion that is inevitable.

The country at large will owe presiding Judge Lambert of the supreme court of New York a debt of gratitude if he shall adhere to the program evidently mapped out by him in the retrial of the celebrated Molineux murder case. That the court is determined to facilitate by every means within its power the trial of the case is already evident. It also intends to keep the sensationalism well within the lines of decency and order. Public trials of criminal cases have in many instances grown to be hurtful sources of moral contagion, and no where more than in New York. The recklessness of the legal fraternity in its effort to hurt or help one side or the other of the case has contributed largely to the creation of this disgraceful condition. The effective remedy in every instance lies within the power of the presiding justice, and the developments of the past two days in the Molineux case are sufficient demonstration that Justice Lambert proposes to use that remedy firmly, and effectively.

Anything tending to reduce the disorderliness that frequently marks the celebration of Halloween should be received with favor. There is no ground of complaint against a merry and appropriate indulgence in the festivities the occasion suggests, but the wanton destruction of property; the invasion of the rights of others by those who make it an excuse for ruffianism should be sternly discouraged. The general fun and temporary cessation of some of the conventional restraints of public conduct do not license rowdyism.

Emperor William does not lose a single opportunity to make us feel his friendliness. Only the other day he came to our rescue in the matter of the pronunciation of a distinguished American name. The kaiser declares that Roosevelt is a Dutch name and should, therefore, be pronounced according to the Dutch idiom, the sounding of every letter. According to this authority the name should be pronounced Ros-e-felt, not Ruse-velt.

Once more the German reichstag has defeated the government's tariff propositions. Obviously the German government and the German electoral power are not in sympathy. This deadlock is one of the disadvantages of having an imperial government and a democratic legislature in the same country. Germany needs to be either more or less democratic and is not likely to surrender any popular powers to imperialism.

Candidate Guthrie now objects to the adjudication of state ballot law cases in the Dauphin county courts. It is an idle objection. 'Twere better to abandon the complicated ballot law proposals of Mr. Guthrie and his school of reformers and adopt a simple system of nominating and electing candidates that will enable the voters to decide all matters for themselves.

With a row in the German reichstag and a regular war dance in the British parliament the world is reminded that the legislative mills have begun to grind.

SIAMESE PRINCE VICTIM OF CUPID

Gossips Say He Has Succumbed to the Charms of a Philadelphia Girl.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square.
NEW YORK, Oct. 21.

With the radiance of a possible love affair with an American girl pervading him, the crown prince of Siam got back to New York today. He is an exceedingly up-to-date young man, even though he does look different from most of the chappies one meets along Broadway after dinner. As to the love affair, that is only gossip. Still, the gossip is persistent enough to set people wondering whether the handsome young Philadelphia girl in whom the prince evidently is interested reciprocates his liking. It would be a charming thing to have a Philadelphia belle the queen of Siam in course of time, wouldn't it? That is a private matter between Chowfa and the lady, however. What concerns New York is that the crown prince has come back to the metropolis for a good time, and that his American mentors intend to let him have it. He is at the Waldorf-Astoria tonight, and the white elephant of Siam was over the building on a handsome flag. There is no set program for this evening, and he is enjoying himself in an easy-going manner that, perhaps, is none the less spicy on that account. He is under the tutelage of Herbert H. D. Peirce, third assistant secretary of state; Col. David E. Sickels, former consul general of the United States at Bangkok, who is the representative of President Roosevelt in entertaining the distinguished guest, and Edwin Morgan, secretary to Mr. Peirce. The crown prince and party arrived in New York at 2:30 this afternoon from Philadelphia and were invisible for several hours, presumably resting. They appeared in the evening and the most noted figure in "Peacock lane" was the prince. He wore ordinary evening clothes and looked like any other young man of dark complexion and somewhat diminutive size. He seemed to like the passing show of gorgeously-dressed femininity, for which the Waldorf corridors are famous in the evening, and he was genially democratic in his manner with everyone introduced to him. It is a safe prediction that the prince will be as popular as Doris himself.

Woman Captures the Dog Show.

There was a large attendance at the opening of the dog show in Madison Square garden today. Mrs. Howard Gould and Mrs. Richard Harding Davis are two well-known women who have fine specimens at the show. Among the costly dogs is an old English sheep dog, Bilton Bob, valued at $5,000. Somehow the dog show seems to be more attractive, even to women, than the woman's exhibition of last week. Perhaps women resent having an exhibition excelfevoir for themselves because it argues that they must not take part in men's amusements. Still, the present dog show is engineered by ladies, and all those entering dogs for exhibition are of the gentler sex, too. Whatever may be the line of argument to be accepted, it cannot be denied that there is more life in the garden this week than last, although perhaps not so many people.

Job Work Valet a Cheap Luxury.

The finicky young Broadwayite who insists that his wearing apparel shall be always "just so," can have a Japanese valet at his command for as low a fee as 25 cents. I do not mean that he can hire an exclusive "man" at that rate. Even for Japanese service that would be rather too much to expect. But for the inconsiderable sum of a quarter of a dollar he can have a gentlemanly young Jap come to his apartments, whisk away with a pair of trousers and return them in less than an hour, sponged, pressed and repaired, if there should have been any little fraying or other damage requiring attention. For this the chappie pays 25 cents, having had all the work done before he was out of bed if he chose. The arrangement is a new one. A Japanese tailor has opened a place of business for this service about a block from the Waldorf-Astoria and is doing well. It is considered the swagger thing to have your clothes kept in order by him. For $2 a week he will send to your room twice a week for two suits of clothes, or one suit and one overcoat, to be cleaned, pressed, mended and returned the same day. Who shall say this is not a luxurious city in a luxurious age?

Frohman's Big Musical Enterprise.

Daniel Frohman is going extensively into the concert and musical virtuoso business this season. He will give the first of a series of Sunday concerts at the Metropolitan opera house on Sunday week, November 2, with Ossip Gabrilowitsch, the pianist, among his soloists, and Walter Damrosch and his 70 players as a regular feature. Pittsburgh's interest in Gabrilowitsch is strengthened by the fact that he will play in Carnegie Music hall in that city, with Victor Herbert and his Pittsburgh orchestra on November 14 and 15.

Butler Boys' Achievements.

Those two Butler boys who came to New York and lived on the fat of the land at good hotels, with plenty of metropolitan amusements in addition, for more than a week, and all on $23, are merely illustrations of Western Pennsylvania hustling gone a little askew. They are bright looking lads, and it appears, so far, that their unfortunate career in New York has been the result of a strong desire to see the world rather than anything else. It is supposed now that they are the young men who managed to get two overcoats for nothing at a Broadway hotel, by slipping out of an unsuspected door, the details of which were told in this column yesterday.

Strike Ends With Warm Sunshine.

Many persons in this city seem to feel themselves downright aggrieved because the coal strike has come to an end simultaneously with the advent of a period of beautiful weather. What is the use of being able to get coal when the temperature is so high that one thinks rather of a fan than a fireside corner? If there had been a wind-up of the strike early last week, when there was a touch of frost in the air, especially in the morning and evening, there might have been some sense in the strike being settled. As it is, who cares? Coal dealers who depend on selling a lot of their $15-a-ton coal before the new supply arrived, are too mad to talk about it.

Cornish as Well as Molineux on Trial.

There is fresh interest in the Molineux murder trial each day. Harry Cornish, whom Molineux is charged with trying to kill, was on the witness stand today, and a hard time he had of it under the cross-examination of ex-Gov. Black, who is principal counsel for Molineux. Black turned the witness inside out, and it must be confessed that Cornish was compelled by his own admissions which will hardly raise him in the estimation of the community, whatever may be the outcome of the trial. Molineux enjoyed his old enemy's ordeal in every fiber. The comment one hears most often on the case, is that it is being rushed through in a way creditable to Judge Lambert, and that much public money will be saved, comparing the length of this trial with that of the first one. It looks as if the trial may be well on toward an end in less time than it took to get a jury the first time.

How Hill Manages Coler.

David B. Hill, with the shrewdness of an old politician, is handling Bird S. Coler so dexterously that Coler does not know he is being handled at all. The Democratic candidate for the governorship of New York has said that he will not be controlled by Hill or anyone else, but that he will run his own campaign. "All right," said Hill today. "Positively no restrictions have been or could be placed upon Mr. Coler by any man. He is well known as a man who would not submit to restraint in this manner." Now is not that neat and worthy of the most astute campaign manager the Democrats of this state have had for years?

Hotel Suicides.

If the number of suicides in hotels in New York were reduced to figures and published at one time it would astonish New Yorkers, as well as persons in other cities. This does not refer to the Raines hotels, many of which are merely groggeries and low lodging houses, but to the Broadway houses, where the outcasts of society are not prone to go. It is safe to say that there is not a big hotel in New York which has not had several suicides in its rooms. The managers try to hide these experiences when possible, and usually there is not much more than the bare official record of such a deed. As a rule, the victim helps the hotel manager in this regard. In one of the Broadway hotels today a man was found dead in his room, and the coroner pronounced it suicide by carbolic acid. The man had destroyed every mark by which he might be identified, and had tore out his hat band, on which was the name of the maker of his hat. The number of his room is not publicly known, and it may be that a guest will tonight occupy the very bed on which the suicide lay down to die early this morning. Suicides are too common to make much of an impression in a big hotel, and the guest, not knowing the history of his bed, will sleep as sound as if he were in his own room in Pittsburgh, or wherever he may come from.

How to Break a Long Fall.

Here is a hint to persons who may fall down the air shaft of a skyscraper from the top floor. A contractor this afternoon tumbled from a scaffold on the eighth floor of a new apartment house and went down the air shaft to the ground. He was bruised and jarred, but not seriously injured. He saved himself by stretching his arms and striking the sides of the shaft with his hands as often as possible. This broke his fall materially, and he may be up on that same eighth floor again within a week.

Tammany Gets Cleveland's Regrets.

One of the features of the big Tammany meeting scheduled for tomorrow, in the Wigwam, will be an autograph letter from Grover Cleveland. This letter has been received in response to an invitation to be present at the meeting, and, while it expresses regret that its writer cannot be there, it is also a discussion of pending issues by Mr. Cleveland. This is the statement made by Tammany leaders, and it is expected that the gathering tomorrow evening will be much edified by the words of the ex-president.

Ill-Luck in Sunday Sports.

Over in Bayonne, N. J., a boy is dying from injuries received in a football game on Sunday. The authorities will take no action, because he was hurt accidentally. What with football players being fatally hurt, and golfers braining each other over the head with putters, brassies and other uncomfortably heavy implements, all on Sunday, it looks as if there may be ill-luck in playing godless games on that day, after all.

Swindled a Blind Couple.

It is often said that a person who would rob a blind man is as mean a creature as one cares to meet. There is a case in this city of just that kind, wherein a man named Cohen got $265 out of a blind man and his blind wife by selling them a news stand under false representations. The blind couple have been in a police court two or three times looking for redress. They seem likely to get it, for the magistrate sent them to the Legal Aid society, a splendid organization for assisting worthy people who are unable to take care of themselves along the devious paths of petty law, and the society has obtained a warrant for the arrest of the enterprising Mr. Cohen. He told the blind man when he sold the stand that it was free and clear, and that he (Cohen) had a lease which he could transfer. It appears that Cohen lied.

Stray Auto Awaiting an Owner.

There is a $4,000 Panhard automobile in one of the police stations, with no owner for it. The "Maverick" was picked up in West Seventy-fourth street yesterday because unattended, and now it is eating its head off in storage charges, waiting for the owner to turn up. It is not unusual for stray horses and cabs to be found in New York, but a wild automobile is something new to the police.

Osborne's Mother Proud of Him.

Among those who listened to the opening address of Osborne, assistant district attorney, in the Molineux case yesterday, was an old lady dressed in black, who listened intently to every word of the speech, and occasionally nodded her head as if in applause of some particularly telling period. She was Mr. Osborne's mother, 85 years of age. She said today that she had not heard her son make an address since he was graduated from Davidson college, in North Carolina, when he was 18 years old. He won a prize then. The old lady remarked that her elder son, Frank, was recently appointed a judge in the court of claims by President Roosevelt, but that he used to be prosecuting attorney in North Carolina, just as James W. Osborne is in New York. She evidnetly is proud of both her sons. GEORGE C. JENKS.

Apologies Are Due.

From the New York Tribune.

A regular army with a total of less than 60,000 men for a nation of fourscore millions! How unspeakably absurd were the predictions of the false prophets who were affrighted by the "bogie" man on horseback, and foretold the perilous domination of the soldier in this republic! Apologies are due from authors of these grotesque jeremiads who have been brought to such confusion. But these apologies will be waited for in vain.

Pittsburgh's Young Naturalists.

From the New York World.

Young men students of the Carnegie Naturalists' association of Pittsburgh have "dispensed with" girls as fellow-students. They will probably take up the study of girls later.

PERSONALS.

If it was not Major General Fitzhugh Lee, U. S. A., former consul general at Havana, and afterward military governor at that point, who passed through Pittsburgh last night on a Pennsylvania train to Cincinnati, then it was a very exact double of that famous man. The newspaper men scouting about union station were tipped off to the effect that Gen. Lee was on the train and they had no trouble in finding him, or the man who looked like him. Saluted as Gen. Lee, he said: "I am not General Lee, but his cousin," and his eyes sparkled with humor. "I know him very well, and I think he looks very much like me, but boys you are in the wrong this time." He was sitting in the smoking apartment of a Cincinnati Pullman, and his friends broke into laughter. "Really I am not General Lee," he insisted, but his laughing blue eyes seemed to give the lie to his denial. "Own up," said one of his friends, "and tell the boys why you are going to Cincinnati. You know you have been appointed president of the Jamestown Tercentenial Exposition Company of Virginia which will be held in 1907, and they want to know something about it." But he still laughed and said: "I am only one of his many relatives." As the train pulled out of the station the laughing blue eyes appeared at the window and as the train shot into the tunnel a voice came from the darkness saying, "I will meet you reporters and give you a story on my return."

Joseph Natali, representative of the king of Italy, and consular agent of the Italian government at Pittsburgh, received yesterday from Signor Primetti, prime minister of Italy, a warrant signed by the king creating him a chevalier of the Order of the Royal Crown, in recognition of his services for the Italians of Western Pennsylvania.

Perry Griffin, traveling passenger agent of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific railway, who has been stationed in this city for three years and a half, went to Philadelphia last night, where he will assume the duties of district passenger agent for his company.

Mascagni and his Italian grand opera company will arrive this morning over the Pennsylvania railroad in a special train. After the performance of "Zanetto" and "Cavalleria Rusticana" this evening, Mascagni will be teadered a banquet at the Hotel Schenley.

Daniel A. Holmes of Boston is at the Lincoln. Mr. Holmes is in Pittsburgh in the interests of the King-Crowther corporation, of which he was formerly the Pittsburgh representative. He will remain in the city for several days.

Neighbors Visiting Pittsburgh.

Among those at the Pittsburgh hotels last night were the following people from nearby points:

Grigwold—Carl H. Ney, Waynesburg; A. F. Noss, Leetonia; J. W. Owens, New Castle.
Monongahela—A. Hays, Clerville, W. Va.; W. H. Schwartz, C. P. Weston, Altoona; T. C. Campbell, Butler; M. D. Christie, Fairmont.

THE DEATH ROLL.

Rev. Julius A. Herold.

The Rev. Julius A. Herold, 78 years old, who three years ago was stricken with paralysis while preaching in his pulpit in the Spring Hill Lutheran church, died yesterday morning at No. 228 Main street, Lawrenceville. The Rev. Mr. Herold was a native of Berlin, Germany, where he was educated. At the age of 20 he was graduated and ordained a minister of the Lutheran church. A short time later he entered the German army, in which he served for 20 years, taking an active part in the Danish war, and was rewarded for bravery with a gold medal. In 1866 he came to the United States, settling in Philadelphia. His first charge in this country was in Sauk City, Wis. He afterward held charges in Charleston, Ind., Akron, O., and for over seven years was pastor of the German Evangelical Lutheran church in Forty-fourth street, Lawrenceville. Since the attack of paralysis in the Spring Hill church he had lived retired. The Rev. Mr. Herold is survived by his widow and three children: Julius A., Jr., Mrs. Martha Rowland and Mrs. Catherine Rowland.

Mrs. T. V. Milligan.

Mrs. Ellen Milligan, 74 years old, wife of the Rev. Dr. T. V. Milligan, is dead at the home of her daughter, Mrs. L. J. Robertson, No. 238 Lehigh avenue. Mrs. Milligan was born in Knox county, O. She was well known as an efficient helper to her husband in his ministry of 42 years. Five children survive: Mrs. Robertson of this city, Mrs. D. F. McHenry of Washington, Pa., Frank W. and Thomas V. Milligan, Jr., of the Milligan Hardware and Supply Company of East Liverpool, O., and John S. Milligan, an insurance agent of Steubenville, O. Mrs. Milligan will be buried in the family lot of Riverview cemetery, East Liverpool.

Mrs. Peter Livingstone Buried.

The funeral of Mrs. Sarah J. Livingstone, wife of Peter Livingstone, superintendent of mill machinists at the Edgar Thomson steel works, took place yesterday afternoon. Funeral services were held at the family home, No. 559 Hawkins avenue, North Braddock. The Rev. William G. Beagle, of the First Presbyterian church, Braddock, in which the deceased had been an active worker for almost 22 years, officiated. The high school department of North Braddock attended in a body.

Obituary Notes.

Amon Enlow of Washington, Pa., died Monday night, aged 53.

Miss Lizzie Craig, daughter of James Craig, of near West Alexander, Pa., died Monday night, aged 35.

Peter K. Sedgwick of New Castle, Pa., died Monday night, aged 76, of paralysis. Mrs. A. H. Miller of McKees Rocks is a daughter.

Mrs. Margretta V. Osmond, wife of William H. Osmond, secretary of the James Pilsl Company, limited, wholesale grocers, died yesterday at her home, No. 410 North Euclid avenue.

Mrs. Anne Powell, wife of James Powell, died at her home, No. 1304 Sarasvale avenue, Wilkinsburg, last night of pneumonia, aged 58 years. Her husband and two sons, William and John, survive her.

The funeral of Dr. W. H. Edwards was held at Clearfield, Pa., yesterday. He died on Sunday at Jamesville. He was given a military burial, having been prominent in G. A. R. circles. He was 67 years of age.

A Party Without a Policy.

From the Philadelphia Press.

The Democrats of this country ought to pray day and night that they won't carry a majority of the next house of representatives, for if they did carry it they would be compelled to have some sort of policy, and where on earth could they expect to get any such thing?

Ought to Be Satisfactory.

From the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

"Political warfare ought to be regarded as continuous," says Mr. Cleveland. "Conditions inside the Democratic party must be highly satisfactory to the ex-president.

More Proof of Prosperity.

From the Boston Herald.

The advertised loss of a $20,000 diamond necklace down in the Maine woods is another token of the widespread pervasiveness of the evidences of flush times.

ONE BEAR STORY FROM THE WOODS

Lost Hunter Found Many Promising Trails in the Snow.

HUNTERS are coming and going at this season. Among the stories brought back is one from Forest county, dating from last winter. A party of Pittsburghers had gone out between the Pittsburgh & Western railroad and the Clarion river looking for big game, making headquarters in a slab shack. One member refused to carry a compass, as he was sure he would not get lost; and thereby hangs the tale. All were provided with the felt boots affected by the lumbermen who are now rather more plentiful than wild animals in those parts.

There was deep snow, and the man without a compass depended on this fact for his ability to track himself back home. He overlooked the fact that more snow might fall. The first day he was out it did snow. The woods were full of it. He became bewildered, but held what he believed to be the straight course for camp, though his morning tracks were completely obliterated. Suddenly he came upon a trail. The marks were fresh, irregular prints in the snow. Owing to their size and the depth to which they sank, he decided they must have been made by a bear. He determined to follow them, and did. In about half an hour he observed another trail parallel.

"Two bears!" he ejaculated, and looked well to his magazine rifle. Then he hurried on faster. Little more than 20 minutes elapsed until a third trail joined the others. The hunter began to get excited and hit up a tremendous pace. In a quarter of an hour he saw no bears, but came upon a fourth trail. For the first time he noted they were not alike, one being pretty well filled with the falling snow and another quite fresh. He began to investigate and noted, on looking backward, there were five trails, one of which was his own. The truth dawned upon him. He had doubled on his course and mistook the print of his shapeless felt boots for bear tracks and had chased himself four more times around the circle.

This story might never have been written had not the hunter's companions come upon him about the time he discovered his predicament and asked him why he had gone around the circle so often. They half guessed the truth and the "bear" confessed. After that he took precautions.

THE car was as crowded as Pittsburgh cars usually are. Two matinee girls, with a young man whose

CITIZENS WILL PROTECT VOTERS

Tax Receipts Furnished by the Citizens Party Are Guaranteed.

MACHINE'S BOGUS WORK

While Trying to Intimidate Those Holding Proper Receipts, the Ring Is Issuing Bogus Receipts Wholesale.

The Citizens party is prepared to protect all who vote on tax receipts which they have obtained from the Citizens party headquarters. Intimidation of the greatest kind is being practiced by the machine and its organs in an effort to frighten voters from the polls by inducing them to believe that the tax receipts procured from the Citizens headquarters are bogus, and threatening to arrest any one presenting a bogus receipt.

As for arresting voters offering false tax receipts, the Citizens party itself will take a hand, for it is now charged that the machine has not only issued forged receipts, but that it has issued blank receipts to be filled up by any ward heeler. The Citizens party desires to warn all voters against taking receipts from anybody connected with the machine, for these receipts may be blank receipts issued by the machine, filled up by machine workers and handed over to anti-ring voters with the object of inducing them to believe that the receipts are genuine and arresting them when they go to vote, after which a cry will be raised that the false receipts were issued by the Citizens party.

Machine's Flim-Flam Game.

The machine has had facsimiles of Citizens party tax orders printed and is forging the names of voters to the orders, the object being to publish these facsimiles, pretending that they are forged orders issued by the Citizens party. The facsimiles are exact reproductions of the blank tax orders prepared by the Citizens party, even to the name of Mawhinney, the Citizens party agent who is attending to the payment of taxes for the Citizens party.

This is the way the scheme is worked: To John Jones, a voter, a tax order is shown, directing the county treasurer or the county delinquent tax collector, to allow Mawhinney to pay the taxes of the man whose name is signed to the order and to turn the tax receipt over to Mawhinney. Jones looks at the receipt and finds that his name is forged to it. Of course he is properly indignant and wishes to know who has committed the forgery. Thereupon he is told that the tax order was presented at the court house by Mawhinney, the Citizens party agent. Jones does not know that the Citizens party had nothing to do with the forged order, and may believe the story told him is true, whereas the order, printed blank and forged signature were turned out by the machine.

O'Mara Raises the Limit.

The forged names of men who have moved out of the county, of dead men, of adherents of the Citizens party, and even of machine men have been signed to these bogus orders, the intention being to arouse a storm of indignation against the Citizens party by accusing that organization of having uttered bogus tax orders.

As for the tax receipts obtained from the Citizens party, that party desires to assure every holder of such a receipt that the paper is genuine; that the party will protect any voter who votes on such a receipt, and that the charges that bogus receipts have been issued by the Citizens party is a device of the enemy to deceive voters and frighten them from the polls.

Roger O'Mara is willing to back up his belief in the success of H. K. Porter, the Citizens candidate for congress in the Thirty-first district, with money. He said yesterday that he is willing to bet $1,000 that Porter will have 1,500 votes more than his opponent, Burke. O'Mara was unable to obtain any takers on 1,000 majority for Porter, and he has, therefore, raised the limit to 1,500.

Country Districts With Citizens.

Samuel G. Bailey, Citizens party candidate for the legislature in the Eighth legislative district, who has been making an active canvass in the country districts, said last night:

I am satisfied that the country districts are with us. My district is in splendid shape and I have no fear of the result. Braddock, Rankin, North Braddock, Turtle Creek and East Pittsburgh have been thoroughly canvassed and I believe will roll up majorities for the ticket. Some of the most prominent union workingmen have assured me of their support and influence among their fellows. The outlying townships are in good condition. As for McKeesport, East McKeesport, Wilmerding and other towns in that section, the sentiment is strongly in favor of the Citizens party. The same condition prevails in the towns along the Youghiogheny and the Allegheny rivers. I believe the people of the country districts are as anxious to see a change of government as are the people of Pittsburgh and Allegheny, and will strike for it at the polls in November.

The Citizens party held meetings last night in Zimmerman's hall, Thirty-fifth ward; Knights of Pythias hall, West Elizabeth; Ralston school hall, Penn avenue, and in the school house at Newtown.

The following meetings will be held tonight: Schultz pavilion, Mifflin township; old Wylie school house, Clairton; town hall, Rankin; Turner hall, Forbes street; A. M. E. church, Sewickley; Liberty hall, Kerr street, Allegheny, and Grand Army hall, Arlington avenue.

A big Democratic meeting was held in the Franklin school house, Seventh ward, last night. Democratic meetings will be held tonight in Marquette hall, Second avenue, Hazelwood, and Hibernian hall, Wylie avenue, near Fifth avenue.

Detectives Found Much Plunder.

Detectives Shore and Kennelly yesterday searched the house of William Mills of South avenue, Allegheny, who was arrested Monday on suspicion of stealing at the warehouse of Haugh & Keenan, where he was employed. They found several boxes of silver knives, forks, spoons, sugar tongs, a carving set, silver candelabra, fancy china and ornaments and other goods of considerable value.

Claims Partner Robbed Him.

A. Johns of No. 111 Meadow street, East Liberty, who had charge of a side show at the Exposition, yesterday complained to the police that four rings, valued at $150, had been stolen from his room. The rings belonged to Johns' wife and he alleges Leon Clayton, his partner, who lived with him, took the rings. Clayton and his wife have disappeared.

CONSUMMATION OF A ROMANCE IN THE SALVATION ARMY

MRS. CLIFFORD. LIEUT. H. J. CLIFFORD.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Youngstown, O., Oct. 21.—Lieut. H. J. Clifford and Miss Marian D. King, both of the Salvation Army, have just been married after something of a romance. Lieut. Clifford came from England last winter, intending to visit his sister, the wife of Capt. F. A. McDiarmid of the Salvation Army here. He liked the country and concluded to stay. He was made the head of the Workingmen's hotel, part of the Salvation Army work here.

The young man, though, had left behind a sweetheart. This summer Capt. and Mrs. McDiarmid went to England to study Salvation Army methods there. Miss King returned with them. The young people were to have been married at once, but two days before the wedding Lieut. Clifford became ill with typhoid fever. For six weeks his wife-to-be nursed him and after he regained his health they were married.

Wabash Contract to Be Let for Link in West Virginia

President J. T. Blair, of the Little Kanawha railroad, one of the links of the proposed Wabash line through West Virginia, was in Pittsburgh yesterday. He said that he was without knowledge of his reported resignation.

"Bids are being received and about November 1 the contract will be let for the construction of the link connecting the Little Kanawha with the West Virginia Central," Mr. Blair said. "The new line will run from Sandy Bend, nine miles north of Palestine, to Burnsville, 75 miles. Many bids are being received. The cost is expected to be $1,500,000 or over.

"The construction work is heavy, for the country is rough. There will be eight tunnels, ranging from 400 to 2,200 feet. There are also many bridges, the Little Kanawha being crossed six times. The new line will be thoroughly modern, so that the heaviest modern freight and passenger trains can be economically operated."

PENNSY OFFICIALS HERE.

Inspection Party Reaches Pittsburgh and Spends the Night.

The committee of Pennsylvania railroad officials making the fall inspection of the line arrived in Pittsburgh last evening. The committee is composed of Joseph T. Richards, engineer of maintenance of way, who is in charge, and Superintendents Victor Wiermann, Camden and Amboy division; J. B. Baker, Jr., Cambria and Clearfield division; C. F. Dabney, Chautauqua division, and L. W. Allibone, Sunbury and Lewistown division.

The members of the committee spent last night in their private car in the Union station yards. They were visited by Superintendent R. D. O'Donnell and Assistant Superintendent James Buckelew of the Pittsburgh division. This morning they will inspect the local divisions and return to Philadelphia tonight.

Ticket Agents Advanced.

Clinton J. Phillips, who has been ticket agent of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie at New Castle, has been appointed voucher clerk in the general passenger offices here. He succeeds O. P. Huggles, resigned. L. A. Stiles, ticket agent at Beaver Falls, will take the position at New Castle vacated by Mr. Phillips. J. E. Frazier, ticket clerk at the terminal building in this city, will become ticket agent at Beaver Falls.

New Pennsy Connecting Line.

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 21.—(Special.)—A new connection between the Cleveland & Pittsburgh and the Panhandle is being planned by the Pennsylvania. The connection is made near Dennison and gives the Pennsylvania this short line to Cleveland from all that territory. The Tuscarawas branch of the Cleveland & Pittsburgh will be extended from Klondike, O., to the main line of the Panhandle. The connecting link is but six miles long. It will develop an important coal field heretofore untapped.

Railroad Notes.

E. H. Kennedy, assistant auditor of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, is confined to his home by pneumonia.

The Baltimore & Ohio announces the appointment of J. E. Mumfield as assistant general superintendent of motive power.

Ground has been broken at Painesville, O., by the Baltimore & Ohio for the erection of large shops in addition to the present facilities. Over 300 more men will be employed.

The Pittsburgh plant of the American Locomotive company is pushing work delivering the last of 70 engines ordered for the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton railroad. Two of the engines are already in use. Three others have been shipped.

Contracts were awarded yesterday by the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie for two coaling platforms to be built between the tracks, one at Groveton, and one at Hazelton. Each will cost $20,000. A new yardmaster's office at Hazelton, to cost $5,000, will also be built at once.

William O'Donnell, wife and family express their gratitude to the friends and relatives who so kindly assisted them during the terrible accident to their son, who was killed on the Pennsylvania railroad at Ben Venue. William O'Donnell is an engineer on the Nickel Plate road.

HARRIMAN LEADS ALL IN MERGER HOLDINGS

J. J. Hill Gives Interesting Figures in Testimony in Northern Securities Case.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

ST. PAUL, Oct. 21.—In the hearing in the suit of the United States against the railway merger, Solicitor General Richards resumed the cross-examination of J. J. Hill. In regard to Mr. Hill's statement that one reason for organizing the holding company was to prevent danger of raids on stock, Hill explained that stock held by a holding company would be less on the market.

"The largest single holder of Northern Securities stock, I understand, is Hartman," he said. "The outstanding stock of the Northern Securities Company is somewhere near $360,00,000. Harriman might double his holding, but he would have to pay a fair price for it, if he bought it. The real protection is the union of effort to develop the great northwest business."

He said rates were always reduced as traffic increased, which had followed the Burlington purchases. He had made no attempt to influence rates on the Burlington. The acquisition of the Burlington had not diverted traffic from other lines to the Northern Pacific and Great Northern, but had created new traffic for them.

HARVARD WON AT GOLF.

Defeated Yale for Intercollegiate Team Championship.

MORRISTOWN, N. J., Oct. 21.—Harvard defeated Yale, holder of the title, in the team championship today of the Intercollegiate Golf association over the links of the Morris County Golf club.

The two westerners, the Egans, save the day for Harvard in the match with Yale, all the others on the team going down to defeat. Brown and Potter halved their match. Hollins, Jr., who was in college with a clean record from the Metropolitan tournaments, had been picked to beat Hitchcock, Jr., the present individual champion of the collegians, and this match was a feature. All even at the 15th, Hitchcock won out by 2 up. The team score was: Harvard, holes 19, points 7; Yale, holes 5, points 6½.

SECOND ROUND OF GOLF.

Winner of Liggett-Hutchinson Match Today Meets W. N. Kerr for Cup.

In the second round of handicap match play decided on the Edgeworth course at Sewickley yesterday for the J. S. George cup, F. M. Hutchinson defeated C. I. Shannon by one up; S. S. Liggett defeated Henry Stanton, Jr., who had two strokes handicap, 4 to 2; Wm. J. Neale defaulted to W. N. Kerr and J. W. Dix to the Hon. Elliott Rodgers.

W. N. Kerr and Judge Rodgers played their semi-final match. Mr. Kerr winning by 1 up and one to play. This afternoon Liggett meets Hutchinson and the winner plays Mr. Kerr in the final match for the cup tomorrow.

Lasker Has a Strong Lead.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—The chess game between Lasker and J. W. Showalter of Kentucky, the third of the series of seven matches between these well known experts of the Manhattan chess club, was adjourned early today, after 51 moves. The game was much in favor of Lasker.

Women Play at Country Club.

The following eight players qualified on the Country club course yesterday for the Beechwood cup: Miss Mary Fowner, Miss Jane Benefit, Mrs. Louis Brown, Miss Louise Elkins, Mrs. O. W. Yoter, Mrs. O. A. Mueller, Miss Ida Fisher and Mrs. G. R. Buchan. The match play under handicaps starts today, with dual match on Friday.

Father and Son Reunited.

James F. Sykes of Crafton, after many years of separation, has been reunited with his son, who was left in the care of relatives when the father came to the United States from England in 1870. The father, after making several trips to Canada and the south, finally located his son, who holds a responsible position with a southern railroad, and established his identity. Recently a reunion was held at the Sykes home in Crafton at which the son, who never knew his right name or place of his birth, presented his wife. The missing son went under the name of T. J. Green. His baptismal name is Thomas Sykes.

SOCIETY

WHEN Mrs. Julia Ward Howe comes to Pittsburgh this week as the guest of the Twentieth Century club, she will be entertained at Oak Manor, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kirke Porter, in Oakland. Mrs. Howe will be the guest of honor at the President's Day reception at the club, sharing honors with her talented daughter, Mrs. Florence Howe Hall. Mrs. Howe has passed her 83d birthday, having been born May 27, 1819. It is rarely that she speaks in public in these days and consequently much interest is being taken in her visit to Pittsburgh. She will speak before the club Friday afternoon of her "Personal Experiences at Brook Farm," the literary co-operative colony of almost half a century ago. Mrs. Howe was then in the prime of her literary work and conducted a conversation with her husband, the great philanthropist, Dr. Samuel Gridley Howe, the Boston Commonwealth, an anti-slavery journal. It was later that she turned her attention to woman suffrage, prison reform and other movements with which she became identified. Mrs. Howe will recite on Friday afternoon what is probably her most famous work, "The Battle Hymn of the Republic," and for which she is most widely known. Mrs. Howe spends her winter at her home in Beacon street, Boston, right in the heart of the intellectual circles of Boston. Her summers are quietly passed at Newport, R. I.

Sands—Kiser.

The wedding of Miss Elizabeth Campbell Sands, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Sands, and Robert William Kiser took place in the Shadyside United Presbyterian church, Center avenue, last evening. The handsome interior of the edifice afforded a rich setting, with its decorations of palms, for the wedding. The marriage ceremony was performed by the pastor, the Rev. John K. McClurkin, D. D., assisted by the Rev. Thomas Walters. The bride was attended by her cousin, Miss Betty Wardrop, the young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wardrop of Sewickley, who came home from school to act as maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Louise Woodside and Miss Jean Shaw, and Miss Elizabeth Kiser and Miss Dorothy Miller were flower girls. Alexander B. Kiser was the best man and the ushers were Charles Campbell Sands, Jr., Miller, Jr., Oliver Dogelman, Robert W. Sands, Howard Zacharias and T. Perry Black.

The church decorations consisted of tropical plants with clusters of white chrysanthemums. The bride wore a beautiful gown of white satin and lace, en train, and the customary veil falling to the edge of her gown. A shower bouquet of bride's roses and lilies of the valley was carried. The bridesmaids wore pretty gowns of white mousseline de soie, pink chiffon sashes and large bouquets of pink rose buds. The bride was given away by her father. After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's father and mother in Dithridge street, for which 200 invitations were issued. Later in the evening Mr. and Mrs. Kiser left for their wedding trip. On Mondays in January they will be at home No. 417 North Craig street.

Speer—Watt.

Exceedingly pretty and attracting wide interest was the wedding last evening of Miss Mary Speer and Robert Pitcairn Watt. The marriage was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Rodin Speer, in Thomas boulevard, the Rev. W. S. Fulton, D. D., pastor of the Point Breeze Presbyterian church, officiating, assisted by the Rev. Dr. Waddell. The bride made her appearance with her father, who gave her away. She was attended by her sister, Miss Edith Speer, as maid of honor, and Miss Eleanor Watt as bridesmaid. George Watt, a brother of the bridegroom, was best man and the ushers were a brother of the bride and a brother of the bridegroom, J. S. Speer and Herman Watt.

The parlors were decorated with a mass of tropical plants, relieved by graceful vines wreathing the doorways and smilax which encircled the chandeliers. Many colored shades softened the lights. It was a pink and white wedding and through the parlors the colors were green and white; in the other apartments pink predominated. The bride was gowned in white satin with lace and sleeves of point lace. Her veil was fastened with orange blossoms and she carried a shower bouquet of white bride's roses and lilies of the valley. The maids were both gowned in white mousseline de soie with pink sashes and carried large pink chrysanthemums.

Mr. and Mrs. Watt are now away on their wedding trip, but will return to Pittsburgh to be at home Wednesdays in December in East End avenue.

Meeting of the Colonial Club.

The Colonial club met yesterday afternoon at the Hotel Henry. An interesting feature was the report of the delegate, Mrs. Prentice, who attended the state Federation in Titusville last week. Mrs. Goldberg and Mrs. L. E. Duff were elected to represent the club on the permanent civic committee of the Women's Clubs of Western Pennsylvania. Mrs. Dunn talked yesterday on the "Neiblungield: Its Origin and History," and was followed by an informal discussion of Wagner's musical dramas, which have the Neiblungiled for their basis. Mrs. Edwin R. Sullivan was the leader for the day.

Celebrating an Anniversary.

Mrs. Thomas M. Rees of North Negley avenue, East End, gave a handsome reception yesterday afternoon in honor of her mother, Mrs. Mary Nowell Irwin, the occasion being Mrs. Irwin's 90th birthday anniversary. The guests included chiefly the relatives and friends of the guest of honor who has lived in Pittsburgh for 66 years. Mrs. Rees and her mother received together and assisting was a group of ladies, among whom were several granddaughters of Mrs. Irwin, including Mrs. James Douglass Ayres, Miss M. Marsh Rees, Mrs. David A. Rees and Mrs. W. M. Rees.

The U. P. Bazar.

The annual reception and bazar of the United Presbyterian Women's association will be held in the Exposition building on Thursday and Friday, October 30 and 31. The proceeds will go to the three institutions this association maintains: The Orphans Home, the Memorial hospital and the Home for the Aged. Dinner and supper will be served each day and there will be booths for the sale of flowers, candy, fancy goods and holiday presents. In the evenings there will be special entertainments of a novel character.

Wedding Cards.

Invitations have been issued for the marriage of Miss Anna J. Knox, daughter of J. Irwin Knox of Canton township, Washington county, to John W. Mosby of Washington, Pa. The wedding will take place Wednesday noon, November 5, at the home of the bride's parents.

Euchre at Crafton.

Miss Mayme Cosgrave entertained the Tuesday Night euchre club last evening at her home in Steuben avenue, Crafton. Progressive euchre was played until 12 o'clock, when refreshments were served, followed by dancing. The club meets every second Tuesday in the month.

Kidd—Soles.

A wedding of interest in Braddock will take place at noon today, when Miss Edith Mary Soles, second daughter of George W. Soles of North Braddock, and Charles Kidd of Pittsburgh, an official in the Adams Express Company in this city, will be married.

Notes of Society.

A bazar and euchre were conducted last evening in the South Highland addition for the benefit of the East End Charity hospital.

The Keystone Bicycle club announces a progressive euchre to be given for club members at the club house in Howe street on Friday evening, October 24.

Miss Ida Smith will be hostess to the members of the Women's Press club at her studio in Bertha street, Mt. Washington, on Saturday evening, November 1.

The engagement of Miss Edith E. Barr, daughter of Dr. J. A. Barr of McKees Rocks, and Dr. Howard M. Welch of Leechburg, has been announced, the ceremony to take place in the near future.

Tomorrow afternoon the Women's clubs of the Monongahela valley will hold a union meeting in Hamnett hall, No. 755 Penn avenue, Wilkinsburg. Mrs. Samuel Hamilton and others will speak. The women's clubs of Homestead, Braddock, McKeesport and Edgewood will be guests of the Wilkinsburg club and the program arranged for the reception is an interesting one.

Domestic Science

The visiting bishop was a moderately early riser, and it was his habit to repair promptly to the dining-room and while away a pleasant quarter of an hour before breakfast was served. The first morning while drinking in the splendors of the autumn landscape—it was late October—the soft rustle of skirts announced the advent of his hostess, and somewhat to his surprise, he had not expected to greet her before coffee-pouring time, she fleeted into the kitchen beyond. A minute or two later and he heard her singing softly the well-known hymn lines to their familiar melody:

Eggs Boiled to Music.

Jerusalem, the golden,
With milk and honey blest,
Beneath thy contemplation
Sink heart and voice oppress.

The prelate was charmed—such a beautiful thought—prayerful melody as prelude to the day's toils—a rare text!

The second, third, fourth morning, always the daintily rustling figure, the smiling "good morning," followed by the sweetly chanted verse, just audible through the pantry door. The prelate reserved comment until the final morning of his visit, and then, as his hostess poured the steaming coffee, he told how much he had been impressed by this beautiful starting of the day's routine. The lady first flushed, then laughed merrily as she said: "Alas! you are rewarding me far beyond my deserts. My husband told me you liked your eggs boiled to a turn, so I just fitted the verse to the proper minutes and seconds and sang them sotto voce, after cook had plunged the eggs into the boiling water."

An Indigestible Delight.

Aspic jelly is always a favorite accompaniment to lobster, crab or salmon. For lobster in aspic, the process is as follows: Into two quarts of water put one tablespoonful of extract of beef, a carrot, an onion stuck with cloves, two bay leaves, a bit of shallot, celery seed and thyme. Cook until the vegetables have given their flavoring to the water, then add the thin rind of a lemon, a glass of sherry and a tablespoonful of tarragon vinegar. Dissolve a tablespoonful of gelatine in two tablespoonfuls of water, then stir it in with the stock until it is dissolved. Add the whites of two eggs slightly beaten and let all boil. Then regulate the fire so that the mixture will simmer gently for half an hour. Then strain it through a jelly bag and set aside till cold, but not too stiff to pour. Have the meat of a lobster cut into small pieces, three eggs boiled and sliced, and a few pieces of watercress and tarragon. Pour a layer of the jelly in a mold, adding bits of the lobster, egg and greens, then more of the jelly, and so on until all the material has been used. Place on ice until firm.

Wife of the Hunter, Attention!

Quail will be found delicious stuffed lightly with the bread filling recommended for chicken, without water, and potted after the manner of potted chicken already given, with the omission of the mushrooms. Slices of very fat pork or bacon may be used instead of the butter where desired in varying this formula.

Partridges are to be washed inside and out thoroughly, but quickly, and dried well. They may be stuffed or not, as desired, and basted well and often with melted butter and hot water as stock seasoned with salt and pepper. This liquid, thickened and browned with flour, will make the gravy. If broiled, partridge may be served with a cream sauce. In roasting partridge for the game course of a dinner do not put it in the oven until just before serving the soup as a dried-up partridge is a ruined bird.

Reed birds are to be drawn very carefully, sprinkled with salt and dredged with flour and roasted with an oyster dipped in butter and then in crumbs and placed inside of each for about 15 minutes in a hot oven.

To Serve Apples.

The apple is an important, most wholesome and most delicious article of diet. One good way to prepare it is to thinly slice a ripe, mellow sweeting and pour over it a modicum of sweet cream.

Again, grate or scrape a well-flavored apple into a small dessert glass of whipped cream, slightly sweetened, and you have a delicate tid-bit to close any meal, in place of richer dessert.

Dish Pan Notes.

Wooden bowls make the best receptacles for washing fine glassware that requires careful handling. If two bowls are employed, the results are apt to be more satisfactory. Use one for washing and the other for rinsing purposes. To clean greasy kettles, warm the pot or kettle, then throw in a handful of corn meal and rub well. You will find the meal will absorb all the fat so that soap and water will make the kettle perfectly clear.

To cleanse bottles, make a lye by boiling equal quantities of soda and quicklime. When cold put this in the bottles with some small pebbles and shake well. Set the bottles to drain thoroughly, then warm them and blow inside with a pair of bellows to absorb all moisture.

Salt and vinegar will be found the best for scouring the copper preserving kettle, and a lemon cut in halves and dipped in salt will remove all stains.

The Halcyon Days of House Cleaning.

Once more the household goods are being renovated for another season's service. Awnings are slipped off their pegs and the carved, swinging doors are put up in place of the stiff, even-fitted boards which gave the houses a suddenly prosperous appearance during the summer months.

Furniture usually heads the list for repairs. How tantalizing the white spots show on the varnished surfaces, which have also developed a "hazy," smoky countenance—much to our discomfiture. Marks left by hot dishes or food on a highly polished dining table may be removed by using equal parts of linseed oil and alcohol rubbed on the stains.

Camphor is a good all-around agent for restoring varnish. When rubbed over blistered or whitened spots it will bring back much of the former luster.

Where there are children in the house finger marks are a likely occurrence; apply olive oil to the soft rag and touch the spot. Do not put the oil directly on the table, but on the cloth, as stated above.

This same precaution applies to all methods of removing spots or polishing. Apply a little at a time, work in effectively, putting the liquid upon the cloth, never on the bare surface. Do not attempt to clean with water; the varnish immediately loses its luster, becoming cloudy. For unvarnished woods, use kerosene.

A good furniture polish is made of equal parts of linseed oil, vinegar and alcohol well mixed together. Those who have tried it say that it is most satisfactory. One cloth should be used for applying and a dry one for rubbing it in the wood. Never pour on the mixture too generously—a little will go a great way.

Laces and furs, the very antipodes of material, are a favored combination in the season's gowns.

END OF STRIKE MEANS VICTORY

The Whole Country Knows Not a Democratic Finger Was Raised.

WORK OF REPUBLICANS

Party of the Full Coal Bucket as Well as the Full Dinner Pail Will Win the Next Congress. Chairman Babcock's Estimate.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, 605 Fifteenth St., N. W., WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 21.

With the coal strike settled, advices from all over the country are that apathy in politics is disappearing and a rousing Republican victory is assured. The people realize that Republican leaders—and only Republicans—were responsible for the settlement of the strike; that not a prominent Democrat offered to assist, but that all seemed to secretly hope for the strike to go on as an aid to Democratic success in November.

With this information fresh in their minds, the people are reported to be only awaiting the day when they can vote in favor of the party of the full coal bucket as well as the full dinner pail.

The chief interest in the election lies in the control of the house, as a continuance of Republican control in the senate is certain. In the house the Republicans hold 199 out of a total of 357 seats. The next house will be increased by 20 members, making it necessary for either party to elect 164 members to control. Republican Chairman Babcock counts on 200 certain districts for his party, with about 20 more in doubt.

Senator Cullom of Illinois called upon President Roosevelt today and warmly congratulated him upon the settlement of the strike. Afterward he said:

"The President's action in the coal strike situation has pleased the people, regardless of party affiliations. Nothing has come from the spasmodic attempts by certain Democrats to make political capital out of the unfortunate conditions in Pennsylvania. The people at large recognize that the president's act was a thoroughly disinterested one, for the good of the country. As one of my constituents said a few days ago: 'We would have honored him simply because he tried, but since he has brought about a solution for the difficulty, we honor him all the more.'

"The congressional situation in Illinois is somewhat difficult to analyze briefly," said the senator. "The Republicans may possibly lose one or two districts, but there is every probability that we will gain to or three others. Apart from changing the personnel of the delegation to this extent the election will not have any unusual features."

Commissioner of Internal Revenue Yerkes, who was also a caller at the White House, spoke enthusiastically of Republican prospects in his state, Kentucky. Said he:

"I believe the Republican representation from Kentucky will be increased. The local conditions are as favorable as possible, in view of the state statutes controlling the elections. President Roosevelt is very popular, and they know the importance of sustaining him through the assistance of a good Republican working majority in the national house of representatives.

"Kentucky Republicans in my judgment will elect four representatives at the coming election. There are two other districts in the state where Republicans have nominated strong, vigorous, active men, who are prosecuting their canvass with more ardor and hopefulness than customary in districts giving fairly large Democratic majorities, and many believe that in these two districts there is possibility of defeating the Democratic nominees." MARK TWAIN IS COLD.

He Appeals to Shaw for Dry Bonds and Paper Currency for Fuel.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 21.—The following "touching" appeal from Mark Twain was received at the treasury department this morning:

New York City, Oct. 20.

The Honorable Secretary of the Treasury, Washington, D. C.:

Sir—Prices for the customary kinds of winter fuel having reached an altitude which puts them out of the reach of literary persons in straightened circumstances, I desire to place with you the following order:

Forty-five tons best old dry government bonds, suitable for furnace; sold 7 per cent 1904, preferred.

Twelve tons early greenbacks, range size, suitable for cooking.

Eight barrels seasoned 25 and 50-cent bonds currency, vintage of 1866, eligible for kindlings.

Please deliver with all convenient dispatch at my home in Riverdale, at lowest rates for spot cash, and send bill to

Yours obedient servant, MARK TWAIN.

Who will be very grateful and will vote right.

GOOD IRON ORE IN NORWAY.

New Discovery Made in the Northern Part of That Country.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 21.—(Special.)—United States Consul Bordewich at Christiania, Norway, sends the following report to the state department:

"Discoveries of extensive iron ore fields have again been made in Northern Norway. Samples of the ore sent to Christiania have been analyzed by the municipal chemist, who pronounces it to contain as low as 0.7 per cent titanium, which is considered a very good indication.

"The presence of titanium in large quantities retards the melting process of the ore and, consequently, reduces its value."

THREE MONTHS' RAIL MISHAPS.

They Cause 12,136 Casualties of All Kinds, Including 516 Deaths.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 21.—The number of persons killed in train accidents during April, May and June, as shown by a bulletin issued by the interstate commerce commission today, was 140, and the injured, 1,810.

Accidents of other kinds, including those sustained by employes while at work and by passengers getting on or off cars, swell the aggregate to 616 killed and 9,520 injured.

Postal Matters.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 21.—A rural free delivery route will be established December 1 at Martins Ferry, Belmont county, O. The route embraces 15 square miles, containing a population of 562. William W. Garret was today appointed postmaster at Seaman, W. Va., vice James Seamon, removed.

M'KEESPORT PEOPLE NOT CHURCH GOERS

The Rev. J. M. Maxwell Presents Startling Figures at Ministers' Union.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

GREENSBURG, PA., Oct. 21.—The Rev. J. M. Maxwell, pastor of the First Baptist church of McKeesport, created a sensation at this morning's session of the Baptist Ministers' union when he said that of the 20,000 people in the Tube City, less than 6,000 attended the services of the 25 Protestant churches last Sunday. The Rev. Mr. Maxwell discussed "The Church and the Crowd," and he condoned generally the non-attendance of churchgoers. He said of McKeesport's 20,000 people 20,000 are Protestants. Of these, he declared, only 20 per cent are regular churchgoers, and that 14,000 people in McKeesport are unreached by the gospel. He maintained that nothing is gained in reaching the masses by external attractions.

The Rev. J. C. Ball of New Wilmington read a paper on "Present Day Needs of Our Churches." He characterized the three needs as the awakening of the church as a whole, the realization by the churches that independence does not include interdependence, and the arousing of the individual Christian. A paper was read by the Rev. J. R. Wood of Frankford church, Philadelphia, on "The Pastor's Relation to Denominational Societies." In his address on the American Baptist Home Mission society, the Rev. E. B. Palmer, D. D., of Philadelphia, district secretary, stated that more than 5,000 churches have been added to the association.

Officers were elected as follows: President, the Rev. George E. Rees, D. D., Philadelphia; vice presidents, the Rev. R. H. Dunshire, Homer City, and the Rev. S. J. Arthur, Erie; secretary, S. P. Fergeus. The State Mission society began its sessions this afternoon. The addresses were delivered by the Rev. B. F. McGee of Huntingdon, the Rev. J. M. Thomas of Pittsburgh, and the Rev. David Spencer, D. D., of Scranton.

Swam Stream for Prisoner.

NEW CASTLE, PA., Oct. 21.—(Special.)—Constable John Kennedy had an exciting chase last night over hills and hedges after Thomas Musser, whom he finally caught after both swam Big run. Musser was charged with stealing iron from a railroad.

County Treasurer Indicted.

YORK, PA., Oct. 21.—The grand jury today returned eight true bills against County Treasurer William O. Thompson, four for forgery and four for embezzlement. It is alleged that Thompson's shortage amounts to more than $70,000.

Filtration Plan Proposed.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Oct. 21.—(Special.)—The water works trustees have submitted a proposition to council for the expenditure of $250,000 for a filtration plant. The water for the city is from the Mahoning river.

NEGRO IN HER ROOM.

Pittsburgh Girl Awakes in Terror and Her Screams Drives Him Away.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Oct. 21.—(Special.)—Miss Eleanor Hamberger, 18 years old, of Pittsburgh, awoke in terror from sleep in the Koopman hotel at 3 o'clock yesterday morning to find a negro beside her bed. As she screamed he placed his hand over her face. Her alarm roused the hotel and the intruder was scared off.

Detective Woodruff, from the girl's description, arrested Charles Johnson, the colored hotel porter, 26 years old, as the culprit, and this evening in the police court Johnson admitted that he was guilty. He was held without bail to await the action of the grand jury.

Johnson stole one of the chambermaid's keys to effect entrance into Miss Hamberger's room.

Nervy Thief Got Away.

One of the boldest robberies ever brought to the attention of the Homestead authorities was committed yesterday afternoon, when a young man stole a roll of leather from the store of Nelo Bros., in Eighth avenue. David Edwards, a real estate broker, had left his bicycle at the curb in front of the store, and after the thief got the leather he rode away with it on Edwards' bicycle.

Writing Desks as Gifts

Did you ever consider the adaptability of a writing desk for gift purposes? One would hardly conceive anything more appropriate. Wherever there are people there is correspondence to attend to—and, therefore, the Writing Desk.

The one shown in this advertisement is a good example of the effective quality of quartered oak for such purposes. The design of this desk and the finish combine to make the owner wish for more worlds to conquer by correspondence. It's as dainty as you'll ever see at so modest a price.

If you have gifts to bestow, just now or in the near future, you will find a visit to this department replete with interest. And if you require such a Desk for your own use you'll be especially interested in the display at

SOLDIERS ATTACK MAHANOY CITY MEN

MAHANOY CITY, PA., Oct. 21.—(Special.)—Attorney David L. Thomas, son of the Republican candidate for senator in the Thirtieth district, and Robert L. Heiser, an insurance agent, were brutally assaulted by three soldiers returning to Camp Glenn last night. Thomas was knocked senseless. His condition tonight is serious. The matter was reported to the officers of the regiment, and the offending soldiers are likely to be court-martialed.

MAY SOLVE BLEVINS CASE.

Definite Developments Expected to Follow Fields' Arrest.

NEW CASTLE, PA., Oct. 21.—(Special.)—The tide of public opinion in this city flows toward the belief that something more definite is to follow the Fields arrest in the Blevins case. That the description of the commission of the crime may have come from sources other than that of the lips of Judson Fields is believed possible.

New Castle people believe that should the investigation promised by the attorney for Frank J. Fields be thoroughly made it is likely that something may be unearthed that will serve as a key to the mystery.

A Great Gas Gusher.

WORTHINGTON, PA., Oct. 21.—The greatest gas well ever struck in Armstrong county, if not in Pennsylvania, is now sending into the air more than 20,000,000 cubic feet of gas every 24 hours. It is defying all efforts to bring it under control. The well is on the Peter Kerr farm, a short distance south of here. It is owned by T. N. Phillips of Butler.

Diphtheria Closes Schools.

MORGANTOWN, W. VA., Oct. 21.—(Special.)—The epidemic of diphtheria reached the highest stage today when the public schools were ordered closed and a quarantine established in the infected parts of town. Two children of W. L. Protzman and the 10-year-old daughter of George Price died last night, and deaths in one or two other cases are hourly expected.

PARKERSBURG, W. VA.—John Kyle, convicted of first degree murder, was sentenced to the penitentiary for life.

SHIPPENSBURG, PA.—George M. Milleisen, aged 47, for 21 years agent of the Cumberland Valley railroad, shot himself dead.

WASHINGTON, PA.—Annie Gween of Clyde was fatally burned by a gas explosion. She was endeavoring to shut a gas fire. The residence, owned by her father, P. O'Gween, was burned.

CLARKSBURG, W. VA.—A New York concern is about to locate an oil refinery here. C. W. Leggett of the Wheeling Company went to New York in response to a request of capitalists to close negotiations.

MORGANTOWN, W. VA.—Channing Baker of Philadelphia, employed on lock and dam No. 11 on the Monongahela river, was awarded $2,000 damages against Baker & Johnson, the contractors, for injuries sustained in the work last fall.

SECURES GOOD HUSBANDS FOR MILLINERY CLERKS

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, PA., Oct. 21.—At Uniontown yesterday, after a romantic courtship, Miss Minnie Booth and Clayton Shaw, both of Charleroi, were married.

Both are members of well-known families and the courtship was instituted by Mrs. Mary Wells, a milliner, who has for years made it her chief object to secure for her clerks good husbands. Miss Booth was a clerk for Mrs. Wells, and through the efforts of Mrs. Wells, met Shaw, who is in business in Charleroi.

Miss Booth was the 57th girl employed by Mrs. Wells who has been married in five years, and many girls who have a desire for wedded bliss are anxious to secure positions in her store. As soon as a position is made vacant by the marriage of a girl, a new applicant is given the place.

To Make Fuel Gas.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Oct. 21.—(Special.)—A new company will soon begin operations in Youngstown for the supplying of manufactured fuel gas. The franchise was given some time ago to Charles Hauk of Toledo. He has organized a company with $1,000,000 capital and will increase it to $2,000,000. Capitalists from Warren, Pittsburgh and Youngstown are interested. The plan is to supply Youngstown, Warren, Niles, Girard, Struthers and Lowellville.

M'KEAN COUNTY NEVER IN DOUBT

Will Give Its Normal Republican Majority of 2,500 for Pennypacker.

BIG BRADFORD MEETING

Col. Ned Arden Flood Reinforces the Campaigning Party's Oratory With an Effective Speech. Pattison Phariseeism Ridiculed.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Bradford, Pa., Oct. 21.—McKean county's metropolis tonight showed its adherence to Republican principles by turning out in force to cheer the Republican candidates and guarantee its regular 2,500 majority for the whole Republican ticket. The streets were crowded with a cheering multitude and marching clubs, and the Lyceum was packed to the doors. Judge Pennypacker, ex-Senator Brown, Col. Flood and S. R. Dresser, the congressional candidate, were among the speakers.

The gubernatorial party arrived here this evening and was met by a committee consisting of County Chairman Senator Myron Mattson, ex-Senator A. F. Bannon, W. W. Brown, J. C. Greenewald, J. L. Andrews, R. S. Watterson, J. K. Merriam, George Patton, D. H. Jack, R. B. Stone, E. E. Tait, J. S. Wilson, O. F. Schonblom, A. B. Walker, M. J. Benjamin, M. G. Raub, W. W. Tadder, H. H. Jones, C. E. Harrington, E. R. Sherman, Homer C. Jones and H. E. Allen.

Pennypacker on Peanut Politics.

J. K. Merriam, a prominent business man, presided and introduced the next governor of Pennsylvania. Judge Pennypacker spoke of the era of prosperity enjoyed by the people of the country, and showed how it had been brought about by the Republican party, notwithstanding the opposition of the Democratic party. He also cleverly ridiculed the peanut politics of the Democratic leaders and the querulous fault finding of the Democratic candidates.

W. M. Brown, candidate for lieutenant-governor, paid an eloquent tribute to McKinley and Roosevelt as great exponents of Republican principles and civic virtue, and declared that the Republican candidate for governor of Pennsylvania also possesses those high qualities to an eminent degree. He branded the Democratic candidates' assumption of virtue as a thing solely the property of the Democratic party as a piece of unwarranted impudence. He was loudly applauded.

Col. Ned Arden Flood said in part:

This campaign, in some of its aspects, is one of the most remarkable ever waged in the history of American politics. If it is men you would vote for, do not forget that the Democratic candidate for governor has been twice tried and as often found wanting; that he is today the chief exponent of a repudiated free trade free silver Bryan Democracy; that his reform pretensions will not stand the test of examination by the naked eye, let alone by a microscope, and that he is bad political company, he himself leading a coterie of political aspirants who would ride into power upon a tidal wave of so-called reform which they seek to produce by wholesale misrepresentation and indiscriminate denunciation.

The Republican Contrast.

On the other hand, you will remember that the Republican party confidently relies upon the high character and brilliant record of its candidate, who deals not in shame, fears not the light of day, but stands squarely upon the Republican platform, advocates the principles of his party and tells you, without evasion or equivocation, what he will do and what he will not do if you elect him the chief executive of this great commonwealth.

The life of Samuel W. Pennypacker has been rich in achievement. The whole of it is an open book. In him you have the material for an ideal governor, a man whose patriotism no one can question, for it was tested away back in the 60's in the dark days of the republic, a man whose abilities have been shown in a long life of usefulness and success. It is a man you would vote for, can you ask, will you demand more, will you accept less than you have in the Republican candidate?

Twice in the history of this commonwealth during the last 40 years, some Republicans stayed at home when the election time came and a Democratic governor was elected. In the presidential election following both of these Democratic experiences in Pennsylvania, a Democrat was elected president of the United States; and upon each occasion hard times, panics, business depressions and disaster succeeded each other in quick succession. All this is a matter of history, which will not be repeated if the intelligent voters of this commonwealth refuse to be misled in this campaign.

An old-time Republican victory this year in Pennsylvania will strike the biggest gun of the Democracy by eliminating Robert E. Pattison from the presidential list and serving notice to our sister states that, when the next congress meets, we want no tinkering with the tariff, the bulwark of Pennsylvania industries.

The meeting closed with an address by Congressional Candidate Dresser and three cheers for the whole Republican ticket.

The gubernatorial party will today visit Towanda and Athens.

GERMAN GOVERNMENT DEFEATED ON TARIFF

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

BERLIN, Oct. 21.—The government was defeated in the reichstag today in test votes on the tariff bill by the Conservatives and Centrists inserting in the ministry's bill amendments fixing the minimum wheat duties at $4 50 per metric 100 weight, in place of $1 37, and the rye duties $1 37 instead of $1 25. The votes were: Wheat, 194 to 143; rye, 187 to 152.

The minority was composed of National Liberals, Socialists and Radicals. Previous to the roll call Chancellor Von Buelow again firmly announced that it was impossible for the government to accept the amendments.

Three courses are now open to the ministry—dissolve the reichstag, negotiate for a compromise or let the majority pass the bill in any form it chooses and suppress it in the bundesrath. In the latter event commercial treaties will be negotiated on the basis of the present tariff. The chancellor's plan appears to be to do nothing immediately and see if the majority will yield.

YERKES DEFEATS MORGAN

Part of the London Tube Railroad Project Absorbed by a Rival Combination.

LONDON, Oct. 21.—A dramatic development in the fight for the control of London's "Tube" railroads occurred today, when it transpired that Speyer Brothers, who are financing Charles T. Yerkes' plans, had bought control of a large company hitherto allied with the Morgan scheme of transportation, thereby not only reducing the scope of the Morgan projected line by many miles but actually threatening it with legal obliteration.

The latest move in this Morgan-Yerkes rivalry was announced at today's session of the house of commons "Tubes" committee. Sir Edward Clarke, as counsel for the London United Electric Railways, withdrew the bill providing for the construction of that part of the road covering the district westward between Hammersmith and Piccadilly and southward between Clapham and the city.

HIS ANSWER TO BROWN

Pattison Party Find Themselves Among Stanch Friends in Democratic Monroe and Northampton Counties.

By WALTER J. CHRISTY,
Staff Correspondent.

South Bethlehem, Pa., Oct. 21.—The Democratic state candidates were among friends in Monroe and Northampton counties today. Pattison was so popular in Stroudsburg that the women managers of a sanitarium for the cure of alcoholism presented him with a laurel wreath.

The only drawback to Stroudsburg, county seat of Monroe, is its politics. Most of the people there are Democrats. So partisan are the residents of the town that one of them grew exceedingly wroth today when some joker pinned a Pennypacker button on his dog. Stroudsburg is the home of Senator J. D. Lee, who said during the last session of the legislature that the only time the Democrats had a show in Pennsylvania was on the second day at Gettysburg.

The court house was packed. Pattison left the beaten path long enough to try to make the journal of the last legislature an issue. He said that while the journal had been printed and bound, it had not been issued, and would not be until after the election. He asserted that the Republicans are holding it back so that the voters cannot examine into the records of the members.

After Guthrie, J. B. Nolan, Harry E. Grimm and others had spoken, the party left for South Bethlehem, Northampton county. This Democratic stronghold was bubbling over with enthusiasm. There was a parade, followed by a large meeting in the opera house.

It was here that Mr. Guthrie made his reply to the challenge of William M. Brown, Republican candidate for lieutenant-governor. Mr. Brown last night offered to give $1,000 to charity if Mr. Guthrie, before election day, would prepare a constitutional senatorial apportionment bill. The Democratic nominee does not accept the challenge, and turns the matter off in this way:

The offer is hardly worthy of consideration at this stage of the campaign. He may have made his proposition in good faith and I admit that the work incidental to the preparation would probably be worth the amount of money mentioned. I recall the fact, however, that at the last session of the legislature a senatorial apportionment bill was introduced by Senator Henry of Philadelphia, which, so all fair-minded men, seemed to be both liberal and equitable. Senator Henry being a Republican, I take it for granted that the bill was not inimical to the interests of the true Republican party, and as the author is a member of the bar in good standing, I venture the opinion that the bill does not radically violate the constitution. It was, however, killed in committee, but could easily be resurrected. If Senator Brown really wants a fair senatorial apportionment bill, I would suggest that he send to Senator Henry the $1,000 he speaks about and get from him the original draft of that bill.

The Democrats will spend tomorrow in Montgomery county. Night meetings will be held in Norristown, Lansdale and Ambler.

THEORIES ABOUT FOOD.

Also a Few Facts on the Same Subject.

We hear much nowadays about health foods and hygienic living, about vegetarianism and many other fads along the same line.

Restaurants may be found in the large cities where no meat, pastry or coffee is served and the food crank is in his glory, and arguments and theories galore advanced to prove that meat was never intended for human stomachs, and almost make us believe that our sturdy ancestors who lived four score years in robust health on roast beef, pork and mutton must have been grossly ignorant of the laws of health.

Our forefathers had other things to do than formulate theories about the food they ate. A warm welcome was extended to any kind from bacon to acorns.

A healthy appetite and common sense are excellent guides to follow in matters of diet, and a mixed diet of grains, fruits and meats is undoubtedly the best.

As compared with grains and vegetables, meat furnishes the most nutriment in a highly concentrated form and is digested and assimilated more quickly than vegetables and grains.

Dr. Julius Remmson on this subject says: Nervous persons, people run down in health and of low vitality should eat meat and plenty of it. If the digestion is too feeble at first it may be easily corrected by the regular use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after each meal. Two of these excellent tablets taken after dinner will digest several thousand grains of meat, eggs or other animal food in three hours, and no matter how weak the stomach may be, no trouble will be experienced if a regular practice is made of using Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets because they supply the pepsin and diastase necessary to perfect digestion, and every form of indigestion will be overcome by their use.

That large class of people who come under the head of nervous dyspeptics should eat plenty of meat and insure its proper digestion by the daily use of a safe, harmless digestive medicine like Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, composed of the natural digestive principles, pepsin, diastase, fruit acid and salts, which actually perform the work of digestion. Cheap cathartic medicines, masquerading under the name of dyspepsia cures, are useless for indigestion as they have absolutely no effect upon the actual digestion of food.

Dyspepsia in all its many forms is simply a failure of the stomach to digest food and the sensible way to solve the riddle and cure the dyspepsia is to make daily use at meal time of a preparation like Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, which is endorsed by the medical profession and known to contain active digestive principles.

All druggists sell Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets at 50c for full treatment.

R·I·PANS

I had been a sufferer from nervousness and apparent weakness of the heart, which I finally discovered was superinduced through indigestion. I happened to mention my condition to one of my friends (who also had been a sufferer) and he recommended me to try Ripans Tabules. I did so without the least idea of gaining any relief. I am thankful to say that after using them I am a different woman.

COLLEGE ELEVENS INDULGE IN SECRET PRACTICE

YALE TEAM STILL WORKS IN SECRET

The Eleven Is More Closely Guarded Than in Former Years.

TIGERS NEED A CENTER

Coaches Work to Develop One. Harvard Tried Many Candidates and Only Found One Good Man—The Other Teams.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

New Haven, Oct. 21.—(Special.)—Yale's star fullback, Morgan Bowman, the freshman from Hill school, today got into the scrimmage for the first time since he was injured nearly three weeks ago, when his ankle was sprained. He resumed his place at fullback on the 'varsity in the open practice. The secret practice was maintained today and the 'varsity and scrubs were behind closed gates for nearly an hour before the gates were finally thrown open.

The regulations surrounding the secret practice are this year more stringent than ever, and no general statement is given out of either the players or the work done. Heretofore only the character of the formations tried has been guarded. Goss, Metcalf and Vanderpool were laid off today because of slight injuries. Tomorrow afternoon aside from the 'varsity practice there will be a game between the freshman eleven and Andover academy, and the Yale fall track games.

Still Looking for a Center.

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 21.—(Special.)—It was a day for accident and substitutes at the University field today, and the work of the football teams was very slack. Hart and Bradley were both forced to retire from the practice on account of injuries. Dutcher, the big guard who was doing fine work until Saturday, when he sprained his ankle, again did not appear on the field. The coaches are still experimenting to find suitable material for center. Today the practice started with Bradley in the position, later Montgomery was tried and finally Baker. Brown, who has been occupied with conditions since early in the season, played guard on the 'varsity throughout the entire practice.

To develop a strong line, one that will outclass Columbia in the game Saturday, is the one important point for which the coaches are striving. With a fast and sure pair of ends and a strong back field, they have little apprehension there, but the line is causing a great deal of worry.

Tried Many and Found One.

CAMBRIDGE, MASS., Oct. 21.—(Special.)—The coaches continued their rigid work today and tried 55 men for the 'varsity and most of them proved misfits. One of them, however, John Knowles, a sub, astonished the coaches with his rapid work. A notable feature was his 50-yard run with the ball on a kick-off and his fierce tackling. He will be a valuable left half, and may be the regular. A general weeding out of incompetents will begin tomorrow. Kernan came out today, but his three week's lameness evidently made him stale. He has recovered, but his work today was amateurish.

An Old Fashioned Talking To.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 21.—(Special.)—University of Pennsylvania football squad was given a 15-minute talk this afternoon by Coach Dr. Williams. The talk, while brief, was to the point. No words were minced in order to impress on the squad that leaves tomorrow at 10:40 o'clock from Broad street station for Annapolis what was expected of them.

Today's practice was more encouraging than on Monday. Dale surprised the squad by coming out again and demonstrating his ability to be able to be in tomorrow's line-up. After a long signal practice the scrubs were lined up against the varsity at 2:15 o'clock for a 12-minute scrimmage. The scrubs kicked off and the 'varsity advanced the ball to the scrub's 50-yard line on a punt after being held for three downs on their own 30-yard line. The scrubs rushed the ball down the field and by one run of Kellers' managed to get the ball to the 'varsity's 30-yard line, where they were held for three downs, being obliged to kick.

Cornell Still in Bad Shape.

ITHACA, N. Y., Oct. 21.—(Special.)—For a time Cornell's 'varsity was completely demoralized this afternoon, and although touchdowns were rolled up again and again by Capt. Warner, the first eleven was badly damaged by the scrubs, who were coached by "Harry" Purcell. The second team had carefully worked out whirl play on tackle, and this was used very effectively.

Since, on the 'varsity, was a tower of strength on defense, and is now easily the favorite for right guard in the event that Hunt is kept back of the line, Webb, who played at right guard on the scrubs was a conspicuous object of attack by all 'varsity men.

JESSE TANNEHILL STICKS TO AMERICAN

Ex-Pirate Admits Signing for Two Years and Will Not Join the Reds.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CINCINNATI, Oct. 21.—During the past week President Herrmann made an effort to open negotiations with Jesse Tannehill, the star lefthander of the Pittsburgh team the past season. Tannehill is with the All-Americans on the trip to 'Frisco. President Herrmann had information that Tannehill had not signed with the American league for next season, but had only given a promise.

A telegram was sent Tannehill at Omaha, stating that if he had not signed for next season the Cincinnati club would be pleased to open negotiations with him. Yesterday President Herrmann received a letter from Tannehill, in which the pitcher said that he was very sorry that he had not heard from the Cincinnati club before he signed with the American league. He admitted having signed with the New York club of the American league for two years.

Weeks before the season closed Manager Kelley received information that Tannehill had no intention of remaining with the Pittsburgh team another season, and that if he could not get his release to some other National league club he would jump to the American. Kelley thought he would have a chance to sign Tannehill if he could get the Pittsburgh club to waive claim to him. He saw President Dreyfuss, but the latter refused to listen to any such proposition. Chesbro was in a similar boat, and Kelley's efforts to get the Pittsburgh club to let him have him also failed. Now both these stars will be with the American league next season.

OLD RIVALS WILL MEET.

W. U. P. and West Virginia University Elevens Will Engage in Their Annual Contest.

On the Colosseum gridiron this afternoon there is a promise of a battle royal when the rival elevens representing W. U. P. and West Virginia university meet in their annual contest.

This is considered the most important contest of the season for the local eleven, and it is looked forward to with more enthusiasm than any other game. The W. U. P. team will be weakened somewhat by the coaches' all-star players, but some good new ones have been developed who are looked to for fine work, particularly the Jackson brothers, who played on the Pittsburgh high school team last season.

The West Virginians arrived in the city last night and are quartered at the Monongahela house. The players on this team are reported in fine-class trim, and anxious for a fray with their old enemy. The teams will line up as follows, and the game will start at 2:30 o'clock.

W. U. P.		West Virginia.

CHANGED THE SIGNALS.

Wash.-Jeff. Team Also Gets in Some Secret Practice.

WASHINGTON, PA., Oct. 21.—(Special.)—Secret practice for the Washington and Jefferson football team was started this afternoon and will be continued all week. This has been made necessary on account of the adoption of a new code of signals and the intension of the coaches to formulate some new plays for the hard game with the Ohio Medes next Saturday afternoon. McDavitt was unable to get into the playing on account of his broken nose, but will be in shape for the game next Saturday.

The practices all week will be behind closed gates. The Ohio team has not been scored against this year and a great effort will be made by the local players to break this record.

THE CUP DEFENDER.

C. Oliver Iselin Will Again Be in Full Charge.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—(Special.)—It is definitely stated that C. Oliver Iselin will be the managing owner of the new boat which the Herreshoffs are to build for the defense of the America's cup. Mr. Iselin has been abroad with his family since early summer and the arrangements were made by him.

Even before the challenge was seriously talked of, and the leading officials of the club began their preliminary work to defend the old trophy, it was known in the yachting set that Mr. Iselin's newest boat had been obtained, and that he would for the fourth time take charge of a defending yacht.

McAleer Arranging Games.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Oct. 21.—(Special.)—Jimmie McAleer, the manager of the St. Louis club of the American league, is arranging for a series of exhibition games for his team, after the practice season is over next spring. The team will train in Texas and after they are in shape will play throughout the state. "The Browns are so good," said Jimmie today, "that I think they will be able to pay their way throughout the trip.

STAKE EVENT WAS WON BY PLATER

Showed Great Speed and Lowered the Track Record.

CANADIAN JUMPER GOOD

Tip Gallant Won the Corinthian Steeplechase, Making Second Victory in Two Days—Dixiana Stakes Easy for Oom Paul.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, Oct. 21.—A. L. Aste's Plater, favorite in the betting at 9 to 10, won the Silver Brook selling stakes at Morris park today. The gelding also clipped one-half of a second off the track record for five and one-half furlongs, running the distance in 1:02⅘. The previous record was made by Tormentor in 1893. The field was well bunched to the last furlong, where Michaels sent Plater to the front and won easily by a length from Cinquevalli, Wax Candle being third.

The Canadian jumper Tip Gallant again scored an easy victory in the Corinthian steeplechase from the favorite, Harkforward. This is the second win in two days for Tip Gallant.

Was a Runaway Race.

Oom Paul made a runaway race of the Dixiana stakes for 3-year-olds. He broke in front and making all the running, won easily by two lengths from the favorite, Rockwater.

J. A. Drake's Vincennes, winner of the last race, was bid up to $2,205, an advance of $1,200 over his entered price. The stable retained the horse. Summaries:

MEMPHIS MEET GETS FINE START

Big Crowd Was Out and the Races Were Very Exciting.

A SENSATIONAL FINISH

Was Between Sir Albert S. and Sphinx in the 2:08 Pace—Track Very Fast and Records Will Be Broken.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Memphis, Oct. 21.—The Memphis Driving association's fall meeting was opened auspiciously here today with an attendance of 5,000 people. The weather was ideal and the track fast. All the leading harness horsemen of the country are here. The free-for-all pace to wagon, the last event on today's program, was postponed because of darkness.

The card opened with the Magnolia stake. Charley Mac won the first heat handily from Fereno, but the latter had no trouble in passing the wire first in the two succeeding heats.

The 2:08 pace furnished a sensational finish between Albert S., Nervole and Sphinx. Nervole led into the stretch in the deciding heat, when Sir Albert S. and Sphinx came with a rush, making a nose finish. The time of the second heat, 2:04½, showed the track to be in fine condition.

The last event of the afternoon was the 2:14 trot, which was won in straight heats by A. J. D. Summary:

Boston American's New Twirler.

PEORIA, ILL., Oct. 21.—Norwood T. Gibson of this city, who played for the Kansas City Western league team last season, has signed to pitch for the Boston team of the American league next year. His contract calls for $3,000 for the season.

ANOTHER PIRATE TWIRLER.

Fredrick W. Veil Added to the List. Chesbro Was Hit Hard.

Another new pitcher has been added to the Pirates' staff. The latest addition is Frederick W. Veil, a Bucknell college boy, who pitched for Altoona last season and made a very creditable record, beating out such teams as Cleveland and Buffalo. The new man was engaged on the recommendation of Outfielder Seyfring, who was his chum in college and who thinks Veil will be another Mathewson. The new man will be given a thorough trial in the spring games.

Happy Jack Chesbro pitched and lost his first game for the All-Nationals on Monday. The game took place at St. Joseph, Mo., and the All-Americans made 14 hits off Chesbro and won the game 5 to 3. Joss was the opposing pitcher.

Good Going at Johnstown.

JOHNSTOWN, PA., Oct. 21.—(Special.)—The fall meeting of the Gentleman's Driving Park association at Roxbury park today was a marked success. Every race was for Blood. The 2:24 pace was won by Cora Mac, best time, 2:21¾. Fred Gilroy won the 2:12 pace, best time, 2:12½, and McShad the 2:30 trot, best time, 2:24½.

AMONG THE AMATEURS.

Twin City A. C. would like to hear from some 90-pound team for Saturday. Address R. H. Wilson, 402 Park building, or call 68 Grant.

Oakland players are requested to report for practice Wednesday and Thursday nights, to prepare for the game with Shadyside academy next saturday.

The Quakers are without a game for Saturday, and would like to hear from some strong 100 or 105-pound team. Phone Harry Smith, 75 Carnegie Steel Co.

The Quakers will practice Thursday evening and all players are requested to be on hand. All strong 100 or 105-pound teams wanting games in November address H. Smith, 324 Carnegie building, Allegheny.

The manager of the Watson A. C. requests all players to report for practice this evening at 7 o'clock at the corner of Twentieth street and Penn avenue, as there are plenty of strong Liberty A. C. games and Undefeated Juvenile.

The Lowell A. C. players are pretty well crippled up and for this reason would like to secure a game from some light 100 to 105-pound team for a game at home this Saturday. Call 12 Oak, Dell phone, ask for W. Lauer.

The Lawrenceville Indians are in the field this season and are open for games with all good 110 and 115-pound teams in Western Pennsylvania. Would like a game for next Saturday. Address George Fieldhouse, 49½ second street, city.

The Valley A. C. football team still has a few open dates for November. All good 85 to 95-pound teams desiring games are requested to address Mr. W. Harrold, box 35, McKees Rocks, or phone P. & L. E. R. R. 62 ring 3. Half expenses and good treatment guaranteed.

The Pequots players will report for practice on Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock. The Pequots would like to get games with all 140-pound teams for Saturdays in November, the Tigers of Allegheny and Bellevue Outing club preferred. For games address W. B. Lobaugh, 103 Lafayette court.

The manager of the Brushton Mohawk Jrs. would like to hear from the manager of the Coraopolis Indians as soon as possible, about the game for the first of next month. The R. M. Jrs. would like to arrange games with all 65 to 75-pound teams. Address W. M. Verner, Jr., 6713 Kelly street, Pittsburgh.

The Bedford A. C. of the South Side would like to hear from some good 100-pound team for a game to be played on Saturday at South Side Recreation park. Manager Watkins would like to hear from the Unique A. C. for a Saturday game, as the Bedfords refuse to play on Sundays. The South Side A. C. have secured Jarrett, the old center of W. & J., as a coach for both teams.

The Tigers of Allegheny went through some fast practice Monday evening and will practice this and Friday evenings, and all players will please report promptly. Next Saturday they will play the Valley A. C. of McKees Rocks. Any good 90-pound team in Western Pennsylvania or Eastern Ohio desiring a game with the Tigers please address William N. Robson, 130 Allegheny market, Allegheny.

BOTH ELEVENS ARE PREPARING FOR FRAY

The All-Star and East End Teams Shaping Up for Their Contest on Saturday.

The Pittsburgh football eleven had a rather light practice yesterday at the training grounds in Greensburg. Coach Richardson continuing the drill in the new formations that he introduced the previous day. The field is now in splendid condition and the players went through the plays with more speed than has been the custom heretofore.

Richardson was pretty badly used up in the game against Bucknell Saturday, and he will not be in his regular position today in the game with Pittsburgh college, which will be played on the Greensburg grounds. Sherlock will take the place of the captain.

Shirley Bliss, the Harvard fullback of last season, joined the squad yesterday, and he will play in the game against the East Enders Saturday afternoon at Colosseum park.

From now on until next Friday night the football team of the East End Athletic association will practice in secret. A guard will be stationed around the Baum street grounds, and no person not connected with the eleven will be allowed near the football squad. This step was decided on last night by Coaches Joe Heh and Frank Hudson. There was an intimation that the signals with which the team has been playing all season have become public property and the coaches and management decided to take no chances. The signals will be changed tonight.

The members of the team have been practicing faithfully every night for their coming contest with the Pittsburgh All-Star eleven at Colosseum park next Saturday afternoon. The team that lines up against the Stars will be the one that has played together all season, and no new men will be imported for the big game. Manager Walsh is in receipt of letters and telegrams from many of the most famous gridiron artists of the country offering their services for Saturday's contest, but it has been decided to allow none but regular members of the team and subs to take part in the game. This decision was reached on account of the strictly amateurism of the East End team.

Looks Wear and Cost

A Jas. Boss Watch Case looks like a solid gold case—because it is gold inside and out—has more gold on it than can be worn off in 25 years. It is made of three-ply metal. Here's a section of the metal.

Because of the way it is made, it will never get weak nor dent. The

JAS. BOSS Stiffened GOLD Watch Case

Wears better than a solid gold case, is stronger, and so gives greater protection to the watch works. It costs much less, because the sheet of stiffening metal takes the place of the wasted gold in a solid case—the gold that no one ever sees. The Jas. Boss Case is the only Filled Case that has outlived a guarantee of 25 years' wear—thousands have been worn over 40 years. 7,000,000 sold in 49 years. There are poor imitations—don't accept a "just as good."

Mansfield's Greatest Triumph.

It has long been admitted that, with a role for him to feed upon, Richard Mansfield is incomparable. He demonstrated this in his remarkable representation of Brutus in his sumptuous revival of "Julius Cæsar." He has thrown a great light on the role. The critics declare that nothing he has done before approaches this actor's treatment of the scene wherein the terror-stricken Brutus encounters the ghost of the great Caesar in the tent at night. About him is a large company of superior artists. In all there are 300 people in the mob scenes. A special train of 10 cars brings Mansfield and his enormous equipment next week. The sale begins at the box office of the Alvin tomorrow.

BURKS CHANGED PLEA TO GUILTY

Negro Acknowledged Killing Another Negro During a Quarrel.

LIVERYMAN HAD NO CASE

Charged Feed Dealer With False Pretense, Alleging Short Weights Were Used—Few Convictions in Criminal Court.

Robert Burks pleaded guilty yesterday to voluntary manslaughter for the killing of Philip Rissing at Neville Island, June 28. Burks at first entered a plea of not guilty. During the noon hour he decided to make a change.

Burks, his sister and Rissing drank heavily in Pittsburgh, and quarreled after they returned home. Burks shot Rissing in the back with a shotgun.

Before Judge Collier, H. C. McKnight was tried on a charge of false pretense made by M. S. Simms, an East End liveryman. After the case had been heard Judge Collier instructed the jury that no conviction could be made; as there was no evidence to show false representations.

McKnight conducted the Liberty Feed and Grain Company and Simms was a patron. Simms alleged that he was "short weighted" to the extent of $1,200. Frank Austin swore that while employed by McKnight he had been instructed to "short weight" orders and enter two weights on the order book, one the weight which the purchaser was charged and the other actual weight delivered. The former clerk said McKnight had told him the produce was sold so close that it was necessary to make the deduction on the scales.

McKnight denied the statements of the prosecuting witnesses. He also produced several well-known business men as character witnesses. In charging the jury Judge Collier said that "if a man sold a horse to another for $100 without making any representations and the latter afterward discovered the horse to be worth $90, there would be no grounds for a false pretense conviction." The jury acquitted McKnight and divided the costs.

The following were acquitted: Catherine Hoelahan, perjury; Louis Zinser, false pretense; Clem Umbach, false pretense.

HAD STRONG ALIBI.

Valentine Kosturko, Charged With Forging Money Order, on Trial in Court.

In United States district court yesterday the grand jury finished its work and was discharged. The true bills were:

Horace Bell and Catherine Bell, charged separately and jointly with embezzling money of funds; Charles Russell, making moulds for counterfeiting coins, causing same to be made and having moulds in his possession, in six counts; Edward A. Kemerer, placing a letter in the postoffice in executing a scheme to defraud Valentine Kosturko, forging money order at Clearfield postoffice, attempting to pass the same and passing the same; James Leonard, embezzling a letter while clerk in the postoffice at Bradford; Joseph Klein, stealing an obscene letter through the mails.

The indictment against John H. Readman of McKees Rocks was ignored and he was discharged. He was charged with having made a false pension claim.

In the case of Valentine Kosturko witnesses established a good alibi. A money order for $12, addressed to another foreigner, was forged, presented for payment and cashed. Four witnesses testified that Kosturko cashed the order, while Lillian Roeb, manageress for the Western Union Telegraph Company, with an office in the postoffice, declared Kosturko was not the man. Other witnesses testified that he was not at the postoffice at all.

Eugene P. Klein pleaded guilty to the charge of depositing an obscene letter in the mails. He is but a boy. Other similar pleas were: Joseph A. Paff, former janitor at the postoffice, stealing letters from the office. Milton E. Adams, former postmaster at Wigton, Clearfield county, embezzling letter; Lon M. Claybaugh, assistant postmaster at Donora, embezzling letter; Burton D. Little, a former railway postal clerk, stealing letters. Mrs. Margaret Reich, who was assistant postmistress at McMillan, Allegheny county, pleaded guilty on Monday to rifling letters and will be sentenced Thursday.

ECHO OF EXPLOSION.

Another Alleged Corks Run Victim Wants $100,000 Damages from Pennsylvania Railroad Co.

J. J. Wallace, by Attorneys L. E. and S. G. Porter, yesterday entered suit against the Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis Railway Company for $100,000 damages for injuries in the Sheraden disaster on May 12. The plaintiff is a merchant at Cuddy postoffice.

Wallace says he was burned so that portions of his ears dropped off, and the skin in hands and fingers was completely burned away. The plaintiff charges the railroad company with having failed to take the necessary precautions required by law for the transportation of explosives.

Mrs. Nellie Larson sued Jacob Hechtman for $5,000 damages for false arrest. William Grzzbowski sued the United States Glass Company for $5,000 damages for the death of his minor son.

HAMILTON'S ESTATE.

Large Property of the Murdered Glass Manufacturer Goes to His Family.

James W. Hamilton yesterday took out letters of administration on the estate of his father, Albert Hamilton, the Pittsburgh glass manufacturer who was murdered in New York. The estate is a large one, consisting entirely of personal property, interest in one concern alone—J. F. & A. Hamilton—being $500,000. The heirs are Mrs. Albert Hamilton, widow, and the children, James W., Grace E., Frank A. and Albert G. Hamilton.

An inventory and appraisement of the personal estate of John Henry was filed. It shows a valuation of $369,668, of which about $16,000 represents cash in bonds.

DOMESTIC WANTS DAMAGES.

Servant Charges Former Mistress With Ill-Treating Her.

The suit brought by Mrs. Nellie Stark against Mrs. Margaret Hutchinson of Wilkinsburg was called for trial in common pleas No. 1 yesterday. The plaintiff was a domestic in the employ of Mrs. Hutchinson and alleges that her mistress ill-treated her, such as scratching her face and pulling out her hair.

It was alleged for the defense that the plaintiff had especial attention to Mr. Hutchinson. When Hutchinson was on the stand his wife and Mrs. Stark nearly came to blows across the table.

Cases Heard in Supreme Court.

The following cases were argued in the supreme court yesterday: Butler county—Samuel Davidson and others, appellants, against Jacob M. Miller, an action in ejectment. Washington county—Robinson Machine Company against the Hazel Kirk Gas Coal Company, appellant, an action on a contract; appeal of M. H. Stevenson from a decree of the orphans court. Mutual Life Insurance Company against George M. Tenan, M. H. Stevenson, appellant, an action on a mortgage; John B. Jones against Warren Sowers, appellant, an action on a contract; Peabody Gas and Coke Company against Liverton Mining Company against Liverton Thomas, appellant, an action on a contract; Western Washington Railroad Company, appellant, against William P. Houston, an action on a bond; appeal of J. A. Leatherman from a decree in the settlement of the estate of Ann Buggins.

Turnpike Company Sued.

The Home Dressed Meat Company, through Attorney M. R. Trauerman, entered suit against the Birmingham Turnpike Road Company yesterday for $20,000 damages. It is claimed the defendant company changed the grade of its road, causing water to run upon the plaintiff's property, undermining the wall of the plaintiff's building, which consequently destroyed a part of the building.

Society Gets More Power.

J. S. Bell, superintendent of the Western Pennsylvania Humane society, has been appointed a detective by Judge Collier, and given authority to deputize men to do detective work.

HEARING OF YELLOW BOOK COMMITTEE

Firemen Claim They Were Discharged for Not Paying Political Assessments.

Four witnesses were examined by the yellow book committee of councils yesterday. Thomas Kinney, a policeman at the Oakland station, who had been on the force for 18 years, said he was discharged without notice and never had a hearing. He met Director Leslie subsequently and asked why he had been dropped. The director told him it was intended to "improve" the force. In his own opinion it was because he had not signed the yellow book, as he had always previously done.

William Campbell, a fireman at No. 3 engine house, was discharged in August. He refused to sign the book. He said he was discharged for cowardice at the De Noon Bros. fire. He said he got something in his eye and was absent half an hour trying to find somebody to take it out. The charge against him was being absent without leave. He said that while he was at No. 23 engine house the men closed up the house on election day last February and three of them went to work at the polls.

George Hughes, of engine company No. 5, said he had been a fireman 13 years and was discharged on June 30 he believed because he refused to sign the book.

George Barnes, of engine company No. 24, believed his discharge in August was because of his refusal to sign. He was told to report to No. 29 company in June and refused to be transferred, as it was too far away from his home. Four other men were transferred who refused to sign. Mr. Zahniser also produced the testimony taken at his hearing, and it showed he was discharged for being absent without leave.

THIS IS THE LAST DAY.

Subscription Sale of the Pittsburgh Orchestra Concert Closes Tonight.

After tonight no more subscription coupons can be issued for Pittsburgh orchestra evening season tickets. There are seats remaining in the three divisions—$25, $15 and $10—which can be had described for until o'clock tonight at Mellor's, No. 319 Fifth avenue, or at No. 1102 Carnegie building, and those subscribing today have just as good chance at the auction tomorrow at the Alvin theater as those whose subscriptions have been received for weeks.

The auction tomorrow is for the $20 and $15 evening seats and begins at 9 o'clock. Only those holding the subscription coupons can bid. On Friday, at Mellor's, occurs the sale of the remainder of the $20 and $15 seats not disposed of at auction and the $10 evening seats.

Boy Announces Intended Suicide.

LANCASTER, Pa., Oct. 21.—Joseph Habeck, 19 years old, of Columbia has disappeared, leaving a note that his body would be found in the Susquehanna river near Marietta, and giving as the cause for ending his life his inability to pay a debt of $7. He also requested in the note that four girls of Marietta act as his pallbearers.

Making Speed in Molineux Trial.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—Although 13 witnesses were examined in the Molineux trial today, nothing was developed which was not told at the former trial.

OVERLOOKED.

There Are Patent Medicines and Remedies Without Number For Every Disease and Affliction But One.

A prominent physician was recently asked why it was that there are so many "blood purifiers," "nerve tonics" and remedies for every ill, except one of the most common and annoying, viz.: piles. He replied: There are two principal reasons. First, physicians and people in general have thought that the only permanent cure for piles was a surgical operation, that medicinal preparations were simply palliative. Another reason is, that piles is in no sense of the word an imaginary disease; the sufferer from piles is very much aware of the fact, and for this reason the few so-called pile salves, ointments, etc., have been shortlived. The patient very soon discovered their inefficiency.

He says further, fortunately, however, there is a new remedy for piles, which, judging from its rapidly growing popularity, will soon take the place of all other treatment; it has certainly made astonishing cures in this obstinate disease and its merit has made it famous among physicians and wherever it has been introduced. This remedy is sold by all druggists under the name of Pyramid Pile Cure.

From the immediate relief which the Pyramid Pile Cure gives in all forms of piles, many physicians supposed it contained opium, cocaine or some similar substance, but upon analysis it was found to be perfectly free from anything of the kind, and that the instant relief and cure which follows its use is rather the result of its remarkable healing, soothing action on the parts affected.

The Pyramid Pile Cure is the only remedy, except a surgical operation, which immediately relieves and permanently cures every form of piles.

It is sold by druggists at 50 cents and $1, or by mail from Pyramid Drug Co., Marshall, Mich.

EASTERN STOCK MARKET CLOSED NEAR THE LOWEST

Money Easier, but Sterling Exchange Remained Firm--Break in Window Glass and Manipulation of Pittsburgh Coal Local Feature.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

The speculative cliques were not so active in the eastern stock market yesterday, and as a result the transactions were smaller and the tendency of values was downward. The event to which the street had looked forward for months—the declaring off of the anthracite coal strike—occurred at noon, but its effect upon the market had evidently been discounted. At the opening there was a fair display of strength in a few specialties, despite the fact that London quotations for American securities were lower, but up to noon fluctuations were narrow and the tone seemed to become heavy when speculation slackened. There was a feeble rally on the announcement of the action of the miners' convention, but from 1 o'clock to the end of the session the tone was weak, and the market finally closed at or near the low point. Missouri Pacific sold off on the report of earnings for August, showing a decrease in net of about $200,000. The other Gould stocks declined in sympathy, particularly the Wabash issues, which may have been influenced by the denial of a published report that a security company had been organized for the purpose of combining all the Gould properties and incidentally increasing the capitalization of the same. It is the general belief that not only this group of properties, but several others, will eventually be controlled by a combination similar to the Northern Securities Company, but until the litigation involving the legality of the latter is settled, little progress is likely to be made with pending deals. Baltimore & Ohio and Norfolk & Western, which have recently been the objects of attention at the hands of the western clique, closed at the lowest prices of the day. The Pennsylvania railroad owns one-third of the total issue of Norfolk & Western common and one-fourth of the preferred. It also owns about one-seventh of the total Baltimore & Ohio common and less than one-half of the preferred. The story that purchases of these stocks were for the purpose of "turning a trick" similar to that played in Louisville & Nashville does not appear to have seized hold upon the public. The weakness in St. Paul, which sold down to 190¼, was accompanied by a rumor of a threatened strike of switchmen on the system. Western Union was apparently not affected by a report of the organization of the commercial telegraph operators into a labor union, to be affiliated with the railway operators, who have already a strong organization.

Call money rates ranged between 5 and 6 per cent, closing at 5 per cent. Offerings were larger than for some time past, and there was a distinctly easier tone to the market for time loans. At the same time sterling exchange remained firm, the rate being only a fraction away from the point at which gold has heretofore been exported. The banks continue to gain from the sub-treasury, the total since last Friday being $12,686,000. By next Friday, however, $21,250,000, representing the first payment of 50 per cent on subscriptions to the Baltimore & Ohio new stock must be paid, and other large transactions fall due within the next 70 days. At the same time the grain movement, which was held back by bad weather last month, is increasing, calling for additional funds. Yesterday's receipts at 4 principal western cities amounted to 1,787,428 bushels, an increase of 654,000 bushels over the corresponding day last year. From the action of the stock market yesterday it looked as though the bull leaders appreciated prevailing monetary conditions and would be satisfied with making occasional dashes against the short interest, while holding the general market as near its present level as possible.

The local stock market was more active than for some time past, the sales aggregating 11,500 shares of stock and $15,000 bonds. More than one-half the transactions, however, consisted of Pittsburgh Coal common, the dealings in which were of a kind designated by the street as "mystifying the trade." In other words, one large house appeared to be willing to either buy or sell, and it did not apparently make any difference whether the operation was at a loss or a profit. One block of 720 shares changed hands three times during the day, being sold at the opening at 30¾, later changing back from the same hands at 30, and finally being disposed of at 30½. The stock finally closed where it opened at 30¾ bid. The preferred stock declined ¼, closing at 89¾ bid. River Coal was dull at 11¾ for the common and 40 for the preferred, closing unchanged.

The only decidedly weak stock in the list was American Window Glass common, which opened lower at 58, broke to 56½, and rallied to 57, a net loss for the day of 1¾. None of the preferred changed hands, but the stock declined to 89½ bid, 90 asked. The weakness was based upon the financial statement submitted at the annual meeting. This showed total profits for the year of $874,093 87, and net profits applicable to dividends of $747,791 94, as compared with $1,412,109 30 net profits for the preceding year. The dividends paid during the fiscal year, being 7 per cent on the preferred and 6 per cent on the common, called for $1,080,000, so that the company was compelled to draw upon its surplus of $861,000 after two years' business. The falling off of about one-half in profits is ascribed entirely to the trade war which continued throughout a greater part of the year. According to the president's report, the disturbing element has now been removed, and if general business remains as prosperous as during the past two years, there should be a restoration of earnings of the company.

The iron and steel stocks were moderately active and steady. Crucible Steel opened higher at 21¾ and was in good demand at 21, closing ¼ higher on the day's business. The preferred remained steady and unchanged at 86. United States Steel sold at 41, a decline of ½. There were no transactions in the preferred, but it closed steady at 89¼ bid ex-dividend of 1¾ per cent, equivalent to 91. Pressed Steel Car preferred distinguished itself by establishing a new high record, 100 shares selling at 95, a gain of ¾ over the last preceding sale. The Westinghouse stocks were unusually dull, not a share of Electric changing hands, and only five shares of Airbrake, which sold at 177, an advance of a dollar a share. Fire Proofing stocks were irregular, the common selling at 20½, an advance of ¼, while the preferred sold at 38½, a decline of ½. Just before the close of the market Pittsburgh Brewing common gave an exhibition of strength, selling at 31¾, regular and advancing to 32½, bid for 1,000 shares, buyer 30 days. The preferred sold at 48 and closed at 48¾ bid. Philadelphia Company shares did not respond to the fine showing of earnings for September, the common closing at 48¾@48¼ and the preferred at 49¾ bid.

Dealings in the bank and trust company group were small and prices irregular. Pennsylvania Trust sold at 200, an advance of 4 per cent. Real Estate Trust declined to 305, and Commonwealth Trust after selling at 246, a decline of 2 points, was offered at the close at 245. Pittsburgh Trust sold unchanged at 890. The company yesterday declared the regular quarterly dividend of 5 per cent and an extra dividend of 5 per cent. The bond list was quiet and unchanged.

UNION MEMBERS MUST TESTIFY

Attorney General Knox Holds Contrary Brotherhood Oath Cannot Bind.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 21.—(Special.)—Attorney General Knox, in an opinion given to Secretary Shaw, holds that the oath taken in labor unions cannot be held to prevent the members of the unions from answering questions in court that involve their fellow-members.

The point was raised by members of the Tugmen's association of Cleveland. Four members of the union were tried by a marine court for dereliction of duty. Witnesses declined to answer questions on the ground that their brotherhood oath forbade. Subsequently these witnesses were discharged by the steamboat owners and a strike which tied up traffic on the great lakes for months resulted. The deputy solicitor, Felix A. Reene, held that the marine court could not require witnesses to violate their union oath, and the steamboat owners appealed to the treasury.

NEWS FROM THE MINES.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—The Bingham-and New Haven Copper and Gold Mining Company has acquired the Zelnora, Morning Star and Fridge groups at Bingham, Utah. The company is capitalized at $2,000,000 and is offering by capitalists of New Haven.

A dispatch from Boise, Idaho, says the shaft of the Sunnyside at Thunder mountain has gone through the ore body 50 feet. An average sample of the entire shaft showed 524 40 a ton.

Operations are to be resumed on the Washington at Frisco, Utah and the ledge prospected from a new opening.

Good ore has been struck in the Minnesota, Monarch county, Col., all the way down from the 400 to the 500 foot levels.

Large reserves of ore have been opened in the Chicago and Sugnot Company's mine near San Antonio de Peralta, Mexico, and a 20-stamp mill is to be installed.

Mining is reported active in the Picacillas, N. M. Recent gold discoveries are proving up well.

Work has been suspended in the main workings of the Independence Con. at Cripple Creek owing to a flow of water at a depth of 1,000 feet.

In sinking the new shaft on the St. Charles at Magnolia, Col., a narrow streak of ore running several dollars to the pound has been uncovered. The electro-chlorination plant is about ready to start.

Lessees have opened pay ore in the 500-foot level on the north end of the Cotsimans at Cripple Creek. The vein is between two and three feet wide and carries a streak of six inches that averages $30 to the ton.

The Metal Market.

The advances of yesterday in the tin markets were followed today by a partial reaction both here and at London. Spot Straits closed unsettled about at 27 75@27 75 and there was a decline of about £1 at London, with spot quoted at £120 10s and futures at £119. Copper, like tin, lost a part of the recent advance, closing in London 2s 6d lower at £72 12s 6d for spot and £72 13s 9d for futures. New York quotations at the close were at 11c nominal for standard, $11 80 for electrolytic, $11 75 nominal for casting. Lake copper was dull and nominally steady at 12@12½. In the local market, but London advanced 1s 3d, closing at £19 10s. Spelter also was dull at $5 50 locally, but higher in London, where it closed at £22 5s. Pig-iron, Iron, Coal and Coke were lower. Glasgow closing at 57s 2d and Middlesboro at 52s 9d. Locally iron was quiet but steady, no changed prices. Warrants continue nominal. No. 1 foundry northern is quoted at $23@25. No. 2 foundry northern, No. 1 foundry southern and No. 1 foundry southern soft, $22@23.

INSPECTING THE PENNSY.

General Manager's Trip Began Yesterday, and President Cassatt Will Start Monday.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., Oct. 21.—A. J. Cassatt, president of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, accompanied by the directors and a number of the officials of the company, will start Monday on the annual inspection of the lines of the company between here and the west.

It is understood that the trip will take in the system between Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, and then to Cleveland, Erie and Buffalo. At Buffalo a site for a new station will be viewed.

The work which is now being done on the Philadelphia & Erie railroad is to be examined. It is said this division will be double-tracked.

The general manager's inspection trip began today, taking in the main line between New York and Pittsburgh, and the Philadelphia, Wilmington & Baltimore system between this city and Washington.

Hotel Victoria lunch can't be beaten for 60c. A la carte meals at any time.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

Gulley Oil stock was offered on the local exchange at 70.

Standard Chain preferred was quoted at 32 bid, 35 asked.

Republic Iron & Steel common was one of the active specialties in New York yesterday.

If the Pittsburgh Trust Company maintains the rate of dividends declared, 25 per cent declared for the past year, it will distribute $500,000 annually to stockholders.

South Side Trust was offered at 107 and People Trust of the South Side at 109. North American Savings closed offered at 116, and United Realty Trust was offered at 120.

The comptroller of currency has announced the selection of James H. McCutcheon as president of the United States National bank, who takes the place of William G. Foster, deceased.

There was no transaction in Westinghouse Electric seconds preferred yesterday, the stock standing all day at 109. Nothing of importance in the individual in a stock that has been a leader in the market.

At the close of the market 32½ was bid for 1,000 shares of Pittsburgh Brewing common, buyer 30 days. Within the period of this option the company will take action on the dividend on preferred, paying a quarterly rate with the rate will be raised from 4 per cent to at least 5 per cent per annum.

There was a sale of 26 shares of Fayette Gas on the local exchange yesterday at 75. Wheeling Gas was strong and higher, advancing to $1 bid, no second price, and being offered at $1 25 without takers. The dividend question this letter will no doubt be increased by the higher cost of coal. Union Gas Corporation stock was quoted at 100 asked.

Wall street dispatch: "Sentiment on the floor is on the whole bearish. It is believed that very strong representations were made to the organization of the stock market movement that no encouragement to their tactics could be looked for from the banks or from certain powerful interests in the street. In fact it is said that the only organized support that will have to be relied upon in the next ten years. These bridges will cost an average of $50,000. It is safe to assume that they will be built of steel. The total expenditure for the year 1902 made by the Steel Corporation will amount to about $2,500,000,000 during that time, or more than twice the entire capital stock of the company. Outlines that the Steel Trust will need for raising the revenue to be derived from that source would be enormous."

The recent declining tendency in the market value of Window Glass stock prepared the street for an unfavorable showing at the annual meeting, but it was not prepared for the statement that the profits had so much shrunken. This showed a decrease of $604,000 in earnings applicable to dividends, and in paying the latter the company was compelled to dip into its surplus to the extent of $322,000. The effect will no doubt be increased by the higher cost of coal, as well as by the shrinkage in profits.

According to street gossip, some questionable tactics are being used by parties desirous of obtaining control of a prominent down-town bank. It is alleged that circulars are being sent out influencing holders of the stock to give options on the same to the would-be buyer, the latter circulating stories to the detriment of the bank's business. If the institution referred to can obtain legal evidence of these allegations, it will probably seek redress in the courts.

Increase in estimated earnings, expenses and net earnings of the Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis Railway Company for September, and nine months ended September 30, 1902, as compared with corresponding periods of 1901: September, gross earnings, increased $244,207; operating expenses, increased $244,451; net earnings, decreased $1844. January 1 to September 30, gross earnings, $2,464,844; operating expenses, $1,451,550; net earnings, increased $183,994.

There was again considerable talk in regard to the prospects of ore shipments, but although sterling exchange remained firm no further advance took place and the business done was comparatively small. The supply of bills was not large, but on the other hand there was only a small demand for remittances. Although the situation is decidedly better than it was a week ago, nevertheless there is a strong feeling that the movement of grain must result in re-creating a condition almost as dangerous as that which existed previous to the adoption of the relief measures by the secretary of the treasury.

The dealings in Pittsburgh Coal yesterday attracted more than usual attention. Sproul & Co. executed orders on both the buying and selling side, aggregating about 5,000 shares. At the opening John D. Bailey sold the firm a block of 720 shares at 30¾. An hour or so later Bailey bought the same block from the same firm at 30, and just before the close sold it at 30½ to Hill & Co. Holmes & Sons bought a block of 500 shares at 30 from Sproul & Co., and later sold it back at 30¾. Walker & Wainwright and Barbour each sold 500 shares at 30. Sproul & Co. being the buyers. While there was a large turnover in Pittsburgh Coal shares at 30¼ to Hill & Co. The market closed at 30¾, making what traders call "the round trip" during the day.

Mr. David R. Stokes, of the American Surety Company, is quoted in the Wall Street Journal as follows: "I expect to see United States Steel selling at 70 or 75 before the end of the year, and I have advised all my friends to invest all the money they can command in the property. There are 30,000 wooden railroad bridges in the United States that will have to be replaced within the next ten years. These bridges will cost an average of $50,000. It is safe to assume that they will be built of steel. The total expenditure for 1902 made by the Steel Corporation will amount to about $2,500,000,000 during that time, or more than twice the entire capital stock of the company. Outlines that the Steel Trust will need for raising the revenue to be derived from that source would be enormous."

News of the Rivers.

At 9 o'clock last night the marks on the gauge at the Davis Island dam indicated a depth of 3.6 feet and the river was falling.

The steamboat inspectors yesterday inspected the Jim Brown.

The Delta is about ready to get up steam. The boat has been rebuilt.

The steamer Golden Rod, the United States lighthouse tender, is due in port from the Ohio river.

The steamer Ensign, which sank several days ago on the Ohio river, has been raised and will be repaired.

The government snagboat Woodruff is this side of Wheeling, and it is possible she will come to Pittsburgh.

Lock No. 2, Monongahela, is still closed. It is thought it will be opened today so that boats can go direct to Morgantown.

A special meeting of Harbor No. 25, Masters and Pilots, was held yesterday for the purpose of initiating Capt. Benj. F. Thomas.

Capt. John L. Kerr left for Cincinnati last night by rail to bring the towboat P. M. Peell to Pittsburgh with a tow of empties.

Capt. Henry Thomas, who recently celebrated his 72d birthday, has been piloting in the Cincinnati and Louisville trade since he was a boy.

The oldest son of Capt. and Mrs. Holmes Harger, Jr., of Avalon, is ill with typhoid fever. While the lad is very sick, it is thought that he will recover.

The towboat G. W. Thomas left Louisville yesterday for Pittsburgh with 11 empty barges. The boat delivered 12 barges of coal at Louisville for C. Jutte & Co.

W. N. Gordon, who returned from the south has gone to Cincinnati for the purchase of a sidewheel packet which he intends to place in the Pittsburg and McKeesport trade.

The steamer Kanawha has been painted inside and out and Capt. W. E. Hoe says that the boat is now in first-class condition. It is said that Capt. Hoe keeps his boat in good repair.

If the Greenwood is unable to come to Pittsburgh on Friday, the steamer Cricket will come in her stead. The Lorena may have difficulty in reaching Pittsburgh, but will make every effort to reach here.

Capt. Eisenbarth has awarded the contract to the Parkersburg Dock Company for the construction of a hull 300 feet long and 54 feet wide. It will be a modern craft. John C. McConnell will superintend the construction.

Capt. Jacob Menges, who has spent much time lately in Cleveland, has returned to Pittsburgh. The captain, who is one of the oldest and one of the best mariners that ever commanded a steamboat on the Ohio river, has lost the sight of one eye. He was ill for some time, but is now recovering nicely.

C. Jutte & Co. yesterday received word that all the barges grounded at Twelve Pole by the Gleaner had been recovered and the coal has been taken to Cincinnati by the P. M. Peell, which was sent from Pittsburgh to assist in raising the barges. Capt. John L. Kerr, one of the pilots of the Gleaner, who returned yesterday from Cincinnati, said that if the Peell Wilson had been about half a mile farther in the rear, the accident would not have happened to either boat. The Gleaner is at Cincinnati waiting to go on the dock. It will be several days before the boat can be taken out on the ways for repairs.

MOVEMENTS IN TRADE.

RETURNING TOWBOATS WILL FIND LOW WATER

Several Hundred Empties Cannot Be Brought to Pittsburgh Unless There Is a Rise.

The Ohio river has fallen rapidly within 24 hours and none of the returning Ohio river towboats now on their way up the river with large tows of empties will be able to reach Pittsburg unless there is a rise. It is thought, however, that most of the steamers will be able to come as far as Safe Harbor and the heavier boats to Wheeling.

The towboats are bringing several hundred empties and if they get into port by the first week in November the coal companies will give the miners plenty of work for weeks to come. A large amount of coal is loaded, but most of the coal waiting shipment is in coalboats and it will take an 11 or 12-foot stage of water at the Davis Island dam to move the craft.

On account of the low water in the Ohio no coal can be shipped to New Orleans. There is a good market for all the fuel that can be sent to Cincinnati and Louisville, and operators believe that the demand for coal will continue good during the winter, for there is no anthracite for sale in the southern markets and soft coal must be used in its place.

WINDOW GLASS WAR WAS VERY COSTLY

Annual Meeting of the American Company Was Held Here Yesterday.

The annual report of the American Window Glass Company, submitted to the stockholders at their annual meeting yesterday, revealed the costly effect of the trade war in which the company was involved in the year. Profits from glass sales and other sources are shown as $874,663, and there was charged off for depreciation in property $126,051, leaving net profits $747,702. Dividends paid were $880,000, part of which had to be met out of the surplus from the year before. The surplus at the beginning of the present fiscal year, September 1, was $861,123. The year before there was charged off for depreciation $700,000 from net income of $1,712,109.

Through the trade war the Independent Glass Company, which made the aggressive moves in the open market, was forced to liquidate, and is said to have lost in the neighborhood of $2,000,000.

The report of the American Company contains nothing of a purpose to operate a window glass blowing machine, which is being tried in a plant at Alexandria, Ind., and is said to provide for the cutting in half of the labor costs. President James A. Chambers said in his report:

While business generally has been unusually good for the past year, and the consumption of window glass has been larger than for any previous year in the history of the country, our profits were much less than they should have been under conditions so favorable. The fact is, we had every indication of having a very profitable and satisfactory year's business for jobbers and manufacturers, but the unaccountable action of the Independent Glass Company upset all our calculations.

When we met to make arrangements for the sale of our product the representatives of the Independent Glass Company, without explanation or excuse, refused absolutely to co-operate, and instead of entering into a mutual agreement for the distribution of our glass, dislocated the situation in the market and offered their glass below what it cost, many of their members to make. There was only one of two things left for us to do, meet their prices and sell, and sell with them, or hold our goods and then sell what we could at better prices. We chose the latter course, and by so doing, and with the co-operation of the Fourth Factor Co-Operative Company, managed to get a profit out of our glass.

The stockholders re-elected the following directors: Thomas Wightman, M. K. McMullin, T. H. Given, William L. Elkin, Philadelphia; P. A. B. Widener, Philadelphia; William Loeffler, Jr., E. Chambers, W. G. McCandless, N. T. De

BIG PROJECTS CONSUMMATED

Pittsburgh Syndicate Will Invest $1,500,00 at Castle Shannon.

FINE MANSION PLANNED

Swissvale Frontage Sold for $24,000—Beaver Falls Hotel Sold. Deals in Wilkinsburg—Eighteen Houses for Glenwood.

The outcome of numerous real estate deals and legal proceedings in the Castle Shannon district is to be the plotting and improving of a tract of 1,400 acres, the titles to which are now in the hands of a syndicate of well-known Pittsburgh men. The deals for the farms have been made singly, the purchasers being individuals, and the magnitude of the enterprise was only learned in connection with the granting of several charters Monday.

The property bought lies in Bethel, Baldwin and Scott townships. The Charlerol street car line runs along one side of the property, and with the macadamized roads gives good access to the city. It is proposed to plot the entire tract as rapidly as possible into lots of one-fourth acre each, which will be sold with building restrictions. Sixty-foot streets are to be graded, paved and sewered, and gas and water mains will be laid. Part of the property will be put on the market early in the spring and the remainder as fast as the improvements are completed.

The syndicate has already received seven charters for public works as follows: The Scott Gas Company, Castle Shannon Gas Company, Summit Park Gas Company and the Summit Park Electric Company, all in Bethel township; the Castle Shannon Water Company, the Bethel Township Water Company and the Arlington Water Company, the last for Baldwin township. The entire outlay will involve nearly $1,500,000.

Proposed Residence to Cost $500,000.

Plans are being prepared in the offices of Alden & Harlow for another palatial residence which will belong to F. T. F. Lovejoy. Some time ago Mr. Lovejoy commissioned the architects to prepare plans for a residence to be built on a Squirrel hill site, and a beautiful design was submitted. Before bids were taken Mr. Lovejoy changed his plans and will now build in Braddock avenue, where he now lives.

No details have been given out but it is understood the mansion will cost at least $500,000. The work of building will not be started for several months, owing to the fact that it will be erected on the site now occupied by Mr. Lovejoy's stable. This will be torn down as soon as the new stable, for which a permit was granted recently, is completed. The latter will cost $150,000, and with the proposed residence and landscape work will add another to the list of Pittsburgh's costly homesteads that rival the finest to be found in any city in the country.

Swissvale Plot Brings $24,000.

Through the agency of the Union Realty Company George H. Bennett, the wholesale liquor dealer, has sold a large plot of vacant frontage at Swissvale for $24,000. The property is situated in the west side of Braddock avenue, directly across from the station, and adjoins the McCague holdings. It has a frontage of 400 feet in Bradock avenue, 325 feet in Church street and 400 feet in McClure avenue. The buyer, whose name is withheld, is a local railroad man who proposes to plot the property and put it on the market, so it is said.

The deal for the purchase of the Merchant's hotel at Beaver Falls, mention of which was made in The Gazette yesterday, has been closed and the property is now in the hands of James K. Leahy and S. G. Lennox, who secured title to it from William McHenry. The deal was negotiated by James M. McNeil and Warren & Gray. The hotel is a three-story brick building containing 56 rooms and is located at the corner of Fifth and Ninth streets. It was valued at $12,000. The other side of the exchange consisted of 91 lots, 28x130 feet each, in the Bowman plan, Ninth ward, McKeesport. These were figured on a basis of $26,000. Mr. McHenry tendered cash and mortgages to offset the difference in the property values.

Still a Puzzle.

Reports of the sale of the American Trust Company building at No. 333 Fourth avenue continue in circulation in spite of the statements of W. J. Mustin and J. D. Nicholson, the owners, that the property is off the market. It was reported from several sources yesterday that the property had been sold for about $150,000. One rumor to the effect that the Union Trust Company had bought it was squashed by the positive denial of its president, H. C. McEldowney.

It is known that Kaskel Solomon was in the market for the property last week, but with the statement that the building was off the market it was inferred that his deal were off. The lot, having a frontage of only 80 feet, is best adapted for banking or office purposes, and it is believed that it has been purchased by some financial institution, if a deal has been effected.

R. S. Faris & Co. and A. P. Gillespie have sold to J. Ingersoll two properties for $18,000. The larger parcel consists of two 10-room modern brick houses, standing on lots 25x140 feet each on the north side of Sixth avenue, near Swissvale avenue, Second ward, Wilkinsburg. The other property is a vacant lot 80x150 feet in Edgewood avenue, Edgewood. In part payment for the properties Mr. Ingersoll tendered an improved lot 75x200 feet in Glenfield valued at $4,000. The difference in the deal will be paid in cash.

Will Go in Automobiles.

An innovation in lot sales will be tried Saturday, when, if the weather permits, the Stanton Land Company will carry some prospective buyers to its lot plan in Stanton avenue in automobiles. The autos will start from the corner of Stanton and Negley avenues, and the corner of Stanton avenue and Butler street. The property is known as the James McKee holdings and was bought by the Stanton Land Company about two months ago. Since then it has been platted into 114 lots measuring 30 and 40x120 feet each. Sidewalks are now being laid and the company proposes to grade the streets and put in the usual improvements. The lots vary in price from $600 to $1,800 each. A coupon will be issued to every grown person attending the sale and the owner of the lucky number will receive a free title to a desirable lot.

Another lot sale in what is known as Lincoln park began yesterday and will continue through tomorrow. The plan is being handled by Thomas & Scheer & Co. who are also offering special inducements to purchasers. Every buyer gets upon receipt of the first payment of $10 a 15 per cent discount from the list price of his lot. The property lies along Verona and Travella boulevards, and in view of the early completion of the Lincoln avenue bridge for street car service is a very desirable residence locality.

18 Houses for Glenwood.

Bids are now being received for the erection of 18 houses which will be built by W. S. Haynes in the Glenwood Land Company's plan of Glenwood. The houses will be built in Renova street on lots having a frontage of 24 feet with a depth of 85 feet. They are to be seven-room brick dwellings with baths and other conveniences and will cost $2,600 each. Mr. Haynes now has seven similar houses nearly complete, and the fact that everyone of them is sold is proof that the building of such dwellings is a safe and profitable venture, even at the much talked of high prices.

John A. Davison has purchased from Mrs. W. J. Ames a property in the Third ward, Allegheny, for $11,800. The lot measures 20x96 feet in Boyle street and is improved. The purchase was made for an investment.

The report that the Empire building is to be converted into a hotel is being circulated persistently in Oakland, though it is impossible to get any official confirmation of the rumor. The location of the building and the comparative ease with which it could be made into a hotel give color to the report. Louis M. Stevens, superintendent of the building, when seen about the matter yesterday refused to say anything about it. He would not express an opinion as to the truth of the report, merely saying that he could not discuss his employers' affairs.

Many Small Buildings.

Yesterday was another busy day in the building inspector's office, nine permits having been issued, calling for expenditures aggregating $30,150. The only large permit was granted to Anna D. Childs for a three-story brick apartment house in Almeda street, near Second avenue, Twenty-third ward, to cost $16,000. Other permits were issued to Francis Fathers for a two-story addition at Turret and Meadow streets, Nineteenth ward, $5,000; the United Ice and Supply Company, a two-story iron-clad building in Lytle street, Twenty-third ward, $2,800; David J. Davis, a twostory frame house at Eccles and Conway streets, Twenty-seventh ward, $3,000; Isaac M. Bear, a two-story frame dwelling in Vespucius street, near Second avenue, Twenty-third ward, $2,000; E. A. Getty, a two-story frame house in Ross street, near Elizabeth street, Twenty-third ward, $1,850; H. C. Herberger, a two-story frame house in Ashton street, near Elizabeth street, Twenty-third ward, $1,200, and Mrs. ohn Black, a two-story frame dwelling in Whipple street, near Nevada street, Twenty-second ward, $1,000.

Probably the Pennsy.

Simen street: Joseph M. Dixon sold for John C. Duncan to William J. Lohr a two-story brick house, lot 37x103 feet, in Simen street, Twenty-first ward, for $5,500. It is rumored that the deal was made in the interest of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, which is securing other properties along the street.

Wilkinsburg: R. S. Faris & Co. sold for Harlan P. Williams to H. E. Slocum a 10-room brick house, lot 25x135 feet, on the north side of South avenue, near West street, Third ward, Wilkinsburg, for $5,000. The same brokers sold for Duff & Wallace Mrs. Agnes Shaner a 7½ brick house, lot 50x110 feet, on the east side of Duquesne avenue, near Boyd street, Swissvalein, for $4,200.

Wilkinsburg: W. H. H. Friend sold for the Ira C. Ewing Company to David and Andrew Thomson, each, a 25x100 foot each, at the corner of Montier and Center streets, Wilkinsburg, for $1,350. The buyer will build two $2,000 houses. The same broker sold for D. A. Ritz to Elvira Schlangenhaupt two brick houses, lots 25x170 feet each, on the north side of South avenue, near Swissvale avenue, Wilkinsburg, for $6,500; also, for R. P. and J. E. McDowell a two-story frame house, lot 35x55 feet, on the east side of Hays street, near North avenue, Wilkinsburg, for $3,000.

Small Home Sold.

Edgewood: R. S. McDowell & Co. sold for Mrs. Rose Wilson to Miss Minnie Stoner a six-room brick house, lot 28x105 feet, on the west side of Franklin street, near Coal street, Edgewood, for $3,400.

Margaretta street: The Real Estate Trust Company sold for Clara J. Stieren to Jessie Wilson a lot on the north side of Margaretta street, near St. Clair street, Nineteenth ward, for $7,250.

Pullman street: The C. H. Wanner Company sold for C. H. Wanner to the Apollo Trust Company two lots 36x90 feet on Pullman street, Twenty-third ward, for $6,400.

Webster avenue: The Commonwealth Real Estate and Trust Company sold for Garrett Crossman to Daniel Edwards an improved lot 22x104 feet on the south side of Webster avenue, near Kirkpatrick street, Thirteenth ward, for $4,000.

Tioga street: Lee N. Miller sold to Duffield M. Cunningham an improved lot 25x153 feet on the north side of Tioga street, Thirteenth ward, for $4,000.

Twelfth street: Frank Savino bought at sheriff's sale the James M. Kirk property, an improved lot 16x50 feet in Twelfth street, Ninth ward, for $4,000.

Morgan street: E. Succop & Son sold for Alice Succop to Clarence Reitz writer a lot 21.5x150 feet on the west side of Morgan street, Twenty-seventh ward, for $1,500.

John P. Rush sold for Mrs. B. A. Skipp a property on the east side of Lincoln avenue, consisting of a lot 20x100 feet, on which is erected a two-story frame building containing five rooms and a store room, to Thomas Thompson for $2,800.

Coffee and Sugar.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—Coffee futures opened steady and unchanged and were quiet all day with practically no change from Monday's quotations. Trade was at a standstill for the most part of the session, and generally professional in character. The cables were featureless. The closing was steady, with November nominally 5 points higher and other months unchanged. Sales, 9,000 bags, including December at 5.15c; March at 5.50c; May at 5.50@5.55c; July at 5.65@5.70c; September at 5.80c. Sugar—Raw firm; fair refining, 3 1-16c; centrifugal, 96 test, 3⅞c. Molasses sugar, 2 13-16c. Refined firm.

Railroaders Ordered Back to Work.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—Anthracite coal-carrying railroads, through orders just issued by the general managers, have called back into service all trainmen, station agents and clerks laid off in consequence of the suspension of coal transportation during the strike.

ALL GRAINS ARE LOWER ON BEARISH WEATHER

Wheat Prices Hold Firm When Statistics Received Are Taken Into Consideration.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—Lower cables and excellent weather caused a weaker tone to the grain markets on the board of trade today, December wheat closing ⅝ lower, December corn ⅝@⅝c lower, and oats ⅜c lower, while January provisions closed from 12½c to 25c lower.

Wheat was influenced by bearish statistics, ideal weather and the break on the coarse grains. During the day there was considerable selling of December by prominent locals, but the market held firm, considering the extremely bearish tendency of all statistics. Strength in the northwest markets was a supporting feature. The closet was about steady. Primary receipts were 1,751,000 bushels, against 1,123,000 bushels a year ago. Minneapolis and Duluth reported receipts of 1,200 cars, which with local receipts of 154 cars—one of contract grade—made total receipts for the three points of 1,179 cars, against 1,196 cars last week, and 962 cars a year ago.

Corn was liquidated freely again today, and commission houses generally had a large number of stop orders to execute, the market being decidedly irregular. Excellent drying weather and large receipts added an impetus to the selling, the offerings being taken largely by shorts. Local receipts were 316 cars, with 95 cars of contract grade.

Oats were dull and featureless, the weakness in other grains being the main depressing influence. Fluctuations were confined within a very narrow range. Local receipts were 344 cars.

With a still further decline in the price of hogs and larger receipts at the yards, together with the extreme weakness in corn, provisions were dull and lower, closing weak at the decline.

Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat, 90 cars; corn, 180 cars; oats, 145 cars; hogs, 35,000 head.

The leading futures as corrected by John D. Armstrong & Co., 200 Sixth street, members of Chicago board of trade:

WALL STREET TRADING VERY LIGHT IN VOLUME

Many Leading Stocks Show Decline, Some of More Than Four Points for Day.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—Trading in the stock market today was light in volume, very narrow and devoid of any noteworthy feature. There was just a bare suggestion of activity at the opening, but this was almost altogether due to moderate buying for account of the western speculative contingent. The market soon became very dull and save for a few spasmodic rallies continued so to the end. Missouri Pacific's unfavorable showing for August caused heavy selling, with an extreme decline of 2 points. Much of the selling came from one of the pools that had been prominent in the stock.

Operations throughout the day were almost altogether professional, and at no time did the list reflect any public interest. These conditions were not caused by the monetary situation, money being very easy, but in light demand. Sterling exchange was firm around 84 86.26, ½ to ¾ of a cent from the export point, but nothing other than gossip has yet been heard concerning gold exports. Government ds amounting to about $2,000,000 par value were bought by the sub-treasury today, making total local disbursements, including interest, about $18,000,000. The sub-treasury also paid out $400,000 for Klondike gold deposited at San Francisco.

London was a seller on balance to the extent of about 15,000 shares. The more extensive declines for the day included Northwestern, 5⅝; St. Paul, pfd., 4¼; Wabash, 3; Lackawanna, 4; Canadian Pacific, 1⅜; Baltimore & Ohio, 1½; Norfolk & Western, 1¼, and Atchison, Pennsylvania, St. Paul, Union Pacific and Southern Pacific a point each. In some instances there were recoveries from the low level, but the list as a whole closed decidedly weak.

The speculative bond issues showed weakness and the market was under pressure throughout. Total sales (par value) $1,735,000. United States bonds were all unchanged on the last call.

Butter, Eggs and Cheese.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—Butter—Receipts, 6,449 pkgs; market steady; state dairy, 18@24c; extra creamery, 25c; renovated, 17½@21c; creamery, common to choice, 19@24½c; factory, 16@18c; imitation creamery, 17@20c. Cheese—Receipts, 11,708 pkgs; market quiet; new state, full creams, small colored, fancy, 12¾c; new, 12@12¼c; small white, old, 12¾c; new, 12¼ @12½c; large colored, old, 12c; new, 11¾c; large white, old, 12c; new, 11½c. Eggs—Receipts, 9,820 pkgs; market firm; state and Pennsylvania, average best, 22@22c; western candied, 22@24c; refrigerated, 19@21c.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 21.—Butter firm at the advance; fancy imitation, 19@20c; fancy creamery, 25c; fancy ladle, 18@20c; fancy roll, 16@ 18c; good roll, 15@16c. Eggs firm and higher; fresh Pennsylvania and nearby, 24c. Cheese firm, unchanged; large, 12@12¼c; medium, 12¼@ 12½c; small, 12¼@12¾c.

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—Butter firm; creamery, 17½@24c; dairies, 18@21c. Eggs firm; loss off, cases returned, 22c. Cheese steady, 10½ @11⅜c.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 21.—Butter firm, ½ @1c higher; extra western creamery, 23½c; extra nearby creamery, 24c. Eggs firm; higher; fresh nearby, 24½c, loss off; fresh western, 23½c, loss off; fresh southwestern, 23c, loss off; fresh southern, 22c, loss off. Cheese firm; New York full cream, small, 12¾ @12¾c; do fair to good, small, 11¾@12¾c; do fine large, 12@12¼c; do fair to good, large, 11¾@11¾c.

Drygoods Market.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—Today's market for all descriptions of cotton goods has been quiet on home account, with prices showing no change. The demand for export is inactive so far as all leading markets are concerned. Cotton hosiery and underwear in modera request at steady prices. Silks and ribbons are firm, with a fair demand.

Turpentine and Rosin.

SAVANNAH, GA., Oct. 21.—Turpentine firm at 50½c. Rosin firm. Quote: A, B, C, D, $1 37½; E, $1 42½; F, $1 50; G, $1 57½; H, $1 76; I, $2 00; K, $2 50; M, $3 00; N, $3 50; W. G, $3 75; W. W. $4 15.

WILMINGTON, N. C., Oct. 21.—Spirits turpentine, nothing doing. Rosin steady at $1 20@1 25. Crude turpentine firm at $1 75@3 00. Tar firm at $1 40.

Boston Wool Market.

BOSTON, Oct. 21.—The position of the wool market here is strong. Manufacturers representing big mills have taken large quantities of wool of late, among the purchasers being several of the largest Philadelphia woolen and weaving concerns. Many dealers finding their stocks being depleted, prefer to hold the wool now on hand unless their prices are offered. As it is prices are generally stronger.

World's Supply of Grain.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—Special cable and telegraphic communications to Bradstreets show the following changes in available supplies as compared with last account: Wheat, United States and Canada, east of Rockies, increased 6,667,000 bushels; afloat for and in Europe, increased 2,300,000 bushels; total supply, increased 9,867,000. Corn, United States and Canada, east of Rockies, decreased 2,200,000 bushels. Oats, United States and Canada, east of Rockies, decreased 715,000 bushels. Among the more important increases this week are those of 1,045,000 bushels in Manitoba, 700,000 bushels at northwestern interior elevators, 134,000 bushels at Cotton, 54,000 bushels at Joliet and 50,000 bushels at Nashville. The leading decreases are those of 145,000 bushels at Depot Harbor, 85,000 bushels at Superior, 82,000 bushels at Rochester and 60,000 bushels at Port Huron.

SCARCITY OF STRAW SENDS UP PRICES

Fruits and Produce Firm With Few Quotable Changes. Grapes Higher.

While all markets are holding very firm and no let down in prices has occurred there is a firmness in strength shown in straw, which advanced yesterday for the third time in as many days. There is very little straw in the country and it is only a question of how much buyers will pay for that little before substituting something else, scattered all over the fields, as it was in growing sections when the harvest rains arrived, it became thoroughly drenched and quickly spoiled. The advance since last Saturday amounts to almost $2 a ton in this market. Hay is in demand and quotations are very firm. Oats are steady and corn is strong. Millfeed is holding its own at figures which have not changed this week.

Wholesale grocers report an enormous trade, which is pushing the capacity of shipping departments to the utmost, all kinds of seasonable goods being in active request. Flour is a steady mover, values still clinging close to $4 15.

Coffee is a good seller. Navy beans move freely at the advanced prices, and, while sellers are not anxious to let go of stocks in large consignments, purchasers are buying without grief. Sugar is dull and the situation is quiet, with retailers buying only for immediate requirements. Canned goods are in active request and prices are very strong, with corn quotations higher. Jobbers assert that the advance predicted for both corn and tomatoes is inevitable, however, and only a question of time.

Produce Market Very Firm.

The fruit and produce market is in good condition, and stocks have been well cleaned up. Over-supply noticeable in some lines a few days ago has disappeared, and the general tone is strong. Potatoes are firm, sales being made ex-store at figures as high as 65 cents. Sweets are steady at the advance of Monday and are moving freely. Apples are selling rapidly but at unchanged figures. Cabbage is firm and unchanged.

Green corn was in better supply yesterday than it has been for some days, but the market did not show any weakness, quotations ruling as they have been all week. Tomatoes were scarcer yesterday, and prices were a little stronger, though nominally unchanged. String beans steady at quotations. Pears are still plentiful, with fancy stock in demand. A few peaches are still offering, but they are almost over for this year.

Very firm conditions continue to prevail in the butter and cheese markets, and dealers predict that quotations have not yet reached the top for either of those products. Eggs are firmly held and are higher, best selling for 24 cents. Some storage eggs are now offering, having been brought out of store and offered to the trade for 21@22 cents. So far they are not selling freely. Fresh are coming in fairly well, but moulting time with chickens interferes with laying, and supplies are reduced for this reason.

No change of any kind has occurred in the poultry market, live and dressed stock offering at prices of last week.

Hay, Grain and Feed.

Receipts reported: Pennsylvania lines, 13 cars hay, 4 cars rye, 2 cars rye, 1 car straw; Baltimore & Ohio railroad, 6 cars hay, 1 car rye, 1 car corn, 1 car oats; Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad, 12 cars hay, 1 car feed, 4 cars oats; Pittsburgh & Western railroad, 12 cars hay, 2 total receipts, 56 cars.

KAUFMANN'S

"THE BIG STORE"

ENTIRE BANKRUPT STOCK PATTERSON DRY GOODS CO.

FORMERLY HUGUS & HACKE

5TH AVE. & MARKET ST.

Nothing strange about crowds in Kaufmann's They're crowded all the time but never has "The Big Store." been jammed and packed as during the present sale of the Bankrupt Stock of the Patterson Dry Goods Co. Two thousand trained employes, and yet not enough to cope with the multitudes of shoppers! We rather regret this fact. It prevents us from giving as good attention to every person as is the rule of this store. Wish people wouldn't all come at once! Not necessary. The Patterson Stock is too big to be disposed of in two or three days. It will probably require from two to three weeks to sell it all, and during this time there will be Extraordinary Bargains every day. Another thing: Customers will consult their interest by coming in the morning. It will insure them better service and relieve the afternoon crowds. The goods advertised this morning will be found on our Counters today. We cannot guarantee to supply them after today, as the biggest lots are quickly gobbled up by these vast throngs of shoppers.
